Today

Stone Walls Popular
Get Your Mountain
What the Mirror Saw Sleep for Digestion

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1920.

"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage;
Minds innocent and quiet take
That for an hermitage."

More than fifty million "minds, innocent and quiet," have taken the stone and brick walls, asphalt streets, narrow quarters of our cities for their hermitage.

United States census shows that more than half the people now live in cities. What is more important and frightening, the population of cities is growing seven and a half times as rapidly as the population of the country.

The Creator of the universe who put the first man and woman in a beautiful garden, and subsequently stopped building operations on the Tower of Babel, foresaw everything, of course, and knew that one day, after the apple had been eaten, the city of stone, iron and glass would prove more attractive than any beautiful garden.

The same omnipotence knew also that vicious herding in cities is not to last forever. The flying machine will end city congestion. The future city will be a gigantic office building, or a gigantic factory, elevators taking the place of street cars, flying machines landing on the roofs, bringing passengers from distant residential hilltops. Wise men, now, are purchasing mountains with suitable landing places for flying machines that will be used by their sons in the future.

Get your mountain top today at a bargain. In 500 years only the slowest and dullest will live in valleys or on the plains.

Next Wednesday, in a Fifth avenue salesroom, New York, will see auctioned off the blood-stained, velvet chair in which Elwell was murdered, and, far more interesting, the mirror that saw and reflected the murder. One morbid person will buy the chair. Another will buy the mirror and wonder whom it saw and what it saw when the tired gambler was separated from his thirteen little wigs.

That mirror is like time, which sees everything, forgets everything, keeps no record of all that it has seen. Mirrors of glass may last a thousand years. They clear themselves of reflections good and bad.

Wipe clean the mind that becomes blurred and blotted with indistinct pictures.

Fifty days without food and MacSwiney still is alive. He sleeps only three hours at night. In his dreadful experience there is a lesson and information for those that live unwisely.

MacSwiney can do with little sleep because he needs only enough to rest and recharge his nervous battery. If he were eating he would need four to five hours more sleep to complete the process of digestion.

There is no perfect, complete digestion except in the later hours of a good night's sleep. That is why Napoleon, who boasted that he could do without sleep, died young of painful ulcers of the stomach, and that is why the dissipated man who cuts short his sleep to provide more time for vice, shows his habits in his face.

Eight hours for work, eight hours for thinking and studying, with reasonable amusement included; eight hours for sleep to recharge the nerves and complete digestion—that should be the program.

Sugar selling to big companies at twelve cents a pound. That tells a story of public robbery that ought to interest somebody in office and doesn't interest ANYBODY.

Two Democratic straws show that the wind is blowing toward Salt Creek. Somebody has told the New York World something, and it has begun "keening" for the lost Hoover. It has discovered, apparently, that its Mr. Cox is to remain Mr. Cox.

In New York, the World's State, the friends of Governor Smith (candidate for re-election) are working hard to persuade themselves and him that he may be elected even if Harding carries the State by 200,000, which is the lowest reasonable estimate. A good many persons believe that Harding will carry New York city by 50,000.

The International Association of Machinists in their convention adopted resolutions favoring United States recognition of the Russian government.

An intelligent Englishman visiting this country put the Russian proposition simply: "Of course, England wants to deal with Russia. It is none of our business how they govern themselves. We deal with cannibals in different islands, buy what they have to sell, sell what they want to buy, and do not try to regulate their diet."

MACSWINEY, SINKING FAST, REFUSES FOOD

THE WEATHER

Boston and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature; moderate to fresh southwest winds. Good flying weather.
Sun rises 6:40; sets 6:25.
Moon rises 9:35 p. m.
High tide 2:00 p. m.
Temperatures till 11 a. m.: Maximum, 58 at 11 a. m.; minimum, 49 at 5 a. m.; average 53.5; Temperature at 11 a. m. 58.
Light all vehicles at 6:55 p. m.

MAKE AMERICA "SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY"

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

10-P.M. EDITION

Largest Home—Going Circulation in New England

VOL. 17—No. 163 | Registered in U. S. Patent Office. | BOSTON, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1920 | Copyright, 1920 by N. Y. Newspaper Pub. Co. | PRICE TWO CENTS

TROTZKY WOUNDED, LONDON REPORT

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

EX-SENATOR CRANE DEAD

BASEBALL TRIBUNAL PLANNED

Famous Men Will Keep Game Clean, if Leagues Accept Lasker's Proposition

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Discussion of plans for taking control of professional baseball out of the hands of club owners and managers will be one of the principal topics at the annual meetings of the two major leagues during the coming Winter.

With four major league club owners already on record in favor of the establishment of a high tribunal of three leading American citizens representative of the public at large and uninterested financially in the game, the plan outlined by A. D. Lasker, a stockholder in the Chicago Cubs, gained impetus today.

With the expose of the eight Chicago White Sox players as a result of investigations by the Cook County Grand Jury, sentiment in favor of adopting a plan for keeping the na-

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

BATTING ORDER

FIRST GAME.

PHILLIES.	BRAVES.
Paulette, 1b.	Powell, c.f.
Rawlings, 2b.	Eayrs, l.f.
Williams, c.f.	Cruise, r.f.
Meusel, l.f.	Holke, 1b.
Miller, s.s.	Boeckel, 3b.
Stengel, r.f.	Maranville, s.s.
Wrightstone, 3b.	Gowdy, c.
Tragesser, c.	Ford, 2b.
Hubbell, p.	Scott, p.
SECOND GAME.
Rixey, p.	Townsend, p.

Late Cable Bulletins

BERLIN.—The German army has been reduced to 150,000 men, it is officially announced. The neutral zone has been evacuated.

WARSAW.—Baronovichi, an important rail intersection, is said to have been captured by the Poles, whose cavalry is said to have reached Vilna.

BRUSSELS.—Reconstruction of the devastated areas of France is declared essential to the financial readjustment of Europe by French financial experts, in a report to the economic conference.

210,000 WELSH COAL MINERS STRIKE

London, Oct. 2.—More than 210,000 Welsh coal miners struck today. They refused to accept the settlement which it was belived yesterday would avert the strike.

$15,000 IN WHISKEY SEIZED AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Oct. 2.—Police today halted a truck on the outskirts of the city and seized nine barrels of whiskey, worth $15,000. Israel Bernstein, Michael Brown and Fortunata Cianflone were arrested.

Sues "to Humiliate," Says Model

Photos by International.

Miss May B. Rollins, artist's model, who is suing Robert Barbour, millionaire manufacturer of Paterson, N. J. Barbour (in insert) is reported to have fled to Europe.

New York, Oct. 2.—"I want to humiliate Robert Barbour as he humiliated me. I want to make him atone for luring me to his home and beating me with rods. He will find he cannot cast me off so lightly."

Thus did Miss May Rollins, beautiful artist's model, sum up her motives in bringing a $500,000 breach of promise suit against Barbour, millionaire bachelor of Paterson, N. J., who is reported to have fled the country, disguised as a stevedore.

Desire for money had no part in her calculations, according to Miss Rollins. If she wins her suit, she says she will give the money to charity.

"The world will never know the anguish I have undergone," said the model. "As a result of the treatment accorded me I suffered nervous breakdown and was under a physician's care for weeks.

"Having gotten me in his home, he beat me with rods in a perfect frenzy of rage to satisfy I know not what strange fancy.

"Before that he had made it plain he meant to marry me. He often counselled me not to worry about my future. He discouraged my attempts to get into motion pictures, although he would laughingly say I would make a good vampire."

Miss Rollins denied the suit had any taint of blackmail. She said she had learned Barbour sailed as a ship's stevedore on the Mauretania.

COTTON GOODS LOWER AT FALL RIVER MILLS

Fall River, Oct. 2.—Local manufacturers say that their goods are now 40 to 50 per cent lower than the prices quoted in April of this year. The latest report for this week shows another improvement in the local cloth market. Some of the local mills have operated their plants in full for the first time in nearly two months. A number of mills are to continue the four days' schedule, but for a short time. The printing division of the American Printing Company will resume operations Monday. The Globe Yarn Mills will not open their doors for the present.

WALSH INSISTS ON McCALL EXPLANATION

Senator John J. Walsh, Democratic candidate for Governor, at rallies in Lynn and Gloucester, reiterated his demand that Governor Coolidge and Bank Commissioner Allen explain the forced resignation of ex-Governor McCall from the board of directors of the Old South Trust Company.

"In this campaign," said Senator Walsh, "some people are slapping at mosquitoes while elephants are tearing down their houses."

PLACE FOOD TO TEMPT PRISONER

Tempting Viands Set Before MacSwiney, But He Refuses to Eat

London, Oct. 2.—A last appeal to accept food was made to Terence MacSwiney in Brixton jail today by his physician. The doctor warned the Lord Mayor that he was sinking fast and begged him to take nourishment. MacSwiney, so weak that he could not even speak, refused.

London, Oct. 2.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney began the fifty-first day of his hunger strike today.

Within easy reach of the patient there was again placed early today a veritable banquet, no rich and heavy food, but tempting bits of nourishment just sustaining enough to give him a new lease of life and not too heavy to disrupt his system. For the patient is so close to death that the slightest exertion, even of his masticating organs, would bring on a coughing spell or a heart attack that might sever the thin thread by which his spirit is clinging to life.

Mac Swiney's endurance has come to be looked upon as a twentieth century marvel by the scientific world of Europe. All the reports and rumors that he was being clandestinely fed have been definitely exploded not only by unbiased visitors to his cell who spent long hours with him in close observation, but by the unimpeachable word of famous doctors.

The last of these to make the positive statement that MacSwiney's fast was a "straight" one was Sir Norman Moore, noted specialist, whose dictum dispelled the doubts even of the most skeptical.

Never since the Lord Mayor was first locked up in the Brixton jail has the atmosphere been filled with such virtual certainty that his death is but a few hours at hand.

Brookline Girl Missing 3 Weeks

Miss Mary Alice Morgan, daughter of Mrs. Rose Morgan, has been missing from her home, No. 46 Pearl street, Brookline, since September 9.

RUSSIANS RIOT AT CAPITAL

Officials Reported Killed During Fighting Over Shortage of Food at Petrograd

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 2.—Persistent rumors that Leon Trotzky, Bolshevist War Minister, has been wounded either at the front or as a result of an attempt to assassinate him, are reaching Copenhagen, according to a Central News dispatch from that city.

The dispatch adds that General Budenny, famous Soviet cavalry commander, has been arrested and is held for court-martial.

Hensingfors, Finland, Oct. 2.—An extensive factory strike has broken out in Petrograd and rioting is raging in that city, according to an unconfirmed dispatch received here early today.

Several commissaries are reported to have been killed. The disorders are reported due to the bread shortage.

Mobs are demonstrating in favor of immediate peace with Poland, the dispatch adds.

3 BARRELS OF WHISKEY SEIZED ON NORTH LAND

Three barrels marked "oil" which on investigation proved to be whiskey valued at $4,500, were seized by prohibition agent aboard the steamship North Land. The owner, to which the liquor was consigned, has not been located.

BOSTON LAWYER DEAD TWO DAYS ON PIAZZA

Bangor, Me., Oct. 2.—Hugo Clark, a Boston attorney with offices at No. 60 State street, was found dead on the piazza of a cottage in Hampden. He had been dead two days when the body was discovered. It is thought that death resulted from natural causes.

London Newspapers Raise Prices

That the scarcity and excessive cost of the white paper used in the production of newspapers is by no means local to America is shown by recent dispatches from points as far removed as England and Brazil.

With two exceptions all the London daily newspapers have been compelled to raise their prices. The famous Times is now sold at 8 cents, the Morning Post and the Daily Telegraph sell for six cents each, and the Daily News and Chronicle for four cents.

Owing to the increase in the cost of newsprint (paper) in Bahia, Brazil, the size of the leading newspapers there has been reduced and the prices increased from 2½ cents to 5 cents per copy.

One of the troubles, according to paper manufacturers, is the mounting cost of raw material. Pulp wood has been costing as much as $35 a cord, ground pulp wood $140 per ton and sulphite pulp $170 a ton.

"Indications are," according to a recent announcement of its sales policy for 1921 by the International Paper Company, "that next Winter most of these troubles (embargoes, car, coal and other shortages, storms, blockades, epidemics, strikes and other conditions) will continue and we anticipate that coal, cars and pulp wood especially will be scarcer than ever before. We are extremely apprehensive, therefore, that we will not be able to turn out full production in 1921."

The rise in the cost of paper continues to produce mortality among Canadian newspapers, many of which have been compelled to quit their fields. In most parts of the United States the two-cent newspaper is becoming a rarity. One hundred daily newspapers of the United States, "without print paper supply and largely dependent on open market purchases," have organized their own purchasing organization for the purpose of co-operative buying of print paper and paper mills.

Crane "Fought Shy" of Strange Reporters

Former Senator Crane was seldom if ever interviewed in the old-time sense of the word. He talked—a little and in a very low voice—to newspapermen he trusted or the policies of whose newspapers were his policies. But he consistently avoided the strange young man who approached with, "Senator, my paper wants to know if—."

On some occasions of this kind Mr. Crane's reply would be pitched in a tune so low as to be almost inaudible. "I don't want to talk about that," he would say, or, "Tell Mr. Soandso (he knew the editors' names, you may be sure) that Senator Crane said he had nothing to say."

When Crane had something he wanted to get into the newspapers he usually got it there, but not often through the medium of the interviewer.

AGAINST WOMEN FARM WORKERS

Harding Declares Type of Work Is Not Consistent With American Standard

By International News Service.

Wilson's Corner, O., Oct. 2.—At the junction of three Ohio counties—Franklin, Madison and Union—Senator Warren G. Harding today addressed thousands of farmers and their women folk at an old-fashioned picnic and flag raising.

The Senator and Mrs. Harding motored from Marion, fifty odd miles away, in clear, cold weather, to attend the celebration.

It was a distinctly rural audience and Senator Harding spoke on topics relative to rural community life, expanding on his agricultural policies outlined in previous speeches. Senator Harding said his agricultural policy was broadly divided into three phases:

Do all that is possible to make prosperous the land-owning farmer and oppose the menaces of increasing tenantry.

Improve the means of distribution of farm products and encourage co-operative buying and marketing on the part of farmers.

Protect American farm products against influx of cheaper foreign products by a properly adjusted protective tariff.

"It is the nation's business," he said, "to concern itself with the social welfare of farm life. We want a prosperity for the American farmer which will allow him to bid for normal farm labor.

"This year in many sections of the United States girls, mothers and aged women have worked in the fields, and much of the work has been too hard to be consistent with wholesome maternity and American standards.

Development of inland waterways, not in competition to the railroads but as a copartner in solving transportation problems, was urged by Senator Harding.

Educational conditions in rural communities, too, must be improved, the Senator said.

"We must face the fact," he observed, "that illiteracy is twice as common in the country as it is in the city, and that the opportunity for country boys and girls to get a high school education is all too limited."

"While we have boasted of America being a melting pot," he concluded, "we have sadly neglected the furtherance of education which is the true bulwark against extreme radicalism."

KING'S WAR COURIER IS SHOT IN IRELAND

London, Oct. 2.—Courier Brady who, during the great war, carried messages from the King to Sir Douglas Haig, the British commander on the western front, and from Haig to the King, was shot at Tubbscurry, Ireland. Shortly after the shooting several buildings were fired by the police in reprisal.

EXPIRES AT HOME IN DALTON

General Breakdown, After Collapse in July, Fatal to Former Governor and Senator

Dalton, Oct. 2.—Winthrop Murray Crane, ex-Senator, former Governor of Massachusetts and leader in the national councils of the Republican party, died today at the family home in this town, where he was born sixty-seven years ago.

Members of his family and Dr. Bruce W. Paddock were at the bedside of the famous statesman when the end came.

Death was caused by imperfect arterial circulation, causing nervous exhaustion, technically known as encephalitis or inflammation of the brain. In the words of Senator Crane himself, "something gave out." The funeral will take place Monday, it was announced.

The illness of the former Senator began on July 31 at Northampton, when he collapsed during the cere-

Continued on Page 3, Column 6.

NASHUA, N. H., GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Nashua, N. H., Oct. 2.—Miss Mary Louise Maynard, aged nineteen, of No. 30 High street, well known as one of Nashua's prettiest girls, attempted suicide by drinking a small vial of creolin after her romance had been shattered by a quarrel with her fiance on her contemplated wedding day.

Miss Maynard said that the groom-to-be with whom she had quarreled was Stanley Williams of No. 22 Federal street, Salem. They met in Lawrence to be married.

A few minutes before the ceremony harsh words resulted in calling the wedding off.

The girl returned to her home in this city in a semi-hysterical condition. While members of the family were on the lower floor she swallowed the poison.

She was found in an unconscious condition and rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital where it is said that she will recover.

ENTERTAIN ABOARD SUBMARINE MOTHER SHIP

The U. S. S. Rainbow, mother ship of the submarine flotilla of the navy, was the scene of a goodby luncheon when Captain Ogan entertained Joseph W. Doherty, vice-president of the Warren Maritime Company, and other guests at the Charlestown Navy Yard. This was probably the last occasion friends will be received before the Rainbow departs for Southern waters and Winter manoeuvres.

TWO NOME FLIERS INJURED IN CANADA

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 2.—An accident, in which Lieutenant Nutt and his mechanician were seriously injured, has befallen plane No. 1 of the New York-to-Nome air fleet at Hazelton, on their return flight, according to a meagre report received here.

"BARNSWALLOWS" GREET WELLESLEY FRESHMEN

Wellesley Barnswallows, the college dramatic organization, which numbers more than a thousand, gave a reception to the freshman class today. Miss Laura B. Chandler, president of the Barn, welcomed the new class, and Miss Edith S. Tufts, dean of the college, and other officers were in the receiving line.

TRIBUNAL TO KEEP BASEBALL CLEAN IS PROPOSED BY LASKER

FOUR MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS HAVE APPROVED PLAN

Continued From First Page.

tional pastime spotlessly clean has crystallized in baseball circles.

PROPOSE FAMOUS MEN.

Already the names of some of the nation's most famous men have been brought to the front as possible members of this "super-court" of baseball. Among them are William Howard Taft, former President; General John J. Pershing, General Leonard Wood, William G. McAdoo, Senator Hiram W. Johnson and Judge K. M. Landis.

The proposed plan would establish a tribunal of three members whose authority over baseball matters would be absolute. These three would be paid salaries higher than any received by any man now in organized baseball. They would have "unreviewable authorities aver presidents of all leagues, club owners, players and every other person, act or thing connected with the national game."

The four major league clubs that have approved the plan are the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox.

LASKER PUSHES PLAN.

Lasker is actively engaged in an effort to obtain approval of the plan from other baseball magnates. He will ask the minor leagues to come in also, when the National Association holds its annual meeting at Kansas City.

A temporary lull has come in the grand jury proceedings that have kept the fans and the players on tender hooks during the past week. The jury here proposed to call no witnesses today but will resume its active inquiry on Monday.

State's attorney MacLay Hoyne, who plunged actively into the inquiry on his return from New York yesterday, has made the charge that at least six games in the major leagues were "fixed" during the 1920 season. Evidence which he uncovered in New York, Hoyne said, caused him to make the charge.

PREDICTS BIGGER SCANDAL.

"I have evidence that several of the 1920 games were fixed and I have information that the forthcoming series was to be fixed," Hoyne said. "While in New York I gathered together loose threads of a 1920 scandal which would far surpass that of last year. I cannot say at this time what the result of my investigation will be, but I will venture the assertion that there is more and bigger scandal coming in the baseball world."

"Garry" Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, who was the choef witness before the Grand Jury yesterday, was questioned concerninf reports that a $20,000 fund had been raised by gamblers to bribe th New York Giants to "lay down" so that Cincinnati could win the pennant last year. Herrmann is said to have denied any knowledge of the plot.

Sullivan Admits He Made Big Winning

New York, Oct. 2.—J. Joseph (Sport) Sullivan, the Boston gambler, indicted in connection with the baseball bribery plot, admitted today that he had "the low down" on the World's Series of 1919 and was a "big winner."

In the first statement made since his implication in the scandal, Sullivan threw a bombshell into the ranks of the gamblers mentioned in connection with the conspiracy by corroborating Abe Attell's allegation that a "master mind" framed the bribery plot, and Sullivan promised to name him.

Sullivan, accompanied by his lawyer, William J. Kelly of Boston, is going to Chicago Monday, and he says he will reveal to the Cook County Grand Jury the "inside story" of the conspiracy.

The Boston gambler angrily maintains that he is being made "the goat," and he declares he "will not stand for it."

TOOK LOTS OF MONEY WEST.

Sullivan, in his interview with a newspaperman, declined to name the "master mind" or to go into details of the plot, but he declared he will not hesitate to reveal all to the Chicago authorities. He admitted that he knew the names of all the big gamblers who won on the series as a result of "advance information."

"They have indicted me and made me the goat and I am not going to stand for it," said Sullivan. "I know the whole history of the deal from beginning to end. I know the man whose money it was that paid off the Sox players—and I'm going to name him.

"I went West before the series with a lot of money. Some was my own and some belonged to others. I went first to Chicago, where the Sox, of course, were redhot favorites.

"PLACED" ALL HE HAD.

"The price was at that time 11 to 7 against Cincinnati. I was betting all the dough I had—and I handled several hundred thousand dollars' worth—on the Reds, so I took what I could find in Chicago, then moved down to Cleveland.

"The price began to drop as a big wad was bet here and there on the Reds—the money I was handling, as well as commissions that others handled—so that by the time I got to Cincinnati, just before the series, after a tour of some other smaller Ohio cities, it was away down, and some bettors on the White Sox would give nothing better than even money. But I placed all I had."

GATHERING EVIDENCE.

"Within the next forty-eight hours I will be on my way to Chicago, and when I get there I will tell the Grand Jury or any other officials the whole inside history of the frame-up."

Sullivan and his attorney desired to obtain certain additional facts before making their visit to Chicago and hence it was arranged to delay the Boston gambler's trip to the scene of scandal activities until Monday.

W. B. French Blames Meddling 'In-Laws'

Mrs. Jeannie Emmet French, who has won a divorce from William Barton French who is well known in Boston clubs. French, answering his wife's complaint, lays his marital woes to his "meddling relatives," who he says took too much interest in his money and were too ambitious in a social way. French has given his family an allowance of $62,000 a year. He is now living in a club in New York.

New York, Oct. 2.—Social ambition and too many meddling relatives caused Mrs. Jeannie Emmet French to divorce William Barton French, well-known clubman of Boston, New York and Newport, according to a statement by the former husband.

French, who is paying his wife $50,000 a year alimony, and giving her an additional $12,000 for the support of their three-year-old daughter, said he loved her as much as ever, but couldn't stand his "in-laws."

They were too anxious about money, in the first place, according to French. Then, too, they were social climbers. He told of an unpleasant half-hour when he attended a formal function at his father-in-law's house wearing a business suit. After it was over he was lectured for some time on the enormity of not wearing dinner clothes to dinner.

Mr. French is living in his apartment in the Metropolitan Club. Mrs. French is supposed to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Emmet, of No. 39 East Seventy-second street.

Bay State Laws Halt New York Rent Crisis

A compliment to the Massachusetts rent laws, the movement for the passage of which was inaugurated and urged by the Boston American, is contained in a statement from Arthur J. W. Hilly, chairman of Mayor Hylan's committee on rent profiteering in New York. The statement shows how similar laws enacted in New York have solved the situation there:

By ARTHUR J. W. HILLY.

The immediate action of the Legislature of the State of New York in strengthening the rent bills that were passed in April of the special session just closed has prevented the greatest crisis that ever confronted the city of New York. Hundreds of thousands of families of every class were faced with eviction on October 1 and did not know whether or not they were to receive a stay of a month or a year.

The demand that has been made by landlords upon these tenants for a home amounted to a virtual confiscation of the entire earnings of some of these families. The new rent laws have prevented this situation.

The courts are now made the arbitrators of rentals, and the burden of establishing the justice of the demand is placed upon the landlords. If the Legislature had passed the bills prepared by Mayor John F. Hylan of New York we would now be in a position to solve the problem for those who have no homes.

New York has taken its place with Massachusetts, and has set an example to the rest of the country. The solution has prevented rent riots, and at the same time has opened the way to the solution of the larger problem of more buildings.

FEAR JOHNSON WILL BOLT

G. O. P. Alarmed at Report "Irreconcilable" Will Follow Senator Borah

Washington, Oct. 2.—That Senator Hiram W. Johnson may follow the move of Senator William E. Borah in withdrawing, temporarily at least, his active support of Senator Harding, Republican presidential nominee, aroused considerable alarm in G. O. P. circles here.

Senator Borah has notified the Republican National Committee that he will make no more speeches in the presidential campaign. He will, however, continue in the senatorial campaign where the fate of irreconcilable Senators is in doubt.

Senator Harding's recent pronouncement for an "Association of Nations" with a court of international justice as its foundation is understood to account for the breach between the candidate and the irreconcilable leaders.

Belief that former Senator Elihu Root, who framed the international tribunal under the League of Nations, will use his influence to have the United States enter the League in one form or another is understood to be a contributing factor.

Senator Borah is understood to have announced his decision not to make additional speeches for which he is scheduled by the national committee in telegrams to the Chicago and New York headquarters last Sunday. No reasons were given for his decision. Since that time the Senator has been besieged with telegrams and long-distance telephone calls from Republican leaders asking him to reconsider.

Nuns and Children Flee Fire

Quebec, Oct. 2.—Nuns and children in the Limoilu convent were forced to flee to safety when a fire, which threatened to destroy the institution, was discovered in one of the buildings. All of the occupants were removed safely.

MRS. HAMILTON HEADS MIDDLESEX W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton of Winchester has been re-elected president of the Middlesex County W. C. T. U. Other officials are: Honorary president, Mrs. Abby F. Rolfe of Concord; president-at-large, Dr. N. Louise Rand of West Newton; recording secretary, Mrs. H. W. Packard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. N. Pike of Wakefield; treasurer, Mrs. Clara S. Maynard, and secretary, Mrs. M. E. Ricker of Hudson.

RHODE ISLAND BOY IS KILLED BY ELECTRIC WIRE

Newport, R. I., Oct. 2.—Sidney Dennett, twelve-year-old son of Herbert Dennett, butler for Michael A. Van Beuren at Sunnyfields Farm, was killed on Turner's lane in Middletown when he received a shock from a broken electric wire. A tree had blown down and carried with it an electric light wire. The boy evidently picked up the wire.

TEMPLE CALLS DR. BUSTARD

Rockefeller's Pastor Expected to Accept; to Alternate With Dr. Myers

Acceptance of Tremont Temple's call to Rev. Dr. W. W. Bustard, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church of Cleveland, was expected by the board of deacons today.

John D. Rockefeller is Dr. Bustard's leading parishioner, and the connection has achieved much publicity for the former Dudley Street Baptist Church pastor. Dr. Bustard is to alternate for three month periods with the Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers, who now occupies Tremont Temple alone. Heretofore, outside pastors have filled the pulpit during Dr. Myers' frequent absences at Bible conferences.

After serving for nine years at Dudley street, Dr. Bustard went to his present pastorate in 1909. In 1913 he was persuaded by Rockefeller to decline a call to Calvary Baptist Church in New York. Only the year before he had taken a fling at the Rockefeller money in a sermon.

Dr. Bustard was born in Paterson, N. J., in 1871. At Brown University he was baseball captain in 1895. He was also famous in football, track, boxing and wrestling. He was ordained at the Newton Theological Institution in 1898 nd married Ethel May Channell of Lewiston, Me., in the same year.

Friends of Irish to Meet

The first social or gettogether meeting of the Patrick Henry Branch, Friends of Irish Freedom, Mission Hill district, Roxbury, will be held on Monday evening at Tremont Hall, Tremont street, at 8 o'clock. A very pleasant evening is anticipated.

The Friendly Glow

THE days are getting shorter. Electric light bills will begin to increase.

Watch your lights, so that they are not in use when not needed.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston

$10,000,000 FOR 'DRY' ENFORCING

Congress to Be Asked Enough to Cope With Increasing Illicit Liquor Traffic

Washington, Oct. 2.—Ten million dollars for "dry" law enforcement in 1921 will be sought from Congress at its next session.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston has not yet given approval finally to the schedule now being framed by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, but the Secretary's position on enforcement of the Volstead law is that Congress must provide the funds to make enforcement of the Volstead law a success or take the blame for its failure.

Prohibition leaders in conference with Commissioner Kramer have assured him of their support in a drive before Congress to push through an appropriation liberal enough to expand the enforcement machinery and add to the inspection forces in such numbers as are believed necessary to cope with the growth of the illicit liquor traffic.

WOMEN TO CONDUCT FANEUIL HALL RALLY

Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the women's division of the Democratic National Committee, will be the principal speaker at a rally in Faneuil Hall, Monday noon, under the auspices of the women of the Democratic State committee. Other speakers will be John Jackson Walsh, party condidate for governor; Mrs. Alice E. Cram, candidate for State treasurer, and John D. Flynn, representing the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks and Freight Handlers.

LAFAYETTE

The new LaFayette is now on view in our show rooms 640 Commonwealth Ave.

Open Evenings

C. P. ROCKWELL, Inc.

COMMANDMENTS CITED BY COX

Democratic Candidate Declares Same Principle Applies to League

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 2.—Governor Cox sought, in his nine speeches in Oklahoma, to project renewed religious fervor into his League of Nations "crusade."

He compared Article X. of the League covenant with "Article VIII. of the Ten Commandments," declaring the Biblical mandate "Thou Shalt Not Steal," and the League prohibition against external aggression "are identically the same in principle."

MAKES BURGLARY ILLEGAL.

"This commandment, first written on tablets of stone on Mount Sinai," he said, "has since been written not only in the code of personal morals, but in the public law of every land. What is more it is backed up by courts and police power and common conscience. The League would extend the eighth commandment to cover international relations by making territorial burglary not only immoral but illegal."

Shifting his attack on Senator Harding, Governor Cox hurled jibes at the Republican candidate's "America first" slogan. He said:

"Senator Harding, forced from the front porch, now finds himself in 'No man's Land,' not knowing wehere to turn for safety. His pretended idea of 'America First' is really 'safety first.'

IGNORE BIG ISSUE.

"The biggest issue of history is absent from his speeches. On the other hand, the reactionary leaders are endeavoring to hold to the belief that they have the election won, and think they can stampede the American public into voting blindly in enthusiasm for a winning side.

"Never was there a greater mistake. The American conscience is alive to the greatest opportunity the world has ever known to make war for all time impossible and to turn the vast expenditures for destruction of life into plans for the safety of humanity and the extension of the benefits of civilization throughout the world."

WINIFREDIAN READY TO SAIL WITH BIG CARGO

Carrying 130 cabin passengers and an enormous cargo the Leyland line steamship Winifredian will sail from Pier 4, Boston & Albany docks, East Boston, late today for Liverpool.

Among those listed to sail are Charles Reed, the artist; Miss Hannah Loewenberg, bound to Russia, where she will marry her childhood sweetheart; Miss Mary M. Thompson of this city, returning to visit her parents in England; Charles Varga, a prominent grain exporter; Mrs. William D. Paine and Dexter S. Paine of Brookline, Mrs. Emily Spencer of Wellesley Hills, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bishop of Auburndale, Mrs. Edward C. Wright of Malden.

GUESTS COOK THE MEAL AT "PRACTICAL DINNER"

Lenox, Oct. 2.—The latest blow at the high cost of cooks was delivered in this town by members of the millionaire women's coloney, when Mrs. Francis Dillon FitzGibbon gave a practical dinner party at which all the guests helped cook their own food. The dinner was given at the home of Mrs. FitzGibbon's mother, Mrs. George Winthrop Folsom, at Sunny Ridge. The guests who broiled before they ate were Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. de Gersdorff, Miss Cornelia Van Renssalaer Delafield, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frothingham, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Close, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed and the Misses M. and Grace Bristed.

Women for G. O. P. in Straw Vote

Women voters of the United States will strike a telling blow at the League of Nations at the presidential election in November.

Their blow will come in the form of an overwhelming vote for Senator Harding, the Republican nominee.

According to the figures of the Boston American's nation-wide straw vote, votes of women will be one of the big factors in swelling the Harding plurality.

The American's poll, taken among the various occupations of the country, already indicates that labor and capital is both back of the candidacy of Senator Harding.

This poll offers an extremely interesting study to laymen and politicians alike. It gives the people's answer to the momentous questions of the day.

WOMEN FOR HARDING.

And not the least interesting of these questions is the often repeated one: How will the women vote?

That great, hitherto intangible quality which has been injected into the political life of the nation, taken by occupations and in the homes, shows that the women of the United States will vote a great deal as the men will vote on this election—for Senator Harding.

This poll, being country-wide, collects the expressions throughout the land, north of the Mason and Dixon line.

In covering such a wide area, Boston American readers are given a breadth of view on the political situation which is enlightening and of intense interest.

In many quarters it was believed that the vote for the Prohibition candidate among women would be extremely large.

NURSES BACK COX.

In only one industrial group of women has there been any appreciable percentage shown for Watkins, the selection of the Dry party. This is recorded among the votes of nurses taken at various hospitals, which shows that among the women of their profession they will give a 10 per cent. vote for Watkins. In this profession also, the Cox sentiment runs ahead of the Harding vote, Harding receiving twenty votes as against twenty-five for Cox. Christensen and Debs receive one vote apiece.

Let us see how the women in the homes look upon the vital issue of the campaign.

Out of 754 women casting ballots, 573 voted for Senator Harding and 144 for Governor Cox.

The housewife vote of the American should be representative of the entire city.

The balloting was conducted in East Boston, South Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury, Cambridge, Newton and other suburbs, besides the vote in stores and other cities.

WOMEN IN HOMES FOR G. O. P.

Today's grand total brings the ratio of total votes for Harding and Cox just under three to one, but the women's vote is a strong four to one for the Republican nominee.

9 TO 1 FOR HARDING.

At the Waltham Watch Company the women voted five to one for Harding, while a group of Cambridge club women shows a ratio of nine to one.

In Boston proper, while Harding always leads in the women's votes, the percentage is not as high as it is in other sections, running between two to one and a little better, even in normal strong Democratic centres.

The analysis of the grand total to date shows that out of 4,199 votes cast, Harding receives 2,955, and Cox 1,016, the big majority of the voting coming from the large industrial centres, with only a very small number of groups from the suburban field and none from the rural districts.

The summary of today's voting is as follows:

104 WOMEN AT POWERS' THEATRE, LOS ANGELES, CALIF
Harding	80
Cox	20
Watkins	1
Christensen	1
Debs	2
150 BUSINESS WOMEN, CHICAGO
Harding	122
Cox	22
Watkins	1
Christensen	5
80 CHICAGO CLUB WOMEN, TAKEN AT CITY CLUB, CHICAGO
Harding	61
Cox	17
Watkins	1
Christensen	1
20 CLUB WOMEN OF CAMBRIDGE
Harding	18
Cox	2
TOTALS OF WOMEN VOTES, OUT OF 754 BALLOTS TAKEN
Harding	573
Cox	144
Watkins	20
Christensen	12
Debs	5
148 BOSTON HOUSEWIVES
Harding	115
Cox	28
Watkins	3
Christensen	1
Debs	1
53 BOSTON NURSES
Harding	20
Cox	25
Watkins	6
Christensen	1
Debs	1
56 CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES
Harding	40
Cox	10
Watkins	5
Christensen	1
37 WOMEN EMPLOYES WALTHAM WATCH CO.
Harding	30
Cox	6
Debs	1
GRAND TOTAL, OUT OF 4199 BALLOTS
Harding	2955
Cox	1016
Watkins	40
Christensen	116
Debs	62
Hiram W. Johnson	1

PLOT CHARGED BY MITCHELL

Cosmopolitan Trust Co. Head Threatens Expose of Alleged Attempt to Wreck Institution

Charging that the Cosmopolitan Trust Company has been the victim of a "diabolical plot," Max Mitchell, its president, today threatened to name the person whom he accuses of responsibility for an organized effort to wreck the institution.

Mr. Mitchell declares that by insidious methods depositors were warned to remove their deposits as the condition of the bank was precarious, and that this vicious slander had been largely responsible for the condition which necessitated the closing of the bank by Commissioner Allen.

The banker further declared if he had not requested the closing of the Cosmopolitan Trust Company when he did a panic would probably have resulted and even the largest banks in the city would not have escaped its effects.

"There was a plot to break the Cosmopolitan Trust Company and we have our idea who was in it, too—in fact, we know who it was," Mr. Mitchell said.

"On the recent Jewish holiday, Tom Kippur, there were 300 or 400 Jewish people called out of synagogues and told to draw out their money at once from the Cosmopolitan Trust Company," he continued. "This, however, was only one instance, but it shows how far reaching was the plot to cause a run or otherwise distress the Cosmopolitan.

"We know of scores of people who got letters telling them to withdraw their money from our bank. We know where the telephone was used to call up one person after another and how they were urged to draw out their money."

By closing the bank the ring which has set out to ruin the institution was defeated in their purpose, Mr. Mitchell said. He said that the Commonwealth was fortunate in having such men as Governor Coolidge and Bank Commissioner Allen, but that the conditions in Boston at present should be remedied.

BOSTON BOUND COAL BOAT SINKS OFF CAPE HENRY

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 2.—The schooner Thomas F. Pollard of Boston, bound from Norfolk to Providence with coal, foundered during a fifty-six-mile gale off Cape Henry. The crew was rescued by lifesavers.

Jordan Marsh Company—A New England Institution

Autumn Indoors Made Gay and Delightful With

A Victrola

Victrola Model XI, 150.00

The production of Talking Machines has been curtailed for some time, and it's very likely there will be a greater scarcity later in the Fall. If you are anticipating purchasing a talking machine NOW is the ideal time to make selection.

It's not even too early to be thinking of a Victrola as a Christmas gift, for the present opportunity to select from a wider selection makes a decision to purchase now advisable.

We have recently received a large number of machines, and at present we are amply stocked to supply all immediate need.

Our deferred payment plan places these excellent instruments within the reach of every household on the easiest possible monthly terms.

25.00 to 450.00

Music Hath Charms Especially The Entertaining Kind Played On

Victor Records

When the outdoor veranda is uncomfortable these cool Autumn nights, the indoors, with a companionable Victrola, and these delightful records, will while away many happy moments.

74630—Twika Entertaineaux, By Sergei Rachmanioff,	1.75
74550—Tosti's Good Bye, By Evan Williams	1.75
74639—Villanelle—By Amelita Galli-Curci	1.75
74626—Introduction Tarantelle, By Jascha Heifetz	1.75
88620—Old Folks at Home, By Ernestine Schumann-Heink	1.75
89089—L'Eliser d'Amore-Venti Scudi By Enrico Caruso-Guiseppe de Luca	2.00
87312—L'Addio a Napoli, By Enrico Caruso	1.25
70125—I Think I'll Get Wed in the Summer By Sir Harry Lauder	1.25
35603—Gems From Bohemian Girl By Victor Opera Company	1.35

Hear the Eight Famous Victor Artists at the Majestic Theatre, Oct. 31

Jordan Marsh Company

GREATER GILCHRIST'S BIRTHDAY SALE

MONDAY
Oct. 4th, 1920

Watch Sunday Papers For Details

GILCHRIST CO.
THE STORE OF PROGRESS

STATE LOSES A GOOD MAN IN DEATH OF CRANE, SAYS GOVERNOR

PASSING OF LEADER IS MOURNED

Men in All Walks of Life Join in Paying Tribute to Former Senator

The news of W. Murray Crane's death caused widespread sorrow throughout Massachusetts and the nation. Prominent men paid tribute to the dead leader. Among the tributes were the following:

CALVIN COOLIDGE, Governor and Vice-Presidential Nominee:

A great man has passed, whose going will deeply grieve this Commonwealth, who inspired the love of all who knew him. In the affection of his fellow men he stood first in Massachusetts.

I need not speak of his abilities. His character tells what they were. It is no doubt a commonplace to say our Commonwealth will never be the same without him. But his loss will be felt in a way that is not commonplace.

There is no time for a recital of his achievements—how greatly he strove for the good of his fellow men; with what courage and devotion he served them; ho wunselfish he was, never seeking his, always solicitous of others.

For the influence for good that he was in out State and Nation, for the gift of such a life, for giving thanks for their having been, for seeking consolation and strength to bear their loss, men will turn alike to the 'Great Giver of all good and perfect gifts.' There is no other adequate way to cherish the memory of the friendship of Winthrop Murray Crane.

SAMUEL W. McCALL, Former Governor—In common with thousands, I am extremely sorry to hear the sad news about Mr. Crane. There was nothing ostentatious about him, yet he was a brilliant political leader without a rival. He was moderate and just and opposed to extreme action of any kind. He filled every office he ever held with high credit and was dominated by patriotic motives. His death is a very great loss to the Commonwealth and the country.

SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE—I regard W. Murray Crane's death a severe loss to the Commonwealth and the nation. He was a statesman of rare genius, and a business man of superior sagacity and judgment. He will be missed in political circles, but even more in the business and industrial life of the Commonwealth.

ALVAN T. FULLER, Congressman and Republican Nominee for Lieutenant-Governor—So Murray Crane is dead! I wrote him a month ago; it was after the Coolidge notification meeting. He was stricken about that time. I told him that I hoped his recovery would be sure and rapid, that the country and the Republican party needed his wise counsel and advice. I shall wire my sympathy to Mrs. Crane immediately.

ROBERT M. WASHBURN—Murray Crane dead! He was a man with a big heart, and with a host of friends.

WILLIAM S. GREENE, Member of Congress—I regret very sincerely to hear of the death of Senator Crane. I knew him intimately both here and at Washington, and was always greatly attached to him and recognized the great work he accomplished for his country and his party. I was always a warm admirer of him, and regret exceedingly, as all must do, to hear of his passing away. At this time his services would be most valuable to his country.

Senator Crane was one of the few men of his time who had the great faculty of bringing into close contact the business world and the political world, and getting out of the combination what was for the best interests of the people. I regard his death as a serious loss.

MICHAEL A. O'LEARY, Chairman man Democratic State Committee—The Commonwealth has lost a great philanthropist, a man who had the courage of his convictions, a staunch friend and a worthy foe. Everyone mours his loss.

FRANK W. STEARNS—Words are wholly inadequate to express the universal sense of loss in the death of W. Murray Crane, the wisest counsellor, the most respected and beloved man in Massachusetts—the friend of us all.

SAMUEL L. POWERS, Former Congressman: Murray Crane was a man of most attractive personality. To know him was to love him. He possessed remarkable sagacity, was a student of men and events, and was steadfast in conviction. His nature was kindly, generous and helpful, and he gave freely of his time and means in aid of all worthy undertakings. His death will be received with sorrow by the thousands who had the pleasure of knowing him.

The Boston American
Published daily (except Sunday)
80-82 Summer St., Boston 8, Mass.
NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY
Entered as second class matter June 1, 1907, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass.
Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice Department, Canada.
MAIL SUBSCRIPTION RATES—Postpaid. Domestic—One month, $0.65 (within 300 miles), $0.95 (outside 300 miles). Six months, $3.90 (within 300 miles), $5.70 (outside 300 miles). One year, $7.80 (within 300 miles), $11.40 (outside 300 miles). Foreign—One month, $1.00; six months, $6.00; one year, $12.00. One cent extra per copy in the Boston Postal District. Domestic rates include postage in the United States (excepting the Boston Postal District), Porto Rico, Philippines, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, Canal Zone; also include postage for Canada; providing subscription is made for Sunday Advertiser also, and if not foreign rate applies.
SUBSCRIPTIONS PAYABLE STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

W. Murray Crane at 3 Periods in His Career

The former Senator as he appeared a few months before his death.

A photograph taken just before Mr. Crane became Governor of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Crane and (below) Mr. Crane while he was in the United States Senate ten years ago.

I.O.O.F. EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Grateful to Governor, Mayor, Merchants and the Press for Assisting in Celebration

Editor American:

At the conclusion of the most interesting and enjoyable session in the history of Odd Fellowship, the committee on reception and entertainment of the Sovereign Grand Lodge wishes to express, through the medium of the Boston press, its appreciation and thanks to all the people who in many ways assisted in making this memorable week so successful.

Especially do we thank His Excellency Governor Coolidge, His Honor Mayor Peters, the police and park departments of Boston and Cambridge, the Red Cross, the merchants and all others who tendered special courtesies and rendered extraordinary service.

And more than all do we appreciate the work of the newspapers of Boston. The liberal space, the splendid reports and beautiful illustrations of the great parade, and other events, gave warmth and tone and snap to the program of the week. The reporters and the photographers were always "on the job." Their work was excellent, and the press of Boston is most heartily and sincerely thanked for the splendid service rendered.

It was the spirit of good-will and co-operation on the part of all the people that made this week so delightful to the distinguished guests who were "within our gates." And they came to us from every State in the Union and from every Province in the Dominion of Canada.

The Odd Fellows of Massachusetts, individually and collectively, thank you one and all.

GEORGE L. DOLLOFF,
Chairman of General Committee.
GEORGE H. FULLER,
Chairman of Press Committee.

DENY EX-POLICEMEN RAN BROOKLYN CARS

Former Boston policemen who went on strike September 9, 1919, did not serve as strike-breakers for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company in their recent labor trouble, declared George W. Dawson, delegated from the local policemen's union to investigate a report to that effect. It was rumored that the ex-policemen were thus seeking revenge on the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America for failure of Boston carmen to go on a sympathetic strike last Fall.

BODY OF SOMERVILLE SOLDIER ARRIVES HOME

The body of Michael J. Fennell, who died from wounds received in the Argonne battle October 3, 1918, has arrived from France at the home of one of his sisters, Mrs. Catherine T. Flynn of No. 7 Fennell street, Somerville. Services will be held at St. Ann's Churh, Somerville, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. A firing squad consisting of service men in the coast artillery will honor his grave in St. Paul's Cemetery, Arlington.

C. F. SULLIVAN QUITS POLITICS FOR ARMY

To accept a commission as first lieutenant in the United States Army, Charles F. Sullivan of Charlestown has withdrawn his name as a candidate to the Massachusetts Legislature. Sullivan, who is a world war veteran, was commissioned at Plattsburg in 1917. He served three years in the United States Cavalry. In the war he served at Camp Devens and in France with the 76th Division.

Arrest "Millionaire's" Family for Thefts

By International News Service

New York, Oct. 2.—The wife and four children of Angelo Salomone, Brooklyn "trucking king," were arrested early today and through them the police believe they have discovered the key to mysterious pier thefts, totalling a million dollars in the last six months.

The scene and circumstances of the arrests recall pages from Dickens. Three detectives working on the pier robberies were passing th Salomone garage and stables on Imlay street, Brooklyn, when they heard a noise of hammering. Peeking through a knothole they saw Mrs. Salomone taking bolts of cloth out of a case and handing them to her four boys, ranging in age from nine to fifteen. The work went on silently. The youngsters seemed well trained and responded to their mother's every cue. Not a word was spoken.

FIVE BOYS ARRESTED.

When the woman had completed her job she gave a sign and the boys, laden with mysterious looking packages, tiptoed over a bridge to the rear of the garage to their apartment, followed by the woman. As they started to enter the arms of the law reached out of the shadows of the dawn and the mother and her five boys found themselves under arrest. They promptly confessed, according to the police.

The thefts included articles of all kinds, notably typewriter materials and manicure sets. In the apartment the detectives found on all sides neatly piled up goods, including typewriters. Many of the stores were to be shipped to Norway today.

Altogether the value of the booty stored up in the apartment was estimated at $30,000.

As the officers penetrated further into the flat they heard violent coughing. A man's voice struggled with choking. "Angelina," he was heard to call. Instead of his wife, whose report he evidently expected, the detectives entered and placed him under arrest. But he was too sick to be moved.

RATED AS MILLIONAIRE.

Pneumonia is threatening his life. An officer stayed at his bedside. Salomone is rated in the Italian colony as a millionaire.

A few minutes later the mother and her four sons were hustled into a patrol wagon. Right behind it came another police motor filled with stolen goods. At the police station mother and boys wept and told their story.

Between $25,000 and $50,000 of the goods seized in the Salomone home belonged to the New York Forwarding Company.

Mrs. Salamone, asked by the police to explain why she engaged in these thefts through her wealthy husband was able to supply the family with all they desired, told the old story of the lure of "easy money." A few months ago, she said, some one took $3,000 worth of goods out of a case in her husband's store. The thief was never caught. It looked easy, and she tried it herself. Once she had begun, she could not stop. Her boys proved valuable companions in crime.

LIE PASSED BY ALDERMEN

Fall River Board Has Hot Session Over Probing Boston Firm's Street Work

Fall River, Oct. 2.—Following a hearing held in City Hall, Alderman W. Harry Monks, who created a sensation a few days ago by asking for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the conduct of some members of the Board of Aldermen, hints that he may appeal to District Attorney Joseph T. Kenney of New Bedford for criminal prosecution.

During the session Alderman Monks condemned Alderman Piper, president of the Board of Aldermen, for denying him a place on the special committee. He accused him of placing there a member who could not be fair in his investigation of the Warren Bros. Company of Boston, who are doing street work for the city. Monks named Alderman George S. Wiley.

The lie was passed between them, and but for the interference of friends they would have punched each other after the session.

50 CHILDREN IN HARBOR WRECK

Coast Guards Rescue Harbor Forts' Youngsters From Steamer on Hull Rocks

The Point Allerton coast guard crew rescued fifty children from the government steamer William G. Brown, Jr., driven ashore on the rocks of Hull hill by a heavy southwest wind when her engines failed. Transfer of the imperilled children, who were returning from school at Hull to their homes at harbor forts, was made to the steamer Skig.

The government steamer's engine failed shortly after leaving Hull pier, and she drifted rapidly ashore, running upon the rocks at high tide. An attempt to float her will be made today.

Late reports of the recent gale have increased the damage estimate well above $100,000. Locally they include the pounding to pieces of the auxiliary schooner Venture of Hough's Neck on the Pemberton Railroad breakwater, and the disappearance of the famous old yacht Calypso from her moorings at Hough's Neck.

London Canon at St. Paul's

The Rev. Dr. William H. Carnegie, canon of Westminster Abbey, London, will preach at St. Paul's Cathedral tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

WOMAN ARRESTS DIPLOMAT

Former Minister to Panama Caught Drinking From Flask in Washington Hotel

Washington, Oct. 2.—All the diplomacy and legal talent of Robert Stockwell Reynolds Hitt, former United States Minister to Panama and Guatemala, failed to convince Mrs. Mina G. Van Winkle, head of the woman's bureau of the Washington police department, that drinking in public is not a statutory offence.

Mr. Hitt argued the case with her for fifteen minutes in the dining room of the Willard Hotel and then finally consented to submit to arrest.

At police headquarters Hitt posted $10 collateral for himself and $10 for his companion, who gave the name of Miss Helen Miller. Then he promptly forfeited the money by continuing on his way to Hot Springs.

Mr. Hitt was on his way to Hot Springs from New York. He stopped off between trains and made the dinner engagement with Miss Miller. Mrs. Van Winkle was seated nearby.

"I took special notice of Mr. Hitt because everyone seemed to know him," Mrs. Van Winkle explained. "After visiting several tables he returned, produced a flask and poured a drink for himself and his companion. There was nothing I could do but place him under arrest."

Before his two appointments as minister, Mr. Hitt was third secretary to the American embassy in Paris, second secretary to the American embassy at Berlin and secretary to the embassy at Rome. He is a graduate of Yale and has an LL.B. from Harvard. He is a member of the Mitropolitan, University and Chevy Chase clubs.

MILTON ARMY OFFICER IS SLAIN IN GERMANY

American army officials, acting in conjunction with German authorities are attempting to run to earth the murderers of Lieutenant Nathaniel F. Davis of East Milton, who was returning from a conference of Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission, of which he was a member, to his post at Adenau, when slain.

After a military funeral in Coblenz, the remains of the officer were shipped to this country and will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York.

Lieutenant Davis was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Pleasant street, East Milton, and was a graduate of Harvard in 1909, and of the Harvard Law School in 1912.

He went abroad as a member of a regiment from Minnesota at the outbreak of hostilities, was transferred to the intelligence department of the army, and later he was appointed to the Inter-Allied Commission.

HAYWOOD BARRED USE OF NEW BEDFORD RINK

New Bedford, Oct. 2.—The use of Elm Rink for W. D. Haywood to talk on Sunday has been refused by the management, after finding out an I. W. W. meeting was to be held. Mayor Ashley said that Mr. Haywood would be permitted to talk on the streets, but that no seditious utterances would be allowed.

ROOSEVELT SERVICE TO BE HELD HERE OCT. 27

Mayor Peters is shortly to announce the appointment of a committee of prominent men and women residents of Boston to arrange a Roosevelt memerial strvice in Boston Oct. 27. The personnel of the committee will be made known some time next week.

MURRAY CRANE DIES AT DALTON

Failed to Recover After Collapse at Notification of Governor Coolidge monies notifying Governor Coolidge of his nomination as Republican nominee for Vice-President.

Continued From First Page.

The task of shaking hands in the hot sun all day with hundreds of persons proved too much for Senator Crane, who had undergone considerable strain at the Republican national convention.

He rallied quickly from the collapse, however, and it was not regarded as serious. Returning to his home here in an automobile, attended by Dr. P. J. Sullivan of Dalton, the Senator suffered five or six fainting spells, followed by more the next day. He insisted on going to his office as usual, but for days after that suffered from sinking spells, during which he lost consciousness.

Early in September the Senator's condition had reached the point where specialists were called in, and on the night of September 8 his family were gathered at the bedside fearing the worst. Among the heart specialists called in consultation with Dr. Paddock were Dr. Hugh Williams and Dr. John Jenks Thomas of Boston and Dr. Frank S. Meara of New York.

Ex-Senator Crane's last public appearance was on August 13, when he attended a gathering at the Pittsfield Park Club to hear Chauncey M. Depew in his "Friday, the Thirteenth" address.

ONE OF THE "BIG FOUR."

Previous to the Republican convention he had announced that he would retire as Republican National Committeeman upon the expiration of his term of office.

He attended the convention as one of the "Big Four" delegates from this State with his former colleague, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Edward A. Thurston of Fall River and Frederick H. Gillett, speaker of the National House of Representatives.

The announcement of Senator Crane's retirement created a stir in local Republican circles, as he had been a dominating factor for many yeas.

His connection with the famous paper manufacturing firm which bore his name made Senator Crane one of the wealthiest men in the Senate. He occupied a still more unique position, however, as the only Senator who never made a speech.

Nervous, retiring and extremely sensitive to criticism, Senator Crane preferred to keep out of the public eye as much as possible, and his reticence was maintained to the end. Despite this refusal to put himself forward publicly, Senator Crane was one of the most powerful leaders of the Republican party, and in his day had much to do with the fortunes of prominent men.

BORN APRIL 23, 1853.

Winthrop Murray Crane, former Governor of Massachusetts and former United States Senator from this State, was born in Dalton in the Berkshires April 23, 1853. The family name was already a famous one, made so by the success of the Crane Paper Mills, founded by Mr. Crane's grandfather, Zenas Crane, to the conduct of which Mr. Crane and his brothers succeeded. The mills have long held contracts for the manufacture of United States and Canadian currency paper, from which bank notes are made, and it was Zenas Crane who introduced the silk fibres to render counterfeiting more difficult.

Winthrop Murray Crane received his education in the public schools and at Williston Seminary, Easthampton. He was not a college man, but in later life received honorary degrees from Williams College and Harvard. At seventeen years of age he went into the paper business, which made him a rich man.

He was twice married and had three sons. By his first wife, who was Miss Mary Benner of Astoria, L. I., he became the father of Winthrop Murray Crane, Jr. The first Mrs. Crane, whom he married in 1880, died four years later. His second wife was Miss Josephine Boardman of Washington, whom he married in 1906. Sons were born to them in 1907 and 1909.

Mr. Crane's political career began with the office of selectman of Dalton, from which he became delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention of 1892. He served four times in this capacity. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts in 1897, and was Governor for three terms, from 1900 to 1902.

He first became Senator when appointed in 1904 to the vacancy caused by the death of Senator George F. Hoar. The Legislature subsequently elected Mr. Crane to complete the term, and he was re-elected. He was chosen a member of the Republican National Committee in 1908.

REFUSED CABINET PLACE.

Mr. Crane refused at least three opportunities to enter the Cabinet, by declining the posts of Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster-General. He was noted for his retiring disposition, combined with an extraordinary capacity for hard work. His metods were the antithesis of those of most politicians, and he was once characterized as "the one living Senator who never made a speech in his life."

His first inaugural address as Governor was the shortest in the history of the State, but each of its recommendations became enacted into law. This was true of his two later inaugurals. He was said to be the only Massachusetts Governor who could claim that distinction.

While Governor he settled the big teamsters' strike that had crippled city traffic by persuading the men to go back to work pending a settlement and pledging his word that at least one of their demands should be granted. This word he kept. His integrity was widely known and acknowledged.

While he was Governor he disposed of stock owned by him in the Boston & Albany railroad because he knew that the question of leasing the road to the New York Central would come before the Legislature during his administration.

Members of the Crane family pay half the taxes of Dalton, it is stated. Mr. Crane and his brothers have done much for their home town, having presented it a public park, a Y. M. C. A. building and other philanthropies.

Gray Nuns' Orphanage Faces Eviction

Worcester, Oct. 2.—Franco-American residents of Worcester County are expected to raise a fund to forestall a threatened eviction of the Gray Nuns and their 240 orphan boys and girls from St. Anne's Orphanage on Granite street. The nuns have not money enough to install fire escapes and make alterations ordered by the State building inspectors.

Sister Guy, superior of the orphanage, is fearful that funds cannot be raised for the improvements before the vacating order becomes effective, or in time to erect another building more suited for the growing needs of the orphanage.

BELASCO SUED FOR $200,000

Willie Pogany, Artist, Charges Attempt to Wreck Home by Slander in Play

New York, Oct. 2.—Willie Pogany is married. He is married hard, fast and respectably, as he can prove by the doorplate on his Washington square south door, all of which he's willing to tell Broadway and anyone else who cares to listen.

And this is the principal wail in the $200,000 suit for damages which he has filed against David Belasco, Charles Frohman, Inc., and Fania Marinoff, all three of whom, he alleges, are using his name in such a "scandalous, slanderous and defamatory way" as to all but wreck his family life.

PLAY CAUSES FUSS.

For such as are not properly familiar with Willie's identity, he is described in "Who's Who" as artist, theatrical producer, illustrator of more than sixty books, scenic painter, litterateur and Socialist. In his suit he adds to the description by asserting that he is a native of Hungary, thirty-eight, and "recognized by the artistic, literary and theatrical professions as an artist of high ability."

All the fuss started upon the night of August 31, last, when the three-act comedy, "Call the Doctor," opened at the Empire Theatre here. In that play Fania Marinoff, the heroine, says this:

"I have a sweetheart—Willie Pogany. The first time he see me he love me at one look. Dear boy, just now he have no work. His pictures he do not yet sell, but I lend him a little money. He pay me back when we marry—maybe."

Now all this is darn bad, declares Willie. The idea of him being held up to the ridicule of theatre goers as an incompetent artist, taking money from a woman! But what's still worse is this further outbreak from the heroine:

WHAT AROUSED WILLIE.

"Pogany Willie is not true to me. Money I give all the time and he blow it on American girl!"

It's this last which causes the artist to protest that his name is being used in a slanderous, scandalous, defamatory wey. He says the lines complained of show him to be a "fraud, cheat, deceiver, wicked person and immoral."

And by the little bobbed-headed breezelets that blow over the Washington Monument, declares he—or something like that—there's balm to his wounded spirit only in $200,000; half for all that he has suffered from the nightly speaking of these lines since the play has opened, and the other half unauthorized use of his name for advertising purposes, and mayhap for wasted breath in trying to explain things at home, though this last isn't mentioned in the papers.

FAMOUS BOSTON PIANIST IS DEAD IN CONNECTICUT

Carlo Buonamici, the well known Boston pianist, died suddenly at Farmington, Ct. He was born in Florence, Italy, June 20, 1875. His first recital in Boston took place January 17, 1898. He made numerous appearances with the Boston Symphony orchestra, both here and in out of town concerts. In 1908 he made an European concert tour. During the world war he served in Italy from the Spring of 1918 to the last of January, 1919.

He was a member of the St. Botolph and Boston Art Clubs. A widow, one son, two sisters and a brother survive him.

TO PROSECUTE DRIVER OF TRUCK THAT KILLED BOY

Application will be made for a warrant charging Philip L. Alrier of No. 290 Washington street, Salem, with manslaughter, it being charged by the Boston police that the automobile truck he was operating along Harvard avenue, Brighton, struck and knocked down and subsequently caused the death of Domenic DeLorenzo, nine, of 61 Everett street, Brighton. The accident happened in front of No. 149 Harvard avenue. The boy was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he died.

SUE GRANDCHILDREN TO AID AGED RELATIVE

Westfield, Oct. 2.—Nellie H. Fox and others of Westfield have brought suit in the Superior Court against Arthur, William and Grace Barry, grandchildren of Ellen J. King, aged seventy-nine, of No. 33 Washington street, in an effort to force the three defendants to aid in supporting their aged relative.

Several grandchildren now paying for the support of Mrs. King, who is an invalid, claim that the others should share in the expense.

SOUTH END WOMAN IS HIT BY MOTORCYCLIST

Eliza Duncan, aged fifty-two, married, of No. 61 Pembroke street, was knocked down at Tremont and West Newton streets by a motorcycle ridden by Frank Galdi of No. 90 Webster street, East Boston. At the City Hospital she was found to be suffering from contusions of the body and was held for treatment.

IRISH FLEEING TO AMERICA

Thousands Quit Country in Reign of Terror in Which 102 Towns Have Suffered

Dublin, Oct. 2.—Ireland's awful reign of tragedy of which the sack of Mallow is the most recent incident is causing thousands of Irish to leave their country for America. They are quitting their businesses and their farms and will make an entirely new start in the United States.

A new light on the nature of the reprisals came when Alfred Flint of London, one of the Black and Tan police who aided in the sack of Balbriggan, gave an interview here to the correspondent of the London Daily News.

LIKE CORPS OF BANDITS.

"I was stationed at Gormanstown," he said. "When I resigned from the police force they asked me why. I told them that I had thought that I was joining a police force but that it looked as if the force was a corps of bandits. We were ordered out of our beds to go to Balbriggan for the reprisal raid. That is no work for an Englishman. That is why I have come out of it. The Irish job was done by three lorry loads of reserve constables of the Royal Irish Constabulary."

Sinn Fein has declared that the sack of Irish towns and the assassinations of prominent Sinn Feiners is part of the British program designed to make the complete cowing of Ireland an accomplished fact before Parliament meets this month.

102 TOWNS SACKED.

According to figures given out by Sinn Fein, 102 towns have been sacked and burned by the soldiers and police during the last twelve months. Seventy deaths have accompanied the sackings.

Sinn Fein also declared that the British have a newly recruited force known as the "Five Dollar a Day Sergeants" that is not yet in action, but from its personnel is feared more than the Black and Tans.

It is quite impossible for the unprejudiced observer to give the administration a blanket excuse [illegible] in connection with the raids on towns as there is not a single instance of disciplinary action in connection with them.

AUTO AND $2,500 IN OLIVE OIL HELD IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Oct. 2.—An auto truck load of olive oil, valued at $2,500, is being held here by the police on suspicion it is stolen property. A traffic officer stopped the truck, expecting to find liquor. The driver and five Italians accompanying it in a touring car were unable to give good account of themselves and are being detained. The truck bore New York registration plates, but papers or other identification were lacking.

VETERANS TO MARCH IN HARDING PARADE

General John H. Sherburne of Brookline has been appointed marshal of the division of former service men in the big Harding and Coolidge torchlight parade on October 23. He has appointed Colonel Elon Tandy, who has charge of the Y. D. Club on Huntington avenue, as his chief of staff, and Captain Henry D. Cormerais of Allston as his adjutant.

CAPE SCALLOPS SCARCE; WILL BE $5 A GALLON

New Bedford, Oct. 2.—Scallops in Cape Cod waters and Buzzards Bay are unusually scarce this year, according to fishermen returning to this port after the first day of the Massachusetts season. What few scallops are taken from these waters will wholesale at $5 a gallon, according to the dredgers.

NEW YORK'S REAL ESTATE VALUED AT $9,608,017,467

New York, Oct. 2.—An assessed valuation of $9,608,017,467 has been placed on New York's real estate for 1921. This valuation is an increase of $1,230,667,884. Taxable personal property has been decreased $155,474,550, the 1921 valuation being $750,947,400.

MISSING MAN CHARGED WITH KILLING LANDLORD

Biddeford, Me., Oct. 2.—Ali Saban, aged twenty, is alleged to have shot and killed his landlord, Nabit Pahic, aged forty-five, when the latter asked the young man for his rent. Saban is now missing. The police, assisted by residents of the Albanian colony, are conducting a widespread search.

DORY SWAMPS IN SEA; TWO NEAR DEATH

Provincetown, Oct. 2.—John Souza and Harvey White, local fishermen, narrowly escaped drowning a mile off shore when their dory swamped in a heavy sea. Souza reached a motor boat anchored near the scene of the accident and after starting the engine was able to rescue White.

BROCKTON SHOE CUTTER KILLS SELF BY GAS

Brockton, Oct. 2.—N. Forest Glover, aged forty-three, a shoe cutter, living at No. 222 Pleasant street, committed suicide in the bath room of his home by inhaling illuminating gas.

ANCIENTS ON WAY TO MONTREAL AND OTTAWA

Amid cheers from their admirers the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company entrained for Montreal and Ottawa. The Ancients are going 350 strong on their 282nd Fall field day and expect to return to this city Tuesday night.

Customs Receipts Gain

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—During the six months, ending September 30, customs receipts increased nearly $24,000,000 over 1919. This year's receipts were $106,075,229, as compared with $82,269,212 during the same six months' period last year.

HARVARD, YALE, TUFTS AND B. C. BUSY ON GRIDIRON TODAY

CRIMSON BATTLES MAINE

Big Football Day for the Greater Boston Fans With Three Local Games

COLLEGE GAMES TODAY

Harvard vs. Maine, at the Stadium.
Yale vs. Carnegie Tech, at New Haven.
Dartmouth vs. Norwich, at Hanover.
Brown vs. Amherst, at Providence.
Princeton vs. Swarthmore, at Princeton.
Boston University vs. Worcester Tech, at Worcester.
Tufts vs. Bowdoin, at Medford.
Bates vs. New Hampshire, at Durham.
Williams vs. Rensselaer, at Williamstown.
Wesleyan vs. R. I. State, at Middletown.
Mass. Aggies vs. Ct. State, at Amherst.
Boston College vs. St. Alphonsus A. A., at University Heights.
Penn. State vs. Gettysburg, at State College.
Pennsylvania vs. Bucknell, at Philadelphia.
Syracuse vs. Vermont, at Syracuse.
Colby vs. Fort McKinley, at Waterville.
Colgate vs. Susquehanna, at Hamilton.
Cornell vs. Rochester, at Ithaca.
Georgetown vs. St. Johns, at Washington.
Notre Dame vs. Kalamazoo, at Notre Dame
Army vs. Union, at West Point.
Navy vs. North Carolina, at Annapolis.
West Virginia vs. Lehigh, at Morgantown.

By CHARLES E. PARKER

Greater Boston's college football fans split three ways today when it came to selecting the scene of their Saturday afternoon's gridiron entertainment, some heading for the Harvard Stadium, where Coach Fisher's ponderous Crimson team was meeting Maine; others going to Somerville to witness Tufts' opening game with Bowdoin; and still others hiking for Newton Heights where Major Frank Cavanaugh's sturdy Boston College team is staging a practice game with the St. Alphonsus A. A. eleven.

There was a scattering of local enthusiasts, who, because of college affiliations or a desire to witness what should prove more evenly contested games than the local calendar promised, left early today for Providence or New Haven, where, respectively, there are being staged the Brown-Amherst and Yale-Carnegie Tech melees.

Harvard Favorite Over Maine

Fisher's team entered the Stadium game a strong favorite over the University of Maine, owing to the latter's poor showing against Boston University last week, and Harvard enthusiasts were anticipating a large score and an opportunity to see the majority of the Harvard squad in action before the game had ended.

Tufts was the favorite over Bowdoin at the Oval, the latter being figured to do little better than it did against Springfield Y. M. C. A. College one week ago; while at the Heights the St. Alphonsus crew were considered no match for the powerful Maroon and Gold squad.

Big Interest in Yale-Carnegie Tech Game

It was the reports of the Yale-Carnegie Tech and Brown-Amherst games, however, that the local fandom was awaiting with keenest interest. Except in a change of coaches the Elis appeared little different in makeup than they were last year.

Both Brown and Amherst followers felt sure of victory in the game at Providence and a tight little tussle seemed assured when the game got underway. Brown ruled a slight favorite largely because of the fine reputation of Coach Robinson and the fact that the game was being played on the Providence field where a plentiful supply of Brown backers was on hand.

TITLE SERIES GAME IN SOUTH BOSTON TODAY

The second game of the series for the championship of South Boston between the Walworth team and South Boston All Stars is played at M street playgrounds today. Batteries, for Walworth, "Win" Carlson and "Billie" Hughes; All Stars, "Jimmie" Shea and "Dick" McGinn.

School Football Results

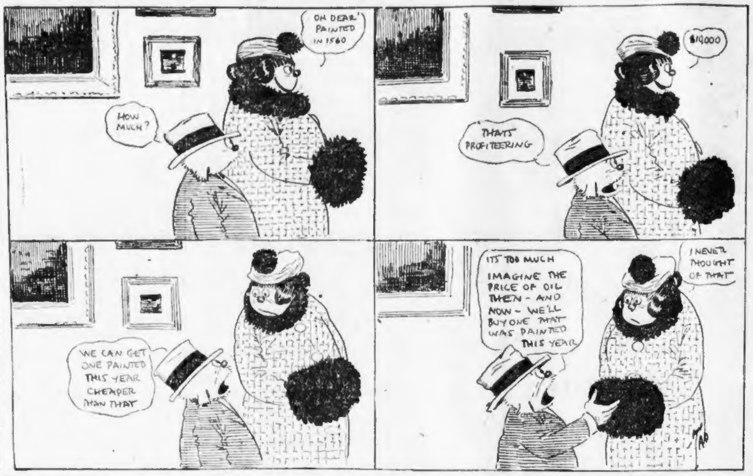
Dean Seconds 6, Rindge 0.
Watertown High 21, Melrose High 0.
Framingham High 14, Commerce High 13.
Newton High 51, Needham High 0.
Lowell High 7, Nashua High 0.

TONIGHT
Commonwealth A.A.
SCENIC TEMPLE, BERKELEY ST.
SIX ROUNDS,
Eddie Daley vs. Fred Russeau
EIGHT ROUNDS,
Johnny Brown of Newport vs.
Mack Murphy of Atlantic
EIGHT ROUNDS,
Jimmy Kenny of Wakefield vs.
Young Geo. Gardner of Diamond Hill
TEN ROUNDS,
DANNY KRAMER vs. ROY MOORE
Tickets, including war tax, $1, $1.65, $2

Too Old

Copyright, 1920, by International Feature Service, Inc.

By TAD



OH DEAR! PAINTED IN 1560
HOW MUCH?
$19000
THAT'S PROFITEERING
WE CAN GET ONE PAINTED THIS YEAR CHEAPER THAN THAT ITS TOO MUCH IMAGINE THE PRICE OF OIL THEN - AND NOW - WE'LL BUY ONE THAT WAS PAINTED THIS YEAR
I NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT TAD

CRIMSON SUBS IN MAINE GAME

Easy Victory Is Anticipated by Coach Fisher; First String Men in Reserve

LINEUP AT STADIUM.

HARVARD.	MAINE.
Macomber, l.e.	r.e., Finnegan
Tolbert, l.t.	r.t., Roemer
Hubbard, l.g.	r.g., Hussey
Havemeyer, c.	c., Lord
Woods, r.g.	l.g., Mulvaney
Faxon, r.t.	l.t. Badger
Gaston, r.e.	l.e., McKechnie
Johnson, q.b.	q.b., Ginsberg
Owen, l.h.b.	r.h.b., O'Brien
Chapin, r.h.b.	l.h.b., Smith
Horween, f. b.	f.b., Taylor

Referee—Dr. E. J. O'Brien, Tufts. Umpire—A. F. Noble, Amherst. Field judge—J. B. Pendleton, Bowdoin. Head linesman—Roderick Beebe, Yale.

With a number of substitutes in its line-up, the Harvard eleven played its second game of the season in the Stadium with the Maine team as opponents today.

Head Coach Fisher started a quartet of subs, Hubbard at left guard, Faxon at right tackle, Chapin at right half and Owen at left half. The Harvard mentor held the regulars on the side lines ready to get into the game in case the Maine boys should show unexpected strength.

In any event, Fisher was determined not to allow the game to become a repetition of the Holy Cross contest of a week back, when the Crimson was fortunate to win by the margin of a field goal, and was prepared to strengthen or lower the offensive power of his team according to the showing made by the Pine Tree State players.

Yale Opens Season With Carnegie Tech

New Haven, Oct. 2. — Yale met Carnegie Tech today in the Bowl in the opening game of the Eli football season and a record first-game attendance was on hand. The Pittsburghers came here with a fairly heavy team and expecs tto hold Yale to a low score.

Captain Callahan played a part of the game. Acosta and Herr, the big freshman guard of a year ago, starte as guards, and Dickens and MacKay were the tackles, Walker and Munger, the former tackles, filled the wing positions.

Aldrich, French and Webb started the game in the backfield with Kempton and Murphy alternating at directing the play.

HOLIDAY AUTO RACES AT COMBINATION PARK

A good list of events has been arranged for the automobile meet to be held at Combination Park, Medford, Columbus Day, under the auspices of the New England Automobile Racing Association.

Eight races for which trophies and cash prizes will be given will make up the program. "Wild Bill" Endicott will be one of the drivers.

RAY AND VARDON WIN AT NEW HAVEN

New Haven, Oct. 2.—Ted Ray and Harry Vardon, the English professionals, defeated Sidney Scott of Yale and Joseph Stein of Race Brook, 4 and 3, in an 18-hole match at the Race Brook Country Club.

TRIPLE HEADER FOR THE PIRATES TODAY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 2.—Pittsburgh has continuous baseball today, starting at 12 o'clock and continuing through until probably pretty close to sundown. Three games will be played between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati and they will follow one another with hardly any intermission.

JONES TIES BARNES AT END OF SECOND DAY

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 2.—Bobby Jones and Jim Barnes were tied for the lead at the end of the second day's play in the Southern open golf championship. Their score for the thirty-six holes was 156.

BUGS BAER'S COLUMN

Baseball bootlegging at ten grand a boot is a profitable industry. Chicago will donate a loving cup stuffed with red ants to the Big Eight. The jack will be raised by unpopular subscription.

Arrangements are being made with the jails of the better class for an overflow attendance this Winter. None of the tickets is in the hands of the speculators. Owing to the short chain on handcuffs it looks like some pitchers will have to learn a new delivery. A jail delivery would probably be stylish around the time when the snow is flying on the shingle roofs.

The bird who would throw his own home town fans would probably steal the moss off the old oaken bucket, toss a shooting cracker into an old man's ear trumpet and deprive a mouse of a meal by swiping the cheese from a nickel trap.

Jesse James was a deacon compared with those birds, Ponzi a philanthropist and Bluebeard a charming little playmate. Seasoning the soup with ground glass gums the appetite.

The baseball scandal started as a rumor and figured to end that way. When she proved correct the United States couldn't have been more startled if Hank Ford had cornered the oat market.

This baseball smudge goes wherever English is undeleted by the censor. The constitution follows the pennant. Every ham and egglet in the works knows of the dirt, and it means that eight ball players will never get a chance to play again. Which is tougher than a meal of subway straps, but you can't expect to stuff the mattress with porcupine quills and not get insomnia.

The public isn't sore on the players. They're sorry for 'em. All of 'em were favorites with the mob and figured to probably earn $100,000 in straight salaries in the next eight or nine years. But they couldn't wait to grab the honey from the hive.

They held up the bee on his way home and discovered that he was a wasp.

Brooklyn Pitchers Have the Edge

HOW THE PITCHERS COMPARE

	Offensive	Defensive	Total
Brooklyn	542	1752	2294
Cleveland	480	1717	2197

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Pitching, according to the dope, is the secret of the success of the Brooklyn team and the chief source of hope for the Dodgers in the World's Series. The Dodgers made a huge gain in the dope on the pitchers, compared with Cleveland.

Oddly enough, on straight pitching, the two teams rank very closely together when studied as against the batter they must face. Brooklyn shows a slight advantage in the pitching strength for the purpose of the series, but the big gain of the Dodgers is in the attacking power of the pitching staff.

The pitchers of the Brooklyn outfit carry out the policy of Robby and contribute their share of the attacking end of the game. In a hitting season, with a catcher hitting close to .300, and the pitcher who will bear the bulk of the burden a normal .300 hitter, any team is strengthened. The possession of strong-hitting battery men makes Robby's lineup dangerous in any inning and forces opposing pitchers to work all the time.

SMITH STAR PITCHER.

Marquard and Mamaux, of course, are wretched, but Smith, Pfeffer and Cadore force opposing pitchers to work—at least prevent them from taking a rest—and Grimes, who is Robby's pitching ace, is a real hitter against any kind of pitching.

I expected to find that Brooklyn would figure to hit the Cleveland pitchers stronger than they would be liable to hit the Chicago pitchers in case the American League turned that way, but was surprised to discover that the dope gives Cleveland the better of the argument. Nor, according to the dope, would Cleveland hit Brooklyn's pitchers as hard as the White Sox, nor would Brooklyn hit Cleveland as hard as it would hit Gleason's men even before the wholesale White Sox suspension.

In this doping of team against team, of course, there is no thought of comparing pitchers excepting for the series. This value of the pitcher depends upon his effectiveness against the batters he must face. As an illustration, Shocker would be a wonderful pitcher against the New York Yankees and not so good against other clubs. In other words, a good pitcher may be a soft mark for a weak club. So in a World's Series, we must not figure on what Grimes has done during the National League season or Bagby in the American, but figure what they have done against the kind of hitting they will meet in the series.

I have rated Grimes as highest in probable effectiveness against Cleveland, yet Sherry Smith would have rated highest against the White Sox. In the nine-game series, at least five of the Brooklyn pitchers should be called upon, but Grimes, Smith and Pfeffer will bear the brunt of the work, with Marquard finishing up games, and in event things break right, starting at least one game.

ROBBY'S GREAT TWIRLERS.

We must figure Grimes as Robby's chief asset, and Smith, who is at present in superb shape, almost his equal as a stopper of the left-handed hitters of the American League champs—and remember that the left-handed hitters are the chief asset in the attacking forces of the American Leaguers.

When I first doped the series, comparing Brooklyn with Cleveland, Brooklyn's lead in pitchers was considerably larger than now revealed. The development of Mails has certainly added to the Cleveland pitching strength wonderfully. He saved Cleveland and led the late season recovery after the slump following the death of Chapman and, had he been with the team longer, Cleveland would have won the championship with a week in which to rest after cinching it.

Mails did more than win games for Cleveland, he gave Bagby and Coveleskie the chance to rest, which was sorely needed. The coming of Mails with his string of victories added many points to Cleveland's World's Series value in giving the team a reliable left-hander with a lot of steam, but chiefly it kept Coveleskie from being worn out and perhaps rendered valueless so far as the service is concerned, and it relieved Bagby, who was weakening under the strain of carrying the team.

COVELESKIE OFF FORM.

It cannot be figured that either Coveleskie or Bagby is at his best right now. They have carried the brunt of a heavy bruden. Bagby has been in close to forty games and Coveleskie about thirty-six. Caldwell, of course, we cannot figure to be used much in such a series, excepting in finishing up. I am inclined to think that he would be extremely effective against Brooklyn, and Speaker will use him as finisher up and, if he gets the series in hand, may use him to start a game. Otherwise he must rely upon Coveleskie, Bagby and Mails. Uhle, while the best hitter among the Indian twirlers, will not be much of a figure in this series.

(Copyright 1920 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

BRAVES IN FINAL GAMES OF YEAR

Stallings' Men and Phillies in Twin Bill for a Windup

A double-header—naturally enough—concluded the season at Braves Field this afternoon. The Phils and the natives put on the last reel in their tense struggle for the cellar. Some may claim that baseball ended at the Wigwam a long time ago, but that's not here, there nor anywhere.

For some unknown reason Business Manager Hapgood did not attempt to stage a triple-header, which is something to be thankful for, anyhow. By breaking even today the Braves can secure their hold on seventh place, regardless of what happens tomorrow.

It looked like a tough job at that, as quite a few of the Braves were billed to appear in the ranks of the independent teams that are staging World's Series of their own just now. On the other hand, Cactus Cravath has his full strength, such as it is, present, and nothing would please the invading skipper better than a chance to get out of the depths.

SEVERAL BIG SOCCER GAMES PLAYED TODAY

Several soccer games were on the card today. The feature match was at Quincy, where Fore River A clashed with the Rovers of Fall River.

The Maple Leafs of Quincy had an important contest with Farnum Shoe of Brockton at Quincy. Gray & Davis met Primo in Cambridge in a B division game.

Other games played today were: Boston Rovers and Boston Celtic at Sullivan square, Sturtevants and Swedish-Americans at Hyde Park and St. George and Fore River B at Everett.

INDIAN A. C. ELEVEN MEETS GLENWOOD A. A.

The Indian A. C. of East Boston will play the Glenwood A. A. at Wood Island Park, East Boston, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. This game will be the first of the season for the Indians, who, on account of their record of last year, are the favorites. The Indians still have a few dates open and would like to hear from some of the fast semi-pro and amateur teams of the State. Address Richard Skane, No. 249 Bennington street, East Boston, or telephone East Boston 72051.

BASEBALL SUMMARIES

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Standing of the Clubs

	W.	L.	PC.		W.	L.	PC.
Brook.	91	61	.599	Chic...	75	77	.493
N. Y...	86	66	.566	St. L..	73	79	.480
Cinci..	81	69	.540	Boston	61	88	.409
Pitts..	77	74	.510	Phila..	60	90	.400

Games Today

Philadelphia at Boston, 2 games.
Brooklyn at New York.
Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, 3 games.
St. Louis at Chicago.

National League Results

Brooklyn 4, New York 3, first game.
New York 4, Brooklyn 3, second game.
Chicago 3, St. Louis 2, 17 innings.
Boston-Philadelphia, wet grounds.
Cincinnati-Pittsburgh, rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Standing of the Clubs

	W.	L.	PC.		W.	L.	PC.
Cleve.	97	55	.638	Bos..	73	81	.471
Chic..	95	57	.625	Wash.	68	83	.443
N. Y..	95	59	.617	Det...	60	92	.395
St. L.	75	76	.497	Phila.	47	104	.311

Games Today

Cleveland at Detroit.
Washington at Philadelphia.
Chicago at St. Louis.

American League Results

Detroit 5, Cleveland 4, first game.
Cleveland 10, Detroit 3, second game.
St. Louis 8, Chicago 6.
Washington 13, Philadelphia 8.

ACID TEST FOR DANNY KRAMER

West End Battler Will Have Hands Full in Clash With Moore Tonight

By JACK CONWAY.

Danny Kramer, West End puncher, will receive the well-known acid test tonight when he collides with Roy Moore of St. Paul in a ten-round bout at the Commonwealth A. A. If the local youth comes through with a victory this p. m. he will be in a position to demand matches with the best boys of his weight in the country.

Kramer has been boxing at a dizzy clip since he returned home after a campaign in California. He has stopped Paddy Owens, Jimmy Fox and Johnny Russell. He now wants to add Moore to his list of casualties.

The Westerner has clashed with most of the leading men in the bantamweight class. He has never been knocked out and avers he has met a lot of boxers who can punch much harder than Kramer. Moore looks forward to scoring a win tonight.

Young George Gardner of Lowell and Jimmy Kenny of Wakefield will mingle in the semi-final of eight rounds. Mack Murphy of Atlantic and Johnny Brown of Newport will clash in another eight-session affair, while Eddie Daley of Dorchester and Fred Russo of Somerville will travel the six-round distance.

Kloby-Siegal Bout Tickets Now Ready

John F. Mahony announces that tickets for the Kloby-Siegal bout, which will be staged at Braves Field on the afternoon of Columbus Day may be secured at the office of the Faneuil A. C. at No. 39 Court street, Room E. Lawrence fans have asked for a block of 5,000 tickets, while there is also a heavy demand for reservation from all parts of New England.

Siegal has gone to a private camp where he will finish his training for the tussle. Kloby is busy at Lawrence and is not a bit bashful in stating that he will stop his opponent. The Fenway A. A. plans to book Kloby with Jack Britton in the event that the Lawrence warrior disposes of Siegal. Naturally Kloby is eager to get this match, but before he can do so he must dispose of Siegal. In the event of Kloby winning over Siegel there would not be any objections to a Kloby-Britton encounter.

Gardini and Cutler to Battle Here

Lou Daro has completed the program for the wrestling show he is going to conduct at the Commonwealth A. A. on the evening of Columbus Day. Renato Gardini, Boston wrestling star, will oppose Charley Cutler of Chicago in the feature match. Zulu Havenpa will clash with Iven Michaelof in one of the preliminaries, while in another Al Johnson will have Young Limilo as an opponent.

No Boxing Show at Armory A. A. Next Week

The Armory A. A. will not stage another show until October 19, when Jack Sharkey of New York will battle Young Montreal of Providence. The Triple A was offered the use of Mechanics Building for next Tuesday night, when those persons who planned to give the returns on the World's Series gave up their enterprise. Matchmaker Alex McLean was unable to secure a suitable card and so decided not to put on any show.

Tuohey Busy Booking Up Wrestling Stars

George Tuohey has his lines out for a bang-up wrestling card which he plans to stage in Mechanics Building on the evening of Columbus Day. During the Summer months, George did not stage any bouts, but with the arrival of cool weather he has been active as ever. The shows he has held at the Grand Opera House this Fall have been filled with action and have been appreciated by the fans.

Donovan-Muggsy Bout Planned for Quincy

Matchmaker Tom Goodwin of the Quincy Boxing Club is planning a bout between Mickey Donovan and Kayo Muggsy for the next meeting of his organization which will be held next Thursday night. Donovan is a big favorite with the fans in the Granite City, while Muggsy says he is prepared to resume his duties as the kayo kid. In the event that ether Donovan or Muggsy should be willing to box next week, Johnny Morris of South Boston is prepared to enter the ring. And he doesn't care to pick his opponent either.

FITZSIMMONS AND HAYES IN EVEN BATTLE

Marlboro, Oct. 2.—Billy Fitzsimmons of Chelsea boxed a draw with Chick Hayes of Boston in ten rounds at Pastime Hall. Tommy Corby of Gloucester got the decision over Al Lane of Cambridge in an eight-round affair.

Record Beats Geary

Nashua, N. H., Oct. 2.—Eddie Record of Newark, N. J., was given the decision over Joe Geary of Boston, when the latter's seconds threw the sponge into the ring in the eighth round.

American Association

Louisville 8, Milwaukee 1.

Best White Sox Can Do Now Is to Tie

The best the White Sox can do is to tie the Indians for first place. Such a condition will come to pass if the former team wins its two remaining games while the latter is dropping both contests still remaining to be played. In that event the standing will be:

	W.	L.
Cleveland	97	57
Chicago	97	57

Runs for the Week

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Club.	S.	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.	Tls
St. Louis	6	16	*	*	*	2	24
Cincinnati	8	*	7	*	*	*	15
New York	2	4	*	*	*	7	13
Brooklyn	4	*	*	*	*	7	11
Chicago	3	1	*	*	*	3	7
Philadelphia	*	*	*	6	*	*	6
Boston	*	4	*	1	*	*	5
Pittsburgh	0	*	3	*	*	*	3

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Club.	S.	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.	Tls
Cleveland	7	5	9	16	*	11	48
Washington	4	1	10	*	1	13	29
New York	[illegible]	3	*	16	*	[illegible]	28
St. Louis	[illegible]	4	5	[illegible]	*	8	24
Chicago	6	[illegible]	*	*	*	6	16
Boston	4	*	11	*	*	*	15
Philadelphia	1	0	*	7	*	2	10
Detroit	1	0	*	*	*	8	9

*No game played.

RACING

COLLYER'S SELECTIONS

AT JAMAICA.

1—Conine, Ruddles, Caligula.
2—Regresso, Paddy Dear, King Agrippa.
3—Sir Lawrence, Le Gaulois, Locust Leaves.
4—Cleopatra, Cirrus, Royce Rools.
5—Idle Bell, Maiden's Ballet, Jesava.
6—Naturalist, Alphee, Daydue.

N. Y. JOURNAL SELECTIONS

1—Ruddles, Rep, Black Knight.
2—Paddy Dear, Regresso, King Agrippa.
3—Marie Antoinette, Round Robin, Sir Clarence.
4—Cleopatra, Cirrus, Mad Hatter.
5—Jean Marie, Maiden's Ballet, Clara Francis.
6—Naturalist, Fruitcake, Daydue.

CONSENSUS OF OPINION.

1—Ruddles, Conine, Jesava.
2—Paddy Dear, Regreso, King Agrippa.
3—Marie Antoinette, Round Robin, Locust Leaves.
4—Cirrus, Cleopatra, Royce Rools.
5—Idle Dell, Maidens' Ballet, Joan Marie.
6—Naturalist, Fair Cake, Cromwell.

AT LAUREL.

1—Harmonique, Voormir, Bon Homme.
2—Royal Arch, Skibbereen, Flare.
3—James, Austral, Court Fool.
4—Salmon Entry, Ross Entry, Valley of the Moon.
5—Bell Solar, Gnome, Sunnyland Entry.
6—Bally Mooney, Bolster, Siren Maid.
7—Paul Jones, St. Germain, Penrose.

AT LATONIA.

1—Lost Coin, Lady Luxury, Korbly.
2—Black Hock, Dan Jackson, Courtview.
3—Gourmand, Chief Brown, Captain Rees.
4—Behave Yourself, Camden Entry, Colonel Baker.
5—Flags, Jorlee, Destroyer.
6—Cotton Blossom, Goldblatt-Powers Entry, Best Pal.
7—Manager Waite, Lucky B. Cheer Leader.

CLEVELAND JOHNNY DOWNES BEATS VIERA

Brockton, Oct. 2.—Cleveland Johnny Downes defeated Tony Viera of New Bedford in the feature ten-round bout at the Proctor A. C. Mike Malia of South Boston beat Peter Gies of Brockton in the eight-round semi-final. Jack George of Brockton won the first preliminary from Harry Loring of Charlestown, while Joe Woods of Brockton was victorious over his fellow-townsman, Young Batiste, in the other.

YOUNG MONTREAL DEFEATS O'DONNELL

Providence, Oct. 2—Young Montreal of this city continued his winning streak at the National A. C., defeating K. O. Joe O'Donnell of Philadelphia in a twelve-round contest. Barring the fourth round, in which O'Donnell dropped the New England champion for a count of nine, the Providence bantam was out in front in every frame.

Roller Polo Results

Fall River 10, Bridgeport 1.
New Bedford 7, Hartford 3.

PLAY FINALS FOR LESLEY CUP

New York and Pennsylvania Teams Meet; Bay State Golfers Eliminated

By ROBERT E. HARLOW.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—New York and Pennsylvania played today for possession of the Lesley Cup, as the Massachusetts team was eliminated by the Metropolitan golfers by an 8 and 7 score over the Merion Cricket Club course.

Oswald Kirkby, the New York captain, put something over in the manner in which he lined up his team, and it certainly did aid New York in winning. When Ned Sawyer, rated number one on the New York team, because he is the Metropolitan champion, failed to show up, Kirkby ran Peter Harmon, the young Hudson River golfer, into first place on his team.

Kirkby's Action Is Criticized

This put Harmon up against Francis Ouimet in the singles and paired him with Cornelius Sullivan in the doubles against Ouimet and Jesse Guilford. The Ouimet-Guilford combination in the doubles and Ouimet in the singles were fast enough to have accounted for anything New York had, and Kirkby played it this way. He wasted his poorest ammunition on them and saved his other and better players for matches in which they had more chance to win.

There was some unfavorable comment, especially by W. C. Fownes, Jr., captain of the Pennsylvania team, who figured that in accordance with the spirit of the Lesley Cup program, New York should have played its team with its strongest men up top, as Massachusetts did. As it was, the thing settled down to the Fred Wright-Jesse Sweetser match, for these golfers faced the second extra tee with the series tied at seven each. Sweetser won the twentieth hole with a five to Wright's six.

Ouimet Shatters Course Record

Francis Ouimet simply walked away with the individual honors. He smeared the championship Merion course with a 68—34 out and 34 in. Only one putt was conceded and it was less than two feet. Ouimet hit every shot but one perfectly and recovered from the one miss, a hook to the rough at the sixteenth, with a good out and a chip which enabled him to get his par four. He did not take worse than par on any hole, and he cut the par figure twice. The summary:

SINGLES.

Francis Ouimet, Boston, beat Peter Harmon, New York, 7 and 5.
Jesse Sweetser, New York, beat Fred Wright, Boston, 1 up, 20 holes.
Jesse Guilford, Boston, beat Oswald Kirkby, New York, 5 and 4.
Thomas Claflin, Boston, beat Reginald Lewis, New York, 5 and 4.
Frank Dyer, New York, beat F. C. Newton, Boston, 4 and 3.
John Anderson, New York, beat Ray Gordon, Boston, 2 and 1.
A. F. Kammer, New York, beat Parker Schofield, Boston, 5 and 3.
W. C. Chick, Boston, beat A. L. Walker, New York, 1 up, 20 holes.
Rodney Brown, Boston, beat C. J. Sullivan, New York, 7 and 6.
Gardner White, New York, beat Parker Whittemore, Boston, 1 up, 21 holes.

FOURSOMES.

NEW YORK.

R. M. Lewis and O. Kirkby (6—4)	1
G. W. White and F. M. Dyer (2 up)	1
A. F. Kammer and A. L. Walker, Jr.	0
C. J. Sullivan and Peter Harmon	0
J. G. Anderson and Jesse Sweetser (3—1)	1
Totals	3

MASSACHUSETTS.

P. W. Whittemore and R. W. Brown	0
P. R. Gorton and F. C. Newton	0
T. M. Claflin and W. C. Chick (4—3)	1
F. Ouimet and J. P. Guilford (5—4)	1
F. J. Wright and P. Scofield	0
Totals	2

Archers to Shoot

The annual tournament and championship meeting of the Eastern Archery Association will be held on the Newton Centre Playground, on Monday, October 11, and Tuesday, October 12, 1920.

Everett Weakened by Loss of Stars

The Everett team, as it lined up against the Worcester team at Everett Field today, was a big disappointment to its supporters. With Sweetland and Hanson ineligible on account of studies, Winchester out with blood poison and others out, the Everett aggregation looked weak when the game was called.

The Waltham-Medford game at Waltham was by far the best schoolboy football attraction of the day. Coach Leary's Watch City team has made notable strides in the past few days and should put up a great battle with the Mansfield coached eleven, which, though lacking speed, is full of "pep" and never beaten before the final whistle blows.

Three North Shore Teams in Action

Three North Shore teams were in action, Swampscott opening its season at home with Cambridge Latin. There was a large turnout of enthusiasts, who were anxious to see how the former team shaped up under the tutelage of Coach White, successor to Cuddy, the man who put Swampscott on the football map.

The other games were between Revere and Peabody and Lynn Classical and Peabody High.

Other games today:

Noble and Greenough vs. Middlesex, at Concord.
Country Day vs. Newton High 2d, at Newton. (A. M.)
Roxbury Latin vs. St. George's, at Newport.
Milton Academy vs. Hyde Park High, at Milton.
Groton vs. Boston Latin, at Groton.
Exeter vs. Harvard 2d, at Exeter.
Andover vs. Cushing, at Andover.
Worcester Academy vs. Springfield Training 2d, at Worcester.
Dean Academy vs. New Bedford Textile, at Franklin.
Lowell Textile vs. Tufts 1924, at Lowell.
Brookline High vs. Winthrop High, at Winthrop.
Malden High vs. Fitchburg High, at Fitchburg.
Dorchester High vs. Salem High, at Salem.
B. C. High vs. St. James High, at Haverhill.
Peabody High vs. Revere High, at Peabody.
Marblehead High vs. Gloucester High, at Gloucester.

Schebler Carburetors
FOR FORD CARS
W. J. CONNELL COMPANY
574 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

SECRET MEXICAN TREATY BARED

Count Reventlow Claims U. S., Britain and France Signed Away People's Rights

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND,
Boston American Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—That the United States, that is, President Wilson, entered into a secret agreement with Great Britain and France in the spring of 1917 in regard to Mexico, is the statement made by Count Reventlow in his new weekly, Der Reichswart, or the guardian of the realm, the first number of which has just appeared.

Without giving the source of the alleged information the count gives what purports to be a general outline of the secret document. He says:

TERMS OF SECRET TREATY.

"Great Britain and France renew their express recognition of the Monroe Doctrine. Great Britain assures the United States in advance of her consent if America acquires Mexican territory. Great Britain obligates herself to act jointly with the United States to hinder the Japanese from acquiring a foothold in Central or South America or in the Pacific Ocean.

"The United States on her part obligates herself to give Great Britain assistance against Japanese expansion in the Far East where such a policy of Japan is against British interest. In case of war between Japan and the United States, Great Britain obligates herself not to support the Japanese with arms or financially. The United States reciprocally obligates herself in event of a war between Great Britain and Japan.

U. S. PARAMOUNT IN MEXICO.

"Great Britain and France expressly recognize the interests of the United States in Mexico as 'paramount.' Both obligate themselves to the position that all claims of their citizens of whatever nature against Mexico be referred to the United States. The latter, on her part, obligates herself to force a collection of the British and French claims.

"Great Britain and France agree not to grant any loans in the future of whatever kind to Mexico and not to admit any Mexican stocks or securities to the London or Paris markets except with the approval of the United States.

"Both European powers concede the United States control of Mexican finances and further agree the United States may insist that Mexico grant her preferential tariffs. Without the consent of the United States Mexico may give no grants or concessions to foreign nations. The British and French governments will do everything possible to restrain their citizens from trying to acquire concessions in Mexico.

"Control of the Mexican Thuaculay (word garbled) railway is conceded to the United States. All three powers are in agreement to hinder the resumption of German trade with Mexico, Central and South America after the war. Mexico may not buy or import arms, the importation of arms to be prevented by the United States and the two other signatory powers after the war."

Count Reventlow comments at length on the various paragraphs of the alleged agreement, giving the impression that there is no doubt about its existence.

"When the American people went into the war in 1917," he said, "it (presumably the United States) was uprightly convinced that such steps were necessary for the right of freedom, humanity and the inviolability of treaties as the keys on the British propaganda were called. In the meantime many illusions may have been dissipated in the United States."

Concluding, the Count commented: "This agreement of these three powers in regard to Mexico is a glorious monument to the methods by which the peoples are betrayed, in this case above all others the peoples of the United States and Mexico, each after their manner."

JAP DELEGATES TO PUT CASE BEFORE U. S. PUBLIC

By Universal Service.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—One of the most important meetings in the history of the Japan-American Association has just been held here. The meeting considered the advisability of recommending that Baron E. Shibusawa and Viscount Kaneko or two other prominent Japanese go to America and put the case of Japan directly before the people.

The Japanese representatives will visit former President Taft and discuss the Japanese situation upon their arrival. There is an evident anti-American feeling here.

---

3 AUTOISTS BADLY HURT WHEN BEE STINGS DRIVER

Lawrence, Oct. 2.—A bee sting was responsible for an accident which injured four local autoists who were on their way home from the White Mountains. Daniel Regan was at the wheel of the car and lost control when a bee stung him. The car crashed into a tree and the occupants were thrown into the roadway. Mrs. C. J. Mahoney, her sister, Miss Agnes Regan and Miss Mary Cahill are at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, suffering from severe injuries.

DIVORCE PROMISED TO ANNA MARTIN, ACTRESS

New York, Oct. 2.—Anna Martin, motion picture actress arrived in New York today aboard the Twentieth Century Limited. She was smiling and happy because Judge Scanlan of the Chicago courts had promised he would grant her a divorce from Joseph J. Martin, automobile magnate on the grounds of desertion. Miss Martin recently starred in "Cinderilla of the Mountains."

Cuticura Soap
—The Safety Razor—
Shaving Soap
Cuticura Soap shaves without mug. Everywhere 25c

Baby Coughs
require treatment with a remedy that contains no opiates. Piso's is mild but effective; pleasant to take. Ask your druggist for PISO'S

AT YOUR SERVICE

The success of a store is measured in no small degree, by the service it gives.

We pride ourselves on the completeness and well-known excellence of our service. It comprises:

OUR Free Delivery to all parts of Greater Boston.

OUR Telephone and Mail Order System, which affords you quick and intelligent shopping when unable to reach the store in person.

OUR Charge Account privilege enjoyed by so many thousands of patrons.

OUR Elevator Service to and from our Basement Store.

OUR 60 departments each carrying a comprehensive stock of staple goods at all seasons.

OUR Three Great Bargain Aisles where daily are offered special lots of tempting values in everyday needs.

OUR Special Sales featured—timely underpriced lots from manufacturers and wholesalers—surplus stocks from specialty houses and other important sales of stocks from stores that are discontinuing business.

Unbleached Sheets
Size 50x88, a good grade, for single beds, cots, bunks, etc. Made for the U. S. Shipping Board 89c

Jordan Marsh Company
Great Basement Store
The Famous Store Within a Store
For the Sale of the Less Expensive Merchandise

Bleached Pillow Cases
Size 45x36, finished with 2-inch hem. Standard quality—free from sizing. Made for U. S. Shipping Board 39c

HELPING OUR PATRONS TO PRACTICE ECONOMY
A Special List of Excellent Values in Trustworthy Fall Merchandise of the Less Expensive Grades
LEARN to SAVE MONEY by SPENDING IT JUDICIOUSLY

Women's Gloves

White Glace Gloves, elbow length, special at	4.39
Capeskin Gloves, 8-in., beaver shades	3.25
French Lambskin Gloves, 2-clasp, black, white, gray and brown	2.25
Long Chamoisette Gloves, slight seconds	1.25
Duplex Gloves, strap wrist, in gray, beaver and white	1.25

Sample Line of Untrimmed Hats
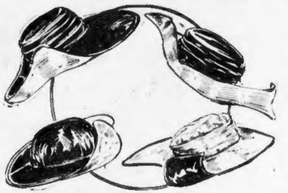
5.49



These smart untrimmed hats are in Lyons and Panne velvet with duvetyn combinations. Black and colors, also black with colored facings. They're all hand blocked, mostly with French edges. Good variety of the season's best shapes.

SPECIAL LOT OF Sample Sweaters
For Women and Misses

Sample Sweaters, for women and misses. Shetland wool, in coat and slip-on models	3.98
Children's Wool Coat Sweaters, collar and pockets. Good colors, sizes 6 to 10 yrs.	1.98
Children's Pure Wool Sweaters, sailor collar and pockets; colors include brown, tan, peacock and navy. Sizes 6 to 14 years	5.00

Women's Beautiful Fall
Dresses at 25.00
of Mignonettes, Satins, Tricotines and Serges

One glance at these dresses and you'll quickly realize that they're away above the ordinary dresses sold at anywhere near this price. In the lot are tailored serges and tricotine, smart dressy satins and mignonettes, fashioned in the redingote modes, panel effects and the popular tunic and straight line styles. Good workmanship and fine materials make the dresses a big value at 25.00.

Serge Dresses, in a good selection of tailored models, many of which are braid trimmed.... 14.98

Style and Moderate Price in Women's New Fall Tailored SUITS
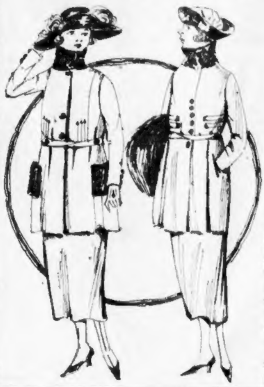
29.50



Several stunning new up-to-date models, in the ripple coat style and the graceful long straight lines. Materials are Oxford, Silvertone, Velours, Broadcloth, Tricotine, Tinseltone and heavy materials. Fur trimmed, belted models, high waisted effects and the popular plain tailored styles. All are splendid values.

Tweed Sport Suits, very stylish, with patch pockets and belted 18.50

A Very Timely Purchase of Fine Silk
Petticoats
Big Value 3.79 Several Styles

This is a petticoat bargain you don't hear about EVERY day. Included are All Silk Jersey Petticoats, some with Dresden silk border; also Taffeta Silk Petticoats, some with silk jersey body. Choice of the season's newest colors.

Another Lot of Those Excellent
Women's Aprons at 1.00
That created such favorable comment and spirited selling here last week. Bungalow and slip-on styles in a splendid assortment of pleasing patterns. By all means, don't fail to get one or two of these aprons.

Women Will Not Hesitate When They See This Big Value Figured Blanket
Bath Robes
4.95

We don't hesitate to say that this is one of the best bath robes we have seen in a long while to sell at this low price. Splendid assortment of colors and patterns. Made with sailor collar, patch pocket, turnback cuffs and all silk ribbon trimmed. An Ideal garment for the chilly mornings.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY
GREAT BASEMENT STORE

Just Received This Lot of Women's Beautiful Silk
Over-Blouses
in Charming Georgettes
Fashionable Tricolettes and the Popular Satins
5.50

These charming new blouses come in attractive suit shades.

Georgette Waists, great variety of styles, in long or short sleeves, many with real filet lace	3.98
Georgette Waists, in fancy styles and dainty shade	7.50
Voile Waists, in fancy styles, trimmed with venice lace	2.98
Voile Waists, excellent assortment, long sleeves, some high necks	1.98
Middy Blouses, all white and white with colored collars	1.98 to 2.98

STRIPED Outing Flannel
ONE YARD WIDE
AT 39c YD.
Heavy quality, well fleeced cloth, in excellent range of stripes. Suitable for pajamas, night gowns and children's wear. Exceptional value.

Smart Fall Styles in Women's Coats
at our well-known less expensive prices

Polo Mixture Coats
at 25.00
These are very attractive, loose-back models, belted all around, and large convertible collar. Assorted colors. An excellent value.

Fine Velour Coats
at 35.00
These are full silk lined coats, in a smart belted, straight-line effect, suitable for any figure. Sure to please even the most fastidious.

Smart Fall Skirts
at 5.95
Made of all-wool silvertone, in attractive models; ideal for general wear. Extra good value at this price.

New Plaid Skirts
at 16.50
Real dressy skirts; in a generous variety of the popular pleated plaid effects. Beautiful skirts at a moderate price.

The Stage

by F. J. McISAAC

JOHN GORDON SOMERVILLE

BILLY WATSON WALDRON'S CASINO

RENA PARKER IN "BETTY BE GOOD" ARLINGTON

ELEANOR PAINTER IN "FLORODORA" BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

MARTHA HEDMAN IN "TRANSPLANTING JEAN" HOLLIS

GRACE VALENTINE IN "THE CAVE GIRL" GLOBE

JULIA SANDERSON IN "HITCHY-KOO" COLONIAL.

MR. AND MRS. COBURN IN "FRENCH LEAVE" PLYMOUTH

MYRTLE TANNAHILL IN "THE BROKEN WING" PARK SQ.

VIVIAN LAWRENCE GAYETY

FAY BAINTER IN "EAST IS WEST" SHUBERT

DOROTHY LA VOIR IN "IRENE" WILBUR

MARY MILBURN IN "THE GIRL IN THE SPOTLIGHT," TREMONT

Motion Pictures

SCENE FROM "GO AND GET IT" TREMONT TEMPLE

ETHEL CLAYTON IN "THE CITY SPARROW" LOEW'S ORPHEUM

© Evans, L. A.

LILLIAN GISH IN "WAY DOWN EAST" MAJESTIC

SCENE FROM "THE ADORABLE SAVAGE" PARK

MANY CHANGES AT BOSTON THEATRES

The Parisian farce with its delicated naughtiness, its double entendre, its finesse and its ingenuity has been quite elbowed off our stage for several seasons past by the blunt, blatant and downright indecent bedroom farces of American manufacture.

Most of these farces would shock the Parisians, by the way.

Therefore I am rather looking forward to "Transplanting Jean," a typical Parisian farce, said to have been literally translated, and under the title of "Papa" one of the biggest hits in recent years at the Theatre Gymnace in Paris.

Arthur Byron and Martha Hedman were the principal actors in the Belasco production of "The Boomerang," one of the brightest and best acted American farces in years. They have been promoted to joint stardom in "Transplanting Jean" which comes to the Hollis Monday.

Tell Me, Pretty Maiden.

It doesn't seem twenty years since everybody was humming "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden, Are There Any More at Home Like You?" but old Father Time says yes.

Don't you remember how neat an introductory remark that phrase supplied the host of vapid mashers, and how it was dinned into our ears by barrel organs and German bands, the latter gone never to return?

The Shuberts revived "Floradora" last year in New York with great success. They secured a cast which outshone the originals for talent and beauty, but if the new sextet ever gains the fame of the originals it will be remarkable. The first six girls in the old "Floradora" were Mary Wilson, Agnes Wayburn, Marjorie Relyea, Vaughn Texsmith, Daisy Green and Margaret Walker. Most of these were quickly married to multi-millionaires, and many of their successors during the year or two the piece ran in this country shared an equally happy fate.

"Floradora" inaugurates the regular season of the Boston Opera with the New York company. Eleanor Painter heads the cast. The new sextet are Dorothy Landers, Leone Riddell, Donna Mobley, Rena Manning, Frances Halliday and Mary Wood. It is said the Shuberts have a clause in the contracts of these girls preventing them from marrying until the run of the piece is over.

Hotel Arrivals Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, New York.

No players before the public today have done more to uphold the best traditions of the stage and make known the classics than Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, the distinguished stars who will be offered by Marc Klaw, Inc., in "French Leave," a new light comedy by Reginald Berkeley, at the Plymouth Theatre Monday night.

Though they are past masters of modern comedy, as was evidenced by their success in "The Better 'Ole," they are equally at home in the serious plays of Shakespeare and the old Greek masters. They have appeared in five tragedies, nine comedies and two historical plays all by the Bard of Avon; the "Electra," "Iphigenia" and "Alcestes," of Euripides; the exquisite play, "The Yellow Jacket," pronounced the most poetic our stage had produced, and Bairnsfather's "The Better 'Ole." Surely a worthy record.

New York Vamp in Town

Romping around in the role of the vampire in "Betty, Be Good," a part played here last season by Vera Michelena and Josephine Whittel, and coming Monday to the Arlington, is Rena Parker, a peppery little prima donna who has already a remarkable record for putting over big parts.

Miss Parker made a big personal hit here two seasons ago in "Flo Flo." After a brief career in vaudeville she broke into musical comedy by succeeding Adele Rowland in "Nobody Home." Next she followed Emmy Whalen in "Tonight's the Night," and she spent a couple of seasons in the title role of "Flo Flo." Last year she sang the prima donna role in "Apple Blossoms," the Kreisler operetta which has not yet reached Boston. Getting Miss Parker was a coup for "Betty, Be Good."

The score of this piece, by the way, was composed by Hugo Reisenfeld, director of the Rivoli and Rialto Theatres in New York, the most famous picture palaces in this country.

Here's a Trade, Ming Toy.

Twice I have interviewed Fay Bainter. The first time she rhapsodized over Maud Adams, the second time she raved about Lillian Gish in "Way Down East." She used the personal pronoun "I" fewer times than any actress of our acquaintance. It's nice to meet a performer whose ego is of normal dimensions, and in Miss Bainter's case it is apparently quite diminutive. I have no doubt that it is her ability to recognize talent in others and to study their work, which has enabled this young woman to shoot into prominence in such exacting roles as Ming Toy in "East Is West."

The Greeks Were Right.

It may be that the managers are being commercial in refusing to produce dramas which break the audience's hearts, and prefer to confine their output to comedies, farces and musical shows, but I, for one, am grateful. I hate to be harrowed and worried and grief-stricken at a place of entertainment. People should confine their weeping to their own home, especially women in these days of non-waterproof complexions.

The old Athenians had the right idea, and you want to remember that Athens was the most cultured city the world ever knew. Our ancient friend, George V. Herodotus, relates that a playwright named Phrynichus composed a drama of the Capture of Miletus. So heartrending was the drama that the entire audience burst into tears and sobbed continuously as the masterpiece continued.

Accordingly, the authorities of Athens fined the dramatist one thousand drachmas, a lot of money in those days, for making the people feel so bad and they forbade the play to ever be performed again.

A Couple of Experienced Authors

Though George Middleton and Guy Bolton, the authors of "The Cave Girl," the new comedy now at the Globe Theatre are both young men, they have had long experience in the theatre. In addition to their "Polly With a Past," in which Ina Claire starred two seasons, "Hit the Trail Holliday" (in collaboration with George M. Cohan) and "The Light of the World," they were also responsible for "Adam and Eva," a piece that was the outstanding comedy hit of the past New York theatrical season.

Guy Bolton, after having made a reputation as a short story writer, turned to the stage and his first play was "The Rule of Three" produced at the Harris Theatre. Then followed a serious drama, "The Fallen Idol." At the same time he dramatized "The Sea Wolf." Devoting his attention to comic opera, in which he created a new genre, he has already to his credit a record which will soon equal Harry B. Smith's. "Ninety in the Shade" was the first. It was quickly followed by the phenomenally successful "Nobody Home" and the three Princess productions "Oh, Boy," "Oh, Lady! Lady!" and "Oh, My Dear." In addition there is "Have a Heart," "See You Later," "Miss Springtime" and "The Rose of China." In collaboration with Frank Mandel he wrote "The Five Million," produced in New York at the beginning of the past season, and going it alone, has recently turned out a new comedy-drama entitled "Wild Cherry," in which Ruth Shepley will be featured.

The first production after leaving college in which George Middleton was identified was "The Cavalier," in which Julia Marlowe appeared. Margaret Anglin then did a serious drama which was followed by "The Sinner" in which Robert Edeson was starred. He has also to his credit many dramatizations including "The House of a Thousand Candles" (which had over 2,500 performances and after ten years is still a great favorite in stock), "The Prodigal Judge," "Barriers Burned Away" and "Rosaline at Red Gate."

Didn't Use Children.

Mary Milburn, the little prima donna of "The Girl in the Spotlight," which is now playing at the Tremont, aims to become a grand opera prima donna. In spite of her youth, for Mary is but little past twenty, she has already mastered Italian, French and German, is proficient in roles of five operas in these languages, and her first attempt to appear in public was made at the Metropolitan Opera House.

She applied for a place in the chorus of that organization, but was told by the management that they did not use children. Now Mary says she will stick to the lighter musical work until she matures a little and then she will undertake the higher musical art and maybe will be able to get a hearing.

Miss Milburn—that's her stage name, of course, for her Christian name is McKirvey and her father is a retired captain of police of the Metropolitan force—was educated for a school teacher, that being her parents' ambition for her.

She finally overcame their choice for her and then she was coached to be a pianist. Her mother and father had no faith in her claims that she had a voice that with cultivation would win her fame. In fact, they did all they could to discourage her, but in spite of their objections she went right along, paying for her lessons by working at a typewriting machine until the chance came for her to join the chorus of "Furs and Frills," from which date she has climbed the theatrical ladder with leaps and bounds, and now is recognized as one of the most promising musical comedy prima donnas in this country.

Turned Down "Irene."

Who wouldn't like to have money invested in "Irene," the musical comedy sensation today in Boston, New York, London, Cape Town and Melbourne? It is estimated that the ten weeks' engagement at the Wilbur Theatre, ending October 16, will show gross receipts amounting to $200,000. In New York the show has been selling out at the Vanderbilt Theatre ever since last November. Anyone with a good share in "Irene" will reap a fortune.

But who would have foreseen this a year ago?

It was then that a well-known producer was approached on the subject. He was thoroughly familiar with the history of the comedy brought out a few years ago under the name of "Irene O'Dare." He knew it had the makings of a first-rate libretto and he knew that two other comedies by the same author, James Montgomery, had been successfully set to music under the titles of "Going Up" and "Oh Look!"

But in spite of all this he declined the offer, so he threw away a chance to make hundreds of thousands of dollars out of an investment that would not have cost him more than ten or twenty thousand.

The showman in question is brilliant, enterprising, enormously rich. He guessed wrong—that is all.

Remarkable to relate, he made a similar guess some years ago when Laurette Taylor took the manuscript of "Peg o' My Heart" to him. He rejected that offer too, and "Peg" made a fortune for Oliver Morosco and another for J. Hartley Manners.

But if showmen could always guess right they would never go broke.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

"Transplanting Jean," a gay and sparkling comedy, will come to the Hollis Street Theatre beginning Monday, October 4. Arthur Byron and Martha Hedman will appear as co-stars in this comedy triumph by de Flers and de Cavaillet, master craftsmen of the French stage.

Arthur Byron has the role of Le Comte de Larzac, a middle-aged Don Juan, who finds at the age of forty-two that he has exhausted most of the pleasurable sensations that life has to offer. He determines henceforth to cultivate the simpler emotions, and he remembers that he has a natural son whom he has not seen for twenty years. The boy has been reared on a farm in Spain at the foothills of the Pyrenees. How sire and son come together in Paris is all piquantly set forth in true Gallic fashion and with a prodigality of French wit.

In the support of Mr. Byron and Miss Hed will be such accomplished players as Richard Barbee, Forrest Robinson, George Graham, Kathryn Keys, Winifred Anglin, Hallem Thompson, Katharine Standing, Evelyn Charé, Olga Lee, Albert Marsh, George Gaston and Jess Sidney.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE

"French Leave," in which Mr. and Mrs. Coburn will be presented by Marc Klaw, Inc., at the Plymouth Theatre on Monday, was secured by Marc Klaw during his recent tour of Europe as a worthy vehicle in which the well-known stars could duplicate their success in "The Better 'Ole."

"French Leave," a new comedy by Reginald Berkely, which is the comedy hit of the present season in London, is a merry story of the complications which are engendered by the desire of a lonely bride to join her husband, who has been called by duty to a location from which women are barred. She effects a disguise and makes her appearance in the forbidden zone to the consternation of her husband and the delight of all others in her vicinity.

This comedy has been running in London at the Globe Theatre for the past six months, and has been acclaimed the comedy hit of the present season in the British capital.

A well-known cast of Broadway players will be prominently noted in the support of the Coburns. Those mentioned are Alexander Onslow, Dallas Welford, Noel Tearle, Harry McNaughton, Arthur Klein and Helen Tilden.

WALDRON'S CASINO

"Hits and Bits" is the name of the new and lively, uproariously funny entertainment of burlesque which Arthur Pearson will present at Waldron's Casino all next week. What is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and it is this firm determination to put on a better burlesque which has stamped Pearson's newest offering as advanced in every sense of the stage term.

In the first place, much attention has been devoted to the cast of players. "Sliding" Billy Watson, the best known comedian of the Columbia circuit, for many seasons at the head of his own shows, is the bright particular star of the "Hits and Bits" organization for laughing purposes. His famous slide will again be introduced. The Charles Ahearn troupe of uproariously funny trick comedians of the tall and midget type will also be present. The burlesque jazz band and travesty on Egyptian dancing are some of their new stunts. Margie Coate, the leading singing comedienne of the Columbia circuit; Morris and Harte, refined comedy, singing and dancing team; Jay C. Flippin, an unequalled black face comedian, and among the many others Edna Knowles, all go to make up one of the best casts of burlesque players ever assembled. And there is an untiring chorus of beauties with "Hits and Bits." The Sunday entertainments are continuous from 4 to 10:30 o'clock.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Beginning Monday night the Boston Opera House will stage an attraction that is possibly the most famous in the history of musical comedy. This is none other than "Florodora" which twenty years ago made all America sing its praises. But in this stupendous revival of "Florodora" the crowning masterpiece of the Messrs. Shubert's career as America's foremost producers the showgirl comes into her own again. The successes of the former "Pretty Maiden Sextette" who contribute so much to the success of this charming play of modern revival are again the possessors of that happy combination of talent, voice and good looks. The golden voiced Eleanor Painter heads the list as the vivacious Dolores. While giving her adequate support are such notables of the stage as William Danforth, Robert Pitkin, Walter Woolf, Harry Fender, Maxine Brown, Israel Rodriquez, Nace Bonville, Frances Halliday and Dama Sykes.

GAYETY THEATRE

A carnival of beauty and a continuous chain of merriment puts a gilt edge touch to the offering of "The Girls from Happyland," the latest and greatest of all extravaganzas, with their appearance at the Gayety Theatre, starting Monday matinee. The decorative part in "The Girls from Happyland" bears witness to the skill of prominent scenic artists, and its unique and brilliant illumination emanates from the electrical department of one of New York's greatest mechanics.

McISAAC says that

"IRENE," the melodious operetta at the Wilbur, has only a fortnight longer to remain in Boston. Its success during the past two months has been phenomenal.

"THE BROKEN WING," a really novel play, dealing with Mexico in a humorous way, remains only a week longer at the Park Square.

"HITCHY-KOO, 1920," has only a little while longer to repose at the Colonial, with its trio of stars, Hitchcock, Julia Sanderson and Huntley.

"THE GIRL IN THE SPOTLIGHT," the latest Victor Herbert operetta, seems to be charming the folks who have been attending the Tremont.

"EAST IS WEST," the fantastic and exotic comedy at the Shubert, with Fay Bainter as its star, is settling down to a well-deserved run.

"THE CAVE GIRL," with Grace Valentine in the title role, is an amusing and well-played comedy at the Globe.

"WAY DOWN EAST," one of the greatest of all films, continues its run at the Majestic. It bears the imprint of the great Griffith.

MALDEN AUDITORIUM

The week's attraction at the Malden Auditorium will be the Temple Stock Company in "When We Were Twenty-One," H. V. Esmond's comedy, which was the most popular attraction presented by Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott. It is a comedy rich in characterization and incident, and its story of the big-hearted middle aged bachelor who fathers the son of a former sweetheart and shelters the wife and daughter of a deceased friend with the purpose of matching the boy and the girl is particularly entertaining.

SOMERVILLE THEATRE

Possibly no other play has caught the fancy of the American theatre-going public with such a tenacious hold as Anthony Paul Kelly's "Three Faces East," which will be given its first stock production anywhere in New England at the Somerville Theatre the coming week. "Three Faces East" is a mystery play replete with tense moments and thrilling experiences.

"BETTY BE GOOD"

"Betty Be Good," the musical comedy nugget which broke all records during its long run at the Casino Theatre, New York, and which delighted thousands of theatre-goers during its eight weeks' engagement last year at the Shubert Wilbur Theatre will play a return engagement of two weeks only at the Arlington Theatre, starting Monday night.

The book and lyrics are by the fertile-minded and prolific Harry B. Smith, author of "Robin Hood," and "The Serenaders." Ravishing Rena Parker, late prima-donna of "Flo Flo" and "Apple Blossoms," will be found in the leading role, assisted by fat and funny Eddie Garvie, Russell Lennon, Otis Sheridan, Jean Merode, Jeannette Wilson and other great Manhattan favorites and gorgeous original production. The same dazzling, dainty, dancing chorus darlings will also be seen.

"CINDERELLA ON BROADWAY"

The Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert announce that they will present at the Boston Opera House for two weeks only, beginning Monday, October 18, their latest New York Winter Garden production, "Cinderella on Broadway."

Marie Dressler, now in a Winter Garden production for the first time, heads the company of 150 people, which includes such popular entertainers as Georgie Price, John T. Murray, Stewart Baird, Brendel and Burt, Jessica Brown, Eileen Van Biene, Marvon Vadie, Llora Hoffman, Walter Brower, Al Sexton, Olga Cook, The Glorias, Ernest F. Young, Joe Neimeyer, Renee Delting and Constantin Kobeleff. The chorus numbers 100 girls.

"JIMMY HUSSEY'S REVUE"

A new comet from the sky, in the person of Jimmy Hussey, for years a headliner in vaudeville, will head his own production, styled "Jimmy Hussey's Review," and begin an indefinite engagement in this city at the Globe Theatre on Monday evening, October 11. The revue is said to be the speed limit of musical comedy, being a whirlwind of laughter, melodies, dances and pretty girls.

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES

When "Ziegfeld Follies" comes to the Colonial Theatre on October 18 for a four weeks' engagement the cast will include Fanny Brice, Bernard Granville, John Steel, Mary Eaton, Van and Schenck, W. C. Fields, Carl Randall, Jack Donohue, Ray Dooley, DeLyle Alda, Jerome and Herbert, Moran and Mack, Addison Young, Helen Shea, Margaret Irving, Jessie Reed and many others.

FRANCES WHITE COMING

Frances White, the diminutive and chic comedienne, who can play baby parts as well as grown up ones, and who as an actress not only has a unique personality, but also extraordinary ability, is announced to appear as the star of Arthur Hammerstein's new music comedy, "Jimmie," which, with Ben Welch and a pre-eminent supporting cast, will concentrate local attention at the Park Square Theatre for an indefinite engagement beginning October 11.

FIRST SYMPHONY PROGRAM

The program is now announced for the opening concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra which will take place next Friday and Saturday under the conductorship of Pierre Monteux. Rehearsals for this first pair of concerts began yesterday morning, Richard Burgin arriving in time to be in his place after his long voyage from Eastern Europe, in which part of the world he is considered, by a long count, the greatest concert master.

The opening program will comprise Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, the so-called "Little Symphony"; a fantasie for orchestra, by the French composer, Guillaume Lekeu; Franck's Prelude, Chorale and Fugue, recently orchestrated by Gabriel Pierne, and, finally, Liszt's brilliant symphonic poem, "Tasso."

Of Polish parentage, Mr. Burgin is also a native of Warsaw. Although his training has taken place largely in Russia, some part of his career has been confined by chaotic conditions in the East of Russia, Finland and Scandinavia.

FRANCES WHITE IN "JIMMIE"

Supported by a company which includes many Broadway favorites and a typical Hammerstein chorus, Frances White comes to Selwyn's Park Square Theatre on Monday evening, October 11, for an indefinite engagement as star of Arthur Hammerstein's supreme bid, "Jimmie."

"THE SON DAUGHTER"

At the Tremont Theatre, beginning Monday, October 18, David Belasco will present "The Son Daughter," in which Lenore Ulric is the star. Miss Ulric won for herself a place of eminence as an actress by her splendid work in "Tiger Rose."

"AS YOU WERE"

The attraction at the Wilbur Theatre to follow the long run of "Irene," on Monday, October 18, will be the fantastique musical revue, "As You Were," with Irene Bordoni.

NEW SUNDAY SERIES

It will interest many lovers of good music to hear that the Steinert Company is extending its well known series of concerts into Boston. For many years Mr. Albert Steinert, the company's president, has given series of concerts at popular prices by the best known artists of the day in Providence, Worcester, Springfield, Bridgeport and New Haven, and he has now decided to offer to the Boston public the same privilege.

The six concerts are to be given at the Boston Opera House on Sunday afternoons at 3:15 o'clock. Leading off with the first concert on December 19th is Miss Mary Garden.

On January 9th Jan Kubelik, the celebrated violinist, and Miss Gladys Axman, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

On January 16th by Mme. Frances Alda, soprano prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Mr. Charles Hackett, tenor of the same opera company, in a joint recital.

On January 23d Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, leading contralto of the Metropolitan, in a song recital, and Alfred Cortot, the eminent French pianist, in a piano recital.

On Sunday afternoon, March 27th, Miss Rosa Ponselle, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera and Mr. Raoul Vidas, Rumanian violinist of renown.

On an afternoon in February, Mme. Rosa Raisa, leading dramatic soprano, and Sig. Giacomo Rimini, leading tenor, both of the Chicago Opera Company.

PARK THEATRE

Two of the Universal super productions will be presented at the Park Theatre this week, the feature of which is "Under Crimson Skies," an original story by J. G. Hawkes, reminiscent of the virile tales of the sea by Jack London and Robert Louis Stevenson. It tells the story of Yank Barstow, master of the Southern Cross, who is sailing to a South American port with a cargo of pianos. Clayton, owner of the cargo, and his wife and baby daughter are the only passengers aboard. Clayton is in reality a gun runner, taking a shipment of rifles and ammunition to be used in a rebellion, and the firearms are stored in the piano cases. The second mate and part of his crew is in his employ.

How the revolution starts, and how Barstow and his gang of beachcombers come to the aid of the besieged Americans at the consulate and how he regains his liberty and reputation are told in a series of intensely interesting scenes.

The other feature is a romance of the South Sea Islands, featuring Edith Roberts as a young Fiji islander.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM

There will be presented, as is the popular custom, the usual high class vaudeville, feature photoplays, the latest comedy and news pictorial. The vaudeville will present an all-star show that includes such talented artists as Clifton and Sparton, an unusually clever pair, in a series of difficult balancing feats; Ector and Dena, character exponents of music and harmony; Harry Thorne and company, in the quaint comedy playlet, "Under One Roof"; Conroy and O'Donnell, the parcel postmen in mail carriers of humor, and Kermiss and company in a spectacular offering of magic and illusion. The topline photoplay will be Douglas McLean in the initial Boston screening of his newest release, "The Jailbird."

TREMONT TEMPLE

There remains but the coming six days of the engagement of the Marshall Neilan photoplay production, "Go aand Get It," at Tremont Temple. This drama of newspaper life is a succession of thrills that follow each over with a charming love romance oved with a charming love romance and leavened with humor to make more perfect the whole.

GORDON'S OLD SOUTH

Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind" will be the attraction at Gordon's Old South Theatre beginning Monday. This is the first of a new series of Barrymore photoplays to be presented by the Associated First National.

GORDON'S SCOLLAY SQUARE OLYMPIA

Heading a wonderful bill of vaudeville next week at Gordon's Scollay Square Olympia is the Eight Black Dots, four men and four women, in a singing and dancing offering entitled "Celebrating a Day in Tennessee."

MRS. BELMONT IN GRIFFITH FILM

Mrs. Morgan Belmont of New Yo and Newport, the first American s ciety woman to appear in moti pictures, will be seen in D. W. Gr fith's production of "Way Dov East," now at the Majestic Theatre

When Mr. Griffith was casting t society scenes for "Way Down Eas Mrs. Belmont was one of eleven me bers of the social set who applied f an engagement. Her personality w considered most suitable to the rol

She is the daughter of Mr. a Mrs. Paul Andrews, well known Newport and New York society. H marriage to Morgan Belmont, son August Belmont, was one of the br lliant events of the Newport seas in 1915.

In "Way Down East" Mrs. Belmo with several hundred others will a pear in exclusive gowns especia created for the scene by Lady D Gordon ("Lucile").

A Night in Jail.

Douglas MacLean, who is starr in the Paramount picture, "The Ja bird," which will be shown the fi tial half of the week at Loew Ohpheum Theatre, didn't have make any special trips to the pen tentiaries for local color becau sh-h-h-h! he has been a real jailbi himself, and has done time behi prison bars.

Don't get the impression that he a criminal on that account. A ce tain town not far from Doug's hom has a solid little jail, an efficient p lice force, a calloused old judge, a strict speed laws. Heading for hom from a week-end house party o Sunday evening, and in a hurry to g there, Doug stepped on the ga whizzed through the town, shatter all the speed laws, stirred up all the police force (two) and was pick up by a motorcycle cop (one-half the police force), who ordered hi back to town and the judge.

Doug's speed was twice what th law allowed, the judge's remar were extremely caustic, and the b demanded was $100. Dough didn have that amount of cash with hi his friends were miles away, and check was of no use. Efforts to rai friends on the telephone proved no avail—so nothing was left Doug but a night in the town j behind the iron bars—and having ha no previous experience of that so he didn't sleep much. Morni brought relief, or release is better at the expense of $50.

Butted in on Revolution

One of the countless revolutio that are always springing into fla from the smoldering embers of Lati American patriotism, is depict graphically in "Under Crimson Skie which is coming to the Park Theat all next week.

Elmo Lincoln is the star of t production, which was directed Universal City by Rex Ingram. T film story concerns the captain of ship who discovers that his vessel being used to smuggle arms and an munition to points below the equato

To add realism to the photodram Ingram summoned to Universal Ci 500 Mexicans who, at one time another, had served as soldiers one of the revolutionary factions

So bitter was the national feeli among these men that a miniatu revolution broke out at the world film capital in the course of produ tion.

As the camera recorded the dra matic work of the principal playe the photoplay revolutionists we supposed to wage a pitched battle i the streets of the Latin-America city erected at the studio for th purpose.

"That's great," shouted Ingram "keep it up."

The fight was terrific. Becaus blank cartridges are not always effi cacious in such matters, the belliger ents waved their rifles like clubs an built up a splendid casualty list five minutes.

Thinking that the battle had got too far Ingram dashed in to separat the men. He was rewarded by a blo over the ear from the butt of a mus ket and a blow over the other ea with the flat side of a sabre. It wa only after the scene had been re corded that Ingram learned that dispute had arisen between the vet erans of many revolutions and the were actually staging a revolution o their own.

CRESCENT GARDENS DRAW DANCE LOVERS

The popular Crescent Gardens Ball Room at Revere Beach continues to be as usual the mecca for dance lovers in and about Greater Boston. The splendid dance music of the famous Crescent Gardens Singing Orchestra has always been one of the chief attractions at this magnificent ball room and this aggregation of selected musicians has recently been still further augmented by the addition of several skilled musicians who are known as the very "top notchers" in their line, and among the highest paid musicians in this part of the country. "Every man an artist," is no idle dream at Crescent Gardens, as the acquisition of this new talent demonstrates. This ball room and the Crescent Gardens Theatre will, as usual, remain open every evening all Winter, and needless to say, will be more popular than ever. "Souvenir night" has become so popular that the management will continue to give away beautiful dolls every Tuesday evening and continue the dances until midnight. Next Wednesday night Eddie Schell and his famous jazz orchestra has been secured for a battle of music with the Crescent Gardens Singing Orchestra.

CONNECTICUT WOMAN OUT FOR ASSEMBLY

Washington, Ct., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Camfield, wife of "Jack" Camfield, one of the most popular railroad trainmen in Rhode Island, is out for member of Assembly on the Democratic ticket.

The town is strongly Republican heretofore, but now the voting list consists of 600 men and nearly 900 women, two-thirds of them said to be supporting Mrs. Camfield.

LOEW'S COLUMBIA

With two such big drawing cards as William S. Hart and Douglas Fairbanks listed as the headline attractions for the initial half of the coming week patrons of Loew's Columbia Theatre in the South End will have no cause for complaint. The first named will appear in "Sands," one of his latest releases.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA

Katharine MacDonald, famed as the most beautiful woman in America, supported by a well known cast, including Nigel Barrie, Dorothy Cummings, Ernest Joy, Margaret Campbell and William Clifford, is the star of the latest First National attraction which comes to Gordon's Olympia for one week, commencing Monday, entitled, "The Notorious Miss Lisle."

Amusements. Amusements.

WALDRON'S

CASINO 2:15 8:15 Arthur Pearson Presents

"SLIDING" BILLY WATSON

IN THE NEW AND ZIPPY "HITS and BITS"

A THREE RING CIRCUS OF THE BURLESQUE WHEEL

SUNDAY BIGGEST VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURE SHOW IN ANY BOSTON THEATRE, 4 TO 10:30 P. M.

GAYETY THEATRE

TWICE DAILY—2:10 AND 8:10 P. M.

JOE HURTIG'S

GIRLS FROM HAPPY LAND

With SAM LEWIS and FIFTY OTHERS

SHUBERT WILBUR THEATRE

Telephone Beach 4520
Messrs. Lee & J. J. Schubert
Managing Directors
Seats Also on Sale at General Ticket Office in the Little Bldg.
Eves. 8.15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15
The Management Regretfully Announces

LAST 2 WEEKS

THE SEASON'S GREATEST HIT

The SMART MUSICAL COMEDY

"IRENE"

Playing to Capacity Audiences at Every Performance

FAREWELL NIGHT OCT. 16TH

POP. $2 MAT. WED. (OCT. 6)

MATINEES CLOSING WEEK
	Oct. 12—Columbus Day
	Oct. 13— Pop.
	Oct. 14— Prices
	Oct. 15— $2.00
	Oct. 16—Last Matinee

Seats on Sale for All Performances

SAM S. SHUBERT THEATRE

Telephone Beach 4520
Messrs. Lee & J. J. Shubert, Managing Directors
Seats Also on Sale at Little Bldg. Lobby
Eves. at 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2:15
POP. $2.00 MATINEE WED.
A Comedy That Radiates Sunshine and Laughter

"EAST IS WEST"

WITH FAY BAINTER

Still on Its Triumphant Way Delighting Thousands of Playgoers Nightly

Seats Selling 2 Weeks In Advance

3 Matinees—Week of Oct. 11

Tues. (Columbus Day), Wed. & Sat.

LOEW'S COLUMBIA 12 to 10:30 Wash and Mott Sts.

MON., TUES. & WED.
ALL-STAR VAUDEVILLE
TOP-LINE PHOTO PRODUCTIONS
WM. S. HART in "Sand"
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "The Americano"
THURS., FRI. & SAT.
COMPLETE CHANGE
NEW VAUDVILLE
WALLACE REID in "Sick Abed"
NORMA TALMADGE in "Going Straight"
2-SUNDAY CONCERTS-2 Doors Open At 4:00 P. M.

Shubert BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Seats Also on Sale in Gen. Ticket Office, Little Bldg
TODAY AT 2:30; TONIGHT AT 8:30
WILLIAM FOX Presents
the Sensational Cinemelodrama
"WHILE NEW YORK SLEEPS" 25c to $1.00 Last 2 Times.

SYMPHONY HALL

Tomorrow, Sunday Afternoon, at 3.30
SCHUMANN-HEINK
WORLD FAMOUS CONTRALTO
Tickets 2.50, 2.00, 1.50, 1.00, plus 10% tax

Amusements. Amusements.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO MISS SEEING

D.W.GRIFFITH'S

New England Classic

LOVE, ROMANCE and ENTHRALLING

After Reading This Editorial Comment:

"This remarkable film should be seen by everybody."

"It is clean, sweet, and beautiful, enlivened by humor and thrilling beyond description." POST Sept. 28th

Shubert---MAJESTIC---Now

LIMITED ENGAGEMENT

Orchestra Floor $1 to $2 Matinees 2 P. M. sharp
Balconies 50c to $1 Evenings 8 P. M. sharp

THOUGH THE N. Y. HERALD SAID, "WELL WORTH $10 A SEAT"

ALL SEATS RESERVED BUY IN ADVANCE
SEATS ALSO IN LITTLE BUILDING LOBBY
SPECIAL ORCHESTRA OF 30 PIECES

TREMONT THEATRE

Evenings 8:10. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2:10

ONLY TWO MORE WEEKS OF

THE SMASHING MUSICAL HIT!

THE GIRL IN THE SPOTLIGHT

By VICTOR HERBERT

"Mr. Herbert came, he saw, he conquered."—Post.
"A rare treat in musical comedy. There's a lot of class in this show."—American.
"Gems of melody, dainty, appealing and humorous."—Globe.
"Boston paid a deserved tribute to the composer, whose work fairly bubbles over with melody."—Traveler.

Have You a Sweetheart? Try This on Her:
"I Cannot Sleep, Dear, Without Dreaming of You"

EXTRA MAT. COLUMBUS DAY | POP. MAT. WED. BEST SEATS $2

☞ TICKETS sold by this theatre to the Agencies are for the convenience of the public, for which the management receives no compensation over the box office price.

COLONIAL Eves. at 8 Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2

Direction Erlanger, Dillingham & Ziegfeld
Charles J. Rich, Manager
LAST 2 WEEKS POP. MAT. WED.
SPECIAL MATINEE COLUMBUS DAY

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

Presents America's Favorite Musical Comedy Star

JULIA SANDERSON

England's Best Comedian

G. P. HUNTLEY

The Travesty Star

CHARLES WITHERS

AND

HIMSELF (HITCHY)

In His NEW REVUE

"HITCHY-KOO 1920"

With the

MOSCONI BROTHERS

Book by Glen MacDonough. Lyrics by Glen MacDonough and Anne Caldwell. Music by Jerome Kern. Staged by Ned Wayburn

☞ TICKETS sold by this theatre to the Agencies are for the convenience of the public, for which the management receives no compensation over the box office price.

OCT. 18 FOUR WEEKS ONLY ZIEGFELD FOLLIES

SHUBERT-ARLINGTON THEATRE

ARLINGTON AND TREMONT STS.
Booked by the Messrs. Shubert
Tel. Beach 4520
Eves. 8:10 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:10
Elevator to 2nd Balcony
Seats Also at Little Bldg. and Filene's
Only Downtown Theatre in Boston With Street Car Service to the Door

2 WEEKS ONLY

Beginning MON. NIGHT NEXT

RETURN OF THE JOYFUL SHOW

—So swift it doesn't give you time to think.

STEWART AND MORRISON SAID

"BETTY BE GOOD" And she is just as good as last season when she delighted thousands in eight weeks' capacity business at the Shubert-Wilbur.

Rena Parker — Eddie Garvie

and

The Same Brilliant Broadway Cast
The Same Great Song Hits and Melodious Music.
The Same Beautiful Chorus—Oh, Boy! The Same Gorgeous and Original Production.

A $2.50 SHOW FOR $1.50

POP. 75c MAT. WED.

EXTRA COLUMBUS DAY MAT.

SYMPHONY HALL

A Limited Number of Season Tickets for 24 Sat. Eve. Concerts by the

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Pierre Monteux, Conductor
DISTINGUISHED SOLOISTS
Unsold seats, if any, on sale beginning Monday, Oct. 4, for opening Sat. Concert, Oct. 9.

Sunday Eve., Oct. 10, 8:15

WILLIAM MORRIS presents

TOM BURKE

GREATEST LIVING IRISH TENOR

"BURKE'S TRIUMPH AT COVENT GARDEN IS THE TALK OF LONDON" LONDON GRAPHIC

Tickets $3, $2.50, $2, $1.50, $1

ALMA GLUCK
SCHUMANN-HEINK
MARY GARDEN
LIPKOWSKA
ZIMBALIST
YSAYE

Appear in the six concerts of the Lynn Star Course, Olympia Theatre, Lynn.

Course Tickets NOW ON SALE

Box Office Olympia Lynn or A. H. Handley's 160 Boylston St. Boston

$5.00, $7.50, $10.00 plus 10% tax

HOWARD Mon., KEWPIE DOLLS BURLESQUE, pretty chorus and vaudeville. Always something doing, 1 till 11.

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE Today Starts 10:10
Mon., CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG in "FOR THE SOUL OF RAFAEL." ALICE JOYCE in "Dollars and the Woman." 8 Vaudeville Acts

Amusements. Amusements.

GLOBE Eves. 8.10 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.10 WASHINGTON ST. NEAR BOYLSTON TELEPHONE BEACH 445

UNDER BOOKING DIRECTION OF A. L. ERLANGER

LAST WEEK

A BREATH OF THE MAINE WOODS

"The CAVE GIRL"

WITH GRACE VALENTINE AND JOHN COPE

A BACK TO NATURE COMEDY BY THE AUTHORS OF "POLLY WITH A PAST" & "ADAM AND EVA"

MON. NIGHT, OCT. 11 — SEATS TUES.

METROPOLITAN PREMIERE
The MUSICAL EVENT of the SEASON

EXTRA MAT. COLUMBUS DAY, TUES. OCT. 12

JIMMY HUSSEY'S REVUE

LAUGHTER - MELODY - DANCES - GIRLS

GORGEOUS GOWNS! TINGLING TUNES! SUMPTUOUS SCENERY! BROADWAY BEAUTIES!

LAST 6 DAYS

NEXT WEEK

MARSHALL NEILAN

Whose Masterly Direction of "Daddy Long Legs," "In Old Kentucky" and "The River's End" Ensured Their Great Success, Directed This Photoplay

THE MOST THRILLING AND FASCINATING STORY EVER CONCEIVED

A RIOT OF REALISM AND ROMANCE

A FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTION

MARSHALL NEILAN'S Mile-a-Minute Photodrama

GO AND GET IT

Personally Offered by MR. NATHAN H. GORDON

30¢ 40¢ 55¢ (INCLUDING WAR TAX) TREMONT TEMPLE Continuous 1:30 to 10:30 P. M.

SELWYN'S PARK SQ.

Eves. 8:10 Wed. & Sat. 2:10 Fred E. Wright Mgr. Telephone Beach 181

MONDAY BEGINS THE

LAST WEEK

IMPOSSIBLE TO PROLONG ENGAGEMENT

DON'T MISS

The SEASON'S SUPREME DRAMATIC TRIUMPH!

THE BROKEN WING

By PAUL DICKEY and CHAS. W. GODDARD
Authors of "The Misleading Lady" and "The Ghost Breaker"

Farewell Performance SAT. NIGHT, OCT. 9

MON. EVE., OCT. 11
Seats Tuesday
EXTRA MAT. COLUMBUS DAY
TUES., OCT. 12

Arthur Hammerstein's Supreme Bid

FRANCES WHITE

IN A PRETENTIOUS MUSICOMEDY

"JIMMIE"

WITH

BEN WELCH

GREAT CAST
STAR CHORUS
A Superbly Beautiful Production

SHUBERT BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Messrs. Lee & J. J. Shubert Props. & Mgrs.
Seats Also at Little Bldg.
Eves. at 8:15 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15

EXTRA MAT. COLUMBUS DAY

TWO WEEKS ONLY

STARTING

MONDAY NIGHT NEXT

WHAT HENRY FORD DID TO AUTOMOBILE PRICES, THE MESSRS SHUBERT ARE DOING TO THE COST OF THEATRE TICKETS!!

$2.00 BUYS THE BEST SEAT $2.00

BARGAIN $1.50 MAT. WED.

The MESSRS. SHUBERT'S STUPENDOUS REVIVAL OF

FLORODORA

World's Most Popular Musical Play
N. Y. CENTURY THEATRE PRODUCTION and COMPANY HEADED by GOLDEN-VOICED

ELEANOR PAINTER

And Including the following Super-Excellent Cast

William Danforth
Dama Sykes
Robt. G. Pitkin
Walter Woolf
Maxine Brown

Harry Fender
Isabel Rodriguez
Nace Bonville
Frances Halliday
Imelda La Mort

AND THE
GLORIOUS PRETTY MAIDEN SEXTETTE OF HEART-BREAKERS

Two Weeks Only — Monday, Oct. 18

Winter Garden's GIGANTIC SHOW

Cinderella on Broadway

With MARIE DRESSLER

Georgie Price
John T. Murray
Stewart Baird
Brendel & Burt
Walter Brower
Al Sexton
Joe Niemeyer
Ernest F. Young

Jessica Brown
Eileen Van Biene
Marvel Vadie
Flora Hoffman
Olga Cook
Renee Delting
The Glorias
Constantin Kobeleff

$2.00 Purcella Brothers Best Seats $2.00 $2.00

HOLLIS Eves. at 8:10 Last Mat. Today at 2:10

LAST TWO TIMES
WALKER WHITESIDE
In ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S
Story of Adventure, Love and Romance
THE MASTER OF BALLANTRAE

BEACON CONTINUOUS 9 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.

"CLOTHES"
"THE SOUL OF YOUTH"
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
IN "THE IMMIGRANT"

CRESCENT GARDENS

EVERY EVENING
DANCING
WINTER and SUMMER
REVERE BEACH

Amusements. Amusements.

OVER $4,000,000 OF SOLID VALUE

including half an acre (22,671 sq. ft.) of Boston's choicest real estate and fireproof buildings of concrete and steel that would cost today $1,750,000 to build. And unless by ACT OF GOD these buildings will be just as solid 100 years from now.

THAT'S Your Security When You Own Stock in Loew's Theatres Co.

And as to earnings—The Orpheum opened Jan. 10th, 1916. The operating profits in 1916 were $219,446; in 1917, $235,342; in 1918, $276,158; in 1919, $346,213, and 1920 is going to be at least $100,000 ahead of last year.

A Perfect Investment—
Security, Stability, Increasing Earnings

And checks went out on October 1st to over 1600 stockholders for their quarterly dividends at the rate of 3½ per cent!!

The State Theatre is now nearing completion. Twenty per cent. larger than the Orpheum. The same policy—the same shows. Always variety—the best pictures—the best acts.

STOCK IN BOTH COMPANIES FOR SALE

For full particulars apply to the undersigned.

THE ORPHEUM SHOW THIS WEEK WILL BE:

FROM MONDAY TO WEDNESDAY

DOUGLAS McLEAN in "The Jailbird," also comedy, Pathe News and six acts, including Clifton & Sparton, Ferer & Dane, Calvin & Thurston, Harry Thorne & Co., Conrad & O'Donnell and Kermiss & Co.

THURSDAY TO SATURDAY

ETHEL CLAYTON in "The City Sparrow," also comedy, Pathe News and six acts, including Weston, Marion Haggerty, Gordon, Silvers & Berger, Martha Russell & Co., Henry Frey, Malera Revue.

If you have never visited the Orpheum, you have a pleasant surprise in store for you.

EVERY SUNDAY—Vaudeville and pictures. Doors open at 1:30 p. m.
M. DOUGLAS FLATTERY, Managing Director.

PARK The TEMPLE OF THE SILENT ART

Continuous from 10 A.M. to 10:30 P.M.

A Universal Super-Production

ELMO LINCOLN THE MIGHTY

A RED BLOODED DRAMA OF STRONG MEN'S PASSIONS and A WOMAN'S LOVE

"UNDER CRIMSON SKIES"

THE LURE OF TROPICAL ROMANCE

A DELIGHTFUL UNIVERSAL SPECIAL ATTRACTION OF THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

"The ADORABLE SAVAGE"

Starring EDITH ROBERTS.

LATEST NEWS & COMEDY

SHUBERT-PLYMOUTH THEATRE

Messrs. Lee & J. J. Shubert Managing Directors
Direct Subway Connection
Seats also at General Ticket Offices in Little Bldg.
Telephone Beach 4520
Eves. at 8:20. Mats. Thurs. & Sat. 2:20

POP. $1.50 MAT. THURS.

For Two Weeks Only Beginning
MONDAY NIGHT NEXT

St. John Ervine, novelist, critic, dramatist, and the author of "John Ferguson" and "Jane Clegg," says in the London Observer: "This is the merriest play that has been seen in London for many moons. It ought to be drawing large audiences a year hence."

MARC KLAW, Inc., Presents

MR. & MRS. COBURN

IN A NEW COMEDY

"French Leave"

(THE GREAT LONDON SUCCESS NOW IN ITS FIFTH MONTH AT THE GLOBE THEATRE)

BY REGINALD BERKELEY

The supporting cast consists of Alexander Onslow, Dallas Welford, Harry McNaughton, Noel Tearle, Arthur Klein and Helen Tilden.

Extra Mat. Columbus Day, Tues., Oct 12

COMING! OCT. 18

Charles Cherry and June Walker in

"SCANDAL"

By Cosmo Hamilton
The Most-Talked-of Play in America

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE CORP. LESSEE
Charles J. Rich, Manager
EVES AT 8.10 MATS. WED & SAT. AT 2.10

EXTRA MAT. COLUMBUS DAY, OCT. 12

Beginning

MON. OCT. 4

"THE ONE MAN IN PARIS WHO KNOWS WOMEN BEST"

ARTHUR BYRON

MARTHA HEDMAN

IN THE COMEDY TRIUMPH

"TRANSPLANTING JEAN"

DIRECTION ARTHUR BYRON AND BENJAMIN H. MARSHALL

A PLAY THAT RAN ONE YEAR IN PARIS

☞ TICKETS sold by this theatre to the Agencies are for the convenience of the public, for which the management receives no compensation over the box office price.

SOMERVILLE THEATRE PLAYERS

NEW ENGLAND'S FINEST STOCK CO.
Daily at 2:15 and 8:30
Tel. Som. 5380

Week of Oct. 4

The Most Baffling of All Mystery Plays

"THREE FACES EAST"

By Anthony Paul Kelly, Tingling With Thrills, Throbs and Surprises ACTION GALORE
FREE AUTO PARKING SPACE
Oct. 11—"Dawn o' the Mountains"

AUDITORIUM

MALDEN, MASS.
TEMPLE STOCK CO.
The BEST STOCK ORGANIZATION IN THE UNITED STATES
DAILY MATS. (EXCEPT THURS.) AT 2.15 EVES. 8.05

WEEK OF OCT. 4

A BRILLIANT PRODUCTION of NAT GOODWIN and MAXINE ELLIOTT'S Comedy Triumph

WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE

PARKING FOR AUTOS

MODERN CONTINUOUS 10 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.

"CLOTHES"
"THE SOUL OF YOUTH"
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
IN "THE IMMIGRANT"

ST. JAMES CONTINUOUS 1-30 TO 10:30

TODAY—A SUPER PRODUCTION
"MAROONED HEARTS"
Company No. 13—Vaudeville, Comedy

LANCASTER 11 to 10:30 P. M.

Thurs., Fri., Sat.
ELSIE FERGUSON in "Lady Rose's Daughter"
ETHEL CLAYTON in "Crooked Streets."

Largest Evening Circulation In New England

Magazine Page

This Day in Our History—October 2, 1920.

THIS is the anniversary of the execution of Major Andre as a spy in 1780. It was Andre who was caught after arranging with Arnold, the traitor, for the surrender of West Point to the British.

HELIOTROPE Stirring Serial of a Father's Sacrifice

Read This Story Here Day by Day, Then Watch for It at Leading Theatres

"Heliotrope," from the story by Richard Washburn Child, is a Cosmopolitan production released as a Paramount-Artcraft picture.

Directed by Geo. D. Baker

Screen Version Novelized

By Jane McLean

ONLY two mourners followed Heliotrope Harry to the grave—one was Pyne, the warden, whose life he had saved, and the other was Spike.

As they turned away "Square Mike" motioned to Spike: "You'll ride back with me, Foley; I want to talk to you."

On that ride Spike told Pyne the story and the latter listened without interruption.

"Heliotrope Harry's gone," said the warden when they reached the city, "but you know his secret—so do I—so does the Governor. None of us will ever tell. You do your part and we'll do ours. Is it a bargain?"

"But suppose she spills it?" asked Spike.

"Who, Josephine? Who'd believe her? No one. Besides, she has no proof; she's going to have plenty to think about to save her neck."

Spike went back to his old boarding house to resume the even tenor of his workaday life, feeling uplifted and a better man.

He read the papers and saw that Josephine had been locked up on a charge of murder, but he knew too much about juries to believe she would ever go to the chair for her crime. Life imprisonment was the measure that would be meted out to her, as Heliotrope Harry had predicted with his dying breath. And it was safe to say she would not be pardoned after her cold-blooded defiance of the law.

Abject Terror

It rather amused Spike when he read of the abject terror of Moe Simon as reported by the police. Mr. Simon swore he had begged Mrs. Hasdock not to buy the revolver; that she had shown him a permit, and that even after he had sold her the weapon he had run after her and urged her to keep it only for self-defense.

As to his former relations with her he had given her a check for the sake of old times.

The story was strangely lacking in picturesque details; the motives involved, so far as they could be traced, were jealousy and hatred, making a sordid affair from first to last.

Josephine Hasdock made no pretense that she was the mother of the lovely girl to be married in a day or so to Jimmie Andrews, son of the millionaire lumber king.

Such an assertion she new would only add to her burdens; she could prove nothing; undoubtedly she would be set down as insane, and if she had to suffer incarceration she preferred it in a prison rather than in an asylum.

Both Alice and Jimmie read the account of the murder on the first page of their papers and commented on its hideousness.

"Funny name he had, Heliotrope Harry," said Alice musingly. "I suppose he may have been a man out of the ordinary; it says here he always wore a sprig of heliotrope in his buttonhole——"

"Here's a picture of him," said Jimmie. "Not a bad looking chap."

Alice leaned forward, then stifled a cry.

"Jimmie, that's the man who did me a good turn in the park when I was waiting for you to get the ring that afternoon."

Jimmie looked up startled. "I didn't know that."

"Yes, while I was sitting there a man began to talk to me, and then Heliotrope Harry sent him away—isn't that strange?"

"Well, you had a narrow escape, my dear. Imagine a jailbird sitting on the same bench with you."

Jimmie shuddered at the mere thought: "That's taught me a lesson; you'll never be left alone again, my lady."

Spike Foley was not a bidden guest to the marriage of Jimmie Andrews; he was merely one of the curious who linger on the fringe of fashionable weddings and build castles in the air.

Ought to Be Present

But somehow he felt as though he ought to be present. And after the bridal party had entered the church he slipped in to watch the child of his dead pal plight her troth to a good man and true.

It was very solemn to Spike. He wondered if Mrs. Hasdock fretting in the Tombs knew that her own daughter was being married. The minister asked the age-old questions and solemnly the man and the girl answered them. The ring was placed on the bride's finger, and the benediction given, and then Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Andrews walked down the aisle to begin their new life together.

Hardly daring to lift his eyes, Spike Foley watched the girl go by; her radiant face filled him with a great awe, for he saw in a kind of vision the face of Heliotrope Harry smiling at the happiness he had helped to make complete.

Spike rubbed his eyes surreptitiously. "Harry, old pal," he muttered, "it's all right—you're happy, too—you've squared accounts—I guess HE knows up there."

THE END.

The Secret of Happiness

By Beatrice Fairfax

HERE is a letter which deserves its place in the sun. It tells its own story. And it's a story which I have been trying to make seem real.

"After reading your article on 'Trying to Please Men' I decided to write to you and tell you how I agree with you in everything that you have said in that article.

"Since I was seventeen I have worked and supported myself, and during that time I lived in furnished rooms because I lost my parents when I was very young. I had no home, but I tried to keep myself above reproach. I have had my temptations and my so-called chances, but I always depended upon the good Lord for encouragement and He has never failed me. Not once, nor twice, but many, many times have I seen myself left home in my little room, while countless other girls had what they called 'good times.'

Playing the Game

"I didn't dress up to the minute, nor make up, and sometimes I wondered if it were worth while to 'play the game' the way I was trying to.

"In the Winter of 1919 I met a young man then in Uncle Sam's naval service. I liked him, but I knew that he took out girls of very questionable reputation. But I continued to be friendly. I thought perhaps he had never known any really good girls, and I was right.

"When he was released from service he came to me. He had noticed the difference. He gave up his other acquaintances. That Christmas he gave me a pretty little diamond ring. In January we were married. Now I have a very attractive home near where he is employed. When my husband gets his bonus we are planning to start to buy our own home.

"And last but not least of our happiness is the fact that the angels are going to send us a gift straight from heaven in November.

"Very often, when I sit and sew on tiny, snow-white garments, and my husband is beside me in the evening, reading from his newspaper, I think of my early struggles, and I realize how small they are compared to my present happiness.

"And so I want to tell all the real girls that read your paper, to stay real. By no means should they envy their showy, tawdry sisters. They should pity them because of all the happiness—true happiness—they are missing. I feel there is only one reward for a real girl, and that is the one I have received.

Well Not to Know

"It seems to me that the type of man who habitually takes out the other sort of girl—it is just as well not to know.

"There are many men that do appreciate goodness when they see it. It is their friendship that a real girl wants, and it is only a question of time when she will get it.

"I. A. B."

A simple bit of testimony this. But it tells the story.

The things that last aren't won in a moment's wildness. The big basic joys of life don't come in response to the cheap lures. The fine response in which love and happiness and devotion are built can't be won except by deep, fine feelings.

All our helter-skelter mad pursuit of pleasure today don't give us anything with more lasting quality than a "cob-web net with morning dew." Such a web is exquisite for a moment—then it is gone.

Is a moment enough? Or shall we strive for a necklace of moments—a lifetime of sweetness?

To Know Your Furniture!

In making furniture it is the kind of workmanship and not the kind of wood that counts. Labor generally costs more than the material used.

In judging furniture examine the turnings. Chipped edges on the lips and rough wood in the coves are always signs of cheap work; so are wavy surfaces.

In planning a decorative scheme, build it around a definite focal center such as a piece of tapestry, a fireplace, an important picture or a window grouping.—October Good Housekeeping.

Good Example

Fussy passenger, on board a steamer: "Doesn't the boat tip a lot, steward?" Steward: "Yes, she's setting a good example to the passengers. Thank you, sir."

A Natural Beginning

New curate, calling on aged parishioner: "And what were you when you started life?"

Aged parishioner: "Quite a boy, sir; quite a boy."

When Years Make No Difference

By NELL BRINKLEY

Copyright, 1920, by International Feature Service, Inc.

AS they sit together in the twilight of their happiness they see, looking back on the dawn of their young lives, the beginning of love. It seems like a dream—only yesterday when she lifted her young face to his and they promised to love each other for ever and ever—only yesterday. Dear me, how many, many years have checked off their marks on the clock of time since then and the world keeps right on, apparently unconscious that these two are of it. They see other young people—young as they were once—making the same promise they made, and they hope all will be as well with these children of the present day as it has been with them of the older generation. Oh, it's a wonderful thing when love stays beside through the years of a man's and a woman's journey through life.

—NELL BRINKLEY.

When a Girl Marries

By Ann Lisle

"TOM, you will have it. I thought you wanted—to be avoided. You're a flirt. Forgive me, but you won't let me off. You make me—butt in. I've cause to know that you—philander, without thinking beyond the momentary attraction a woman has for you."

"You're right. I had this coming to me," said Tom in a voice I'd never heard from him before. "I—bothered you in the beginning. Then I trailed off after Val Cosby. Other men's wives—an unworthy game I'd drifted into playing. I didn't know any other. You started me almost awake. Val Cosby followed up, though differently. She teased me along and then turned on me with some ugly truths. But it's only recently I've begun to realize—and have tried to make up. I've been reaching out after something different."

"Do I deserve to hear this?" I asked.

"You deserve all the credit for waking me. I'd like to confess if you've the patience to listen."

"If you're sure you've changed—" I began uneasily.

Expression of Friendship

"I know it!" said Tom with conviction. "I vaguely knew when I gave little Daisy Condon a good job because she was a friend of yours. It was an expression of my grateful friendship for you. I made myself hand her a bigger salary than she'd have demanded. And when I saw that she was unhappy and lonesome I set out to give her the sort of good time she craved and didn't get because the peopde she knew hadn't the means to afford it. I'm doing the decent thing by young Daisy as a tribute to you."

"Thank you, Tom," I replied humbly. "I apologize for letting the city and its cynicisms get me so that I doubted—doubted your motives."

"You're sure now?" he asked.

"Yes," I said, since he had asked me if I was sure of him rather than of Daisy. And I forgot the evening when she, at least, had "avoided" me.

"That's good. Great. You mustn't ever doubt me again!" came from a satisfied and complacent Tom. "And now I want to make a dinner date. I want to have you and Jimmie and Mr. Haldane and that wonderful Miss Warren down to my place for one of Mrs. Hill's bang-up home dinners some time this week. I think that way of entertaining will please the old gentleman."

"We've never had a meal at your own home," I murmured—actually thinking aloud.

Tom didn't seem to sense the unguardedness of that, nor its implication, for he replied with self-revelation which somehow left me puzzled:

"I'm not much of a homebody. Probably wouldn't have you there now—if I weren't so dead anxious to get in right with that fine old gentleman of the fine old school."

Joyous Reunion

Jim and I had a joyous reunion on his return from the trip North with Uncle Ned and Pat. Chiefly because we had so much to discuss and relate, we spent the first hour or so telling each other how glad we were to be together again.

At our cozy little home dinner we started to settle down to a discussion of all that was going on in the background of our lives and spreading out over the foreground in such fashion as to make us forget our personal concerns—or that we could ever have any.

"You're sure Pat's 'journey'—isn't to the far country from which no mortal returns?" I asked seriously as we finished our coffee and adjourned to the living room away from Hedwig's ministrations and keen ears.

"Sure," replied Jim, settling down chummily with his pipe. "That is, as sure as one man can be about another. Pat doesn't give me the impression of being crazy. He's sad all right—main spring sort of broken—but I think he's just going off on some long trip, and when I see how keen he is to keep young Neal informed on every new development in the business I'm dead sure I'm guessing right."

"I'll make myself believe you're right, dear," I replied.

"Glad you and the kiddies had that week-end," murmured Jim, puffing reflectively. "And gladder yet young Neal is planning to beard the lioness in her den. I believe he'll talk right up to Virginia. Not that I think it will do much good."

"Do you think she's actually capable of having the marriage annulled if they elope?" I asked.

Capable of Anything

"Don't know the law of that—precisely," said Jim with a frown. "But that woman's capable of anything."

"You talk as if you hated her. And she's your sister," I reflected reproachfully.

"I wish I could hate her. She deserves it. But Jeanie gets into your blood somehow," replied Jim, unconsciously falling back on the dear old love name. "That's the worst of it. That's why Pat can't get free. Now we'll have to sit back and let young Neal make the next move. He's one dandy boy. The more I see of him and hear of him the more I realize how darn lucky the little Phoebe-bird is."

"Of course I hate that," I beamed, disclosing some of the sacred feeling Neal had shown in protecting Phoebe from the world and—himself. Then I went on to tell Jim of my luncheon with Tom and of his revelations.

"Pretty good old skate—Thomas J.," commented Jim with relish when I concluded the story of Tom's attitude toward Daisy and the whys and wherefores thereof.

"And you never said 'I told you so,' as any woman—your wife included—must have done!" I cried, bending over to lay my face against my boy's hair.

"Why should I?" asked Jim, patting me gruffly and evidently intent on other matters. "We both know a darn sight more about each other and the world than we did when we started trotting in double harness, don't we, girl?" he asked at last.

Copyright, 1920, by King Features Syndicate.
To Be Continued.

The Restless Sex

By Robert W. Chambers

"The Restless Sex," soon to be seen in all leading motion picture theatres, is a Cosmopolitan production, released as a Paramount-Artcraft picture, featuring Marion Davies.

CHAPTER XXXV.

THE train that Cleland took after calling Runner's Rest on the telephone, landed him at the home station at an impossible hour. Stars filled the heavens with a magnificent lustre; the July darkness was superb and still untouched by the coming dawn.

There was nobody in sight except the baggage agent. He walked toward the rear of the station, turned the corner, and saw Stephanie standing there bareheaded in the starlight, wrapped in a red cloak, her hair in two heavy braids.

"Steve!" he exclaimed. "Why on earth did you come—you darling!"

"Did you imagine I wouldn't?" she asked unsteadily.

Off on Buckboard

They turned together and went over to the buckboard. She stepped in; he strapped his suitcase on behind, then followed her and took the reins from her gloved hands.

"I have a night letter from Oswald," she said. "They telephoned it up from the station. He is coming tomorrow morning."

"Tell me," said Stephanie, in a low, tremulous voice.

He understood.

"It was entirely Oswald's doing. I never dreamed of mentioning it to him. I was absolutely square to him and to you, Steve. I went there with no idea that he knew I was in love with you—or that you cared for me. . . . He met me with simple cordiality. We looked at his beautiful model for the fountain. I don't think I betrayed in voice or look or manner that anything was wrong with me. . . . Then, with a very winning simplicity, he spoke of you, of himself. . . .

"He told me with a smile that his pride was dead—that he had cut its throat. But it was still alive, Steve—a living, quivering thing. And I saw him slay it before my eyes—kill it there between his, with his steady, pleasant smile. . . . Well, he meant me to understand him and what he had done. . . . But there is no need to be afraid any more."

"Did he say so?"

"Yes. He told me to tell you. He said you'd believe him because he had never lied to you."

"I do believe him," she said. "I have never known him to lie to anybody."

The light over the porch at Runner's Rest glimmered through the trees. In a few minutes they were at the door.

"I'll stable the horse," he said briefly.

She was in the library when he returned from the barn.

"The dawn is just breaking," she said. "It is wonderful out of doors. Do you hear the birds?"

"Do you want to go to bed, Steve?"

"No. Do you?"

"Wait for me, then."

Cleland came down presently, freshened, dressed in flannels.

"Steve," he said. "You've only a nightgown on under that cloak!"

"It's all right. I'm going to get soaked anyway, if we walk on the lawn."

She laughed, drew off her slippers, flung them into the room behind her, then, with her lovely little naked feet she stepped ankle deep into the drenched grass, turned, tossed one corner of her red cloak over her shoulder, and looked back at him.

The Power of Hope

Over the soaking lawn they wandered, his arm encircling her slender body, her hand covering his, holding it closer at her waist.

"What would all this have meant without you?" she sighed. "The world turn very dark for me yesterday, and it was the blackest night I ever knew."

"And for me," he said, "I had no further interest in living."

With her waist closely enlaced he turned and looked deep into her gray eyes—clear, sweet eyes tinged with the lilac-gray of iris bloom.

"The world is just beginning for us," he said. "This is the dawn of our first morning on earth."

But, in the dim house, Helen awoke in her bed, listening. And after she had listened a while she sprang up, slipped out into the dark hall and unhooked the receiver from the hinge.

Copyright, 1918, by Robert W. Chambers.
To Be Concluded Monday

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight

Bon-Opto Strengthens Eyesight

By the simple use of Bon-Opto, says Dr. Lewis, I have seen eyesight strengthened 50% in a week's time in many instances, and quick relief brought to inflamed, aching, itching, burning, work-strained, watery eyes. Read the doctor's full statement soon to appear in this paper. Bon-Opto is sold and recommended everywhere by Druggists.

MRS. NELLIE WOODSFORD SPEAKS TO MOTHERS

East Boston.—At 23 Lamson St., Mrs. Nellie Woodsford and her children now "live happy and grateful" to the kind neighbor who recommended Dr. True's Elixir to them. Mrs. Woodsford says: "My bowels were out of order and my breath was bad. I was shaky all over. I had terrible headaches and it seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me. After a short time I was myself again, my bowels were all right and I'm full of gratitude." "It may interest you to know also that once since my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms."

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for children and grown-ups since 1851. Pleasant to take, mild in action.—Advertisement.

An Old Superstition.

IN the olden times rhinoceros horns were employed for drinking cups by royal personages, the notion being that poison put into them would show itself by bubbling. Needless to say the facts did not bear out the superstition.

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND Yates

Copyright, 1920, by The Redger Syndicate

YATES

VARIATIONS—Byatt, Ligget, Gates, Gaits, Waite, Wayte.
RACIAL ORIGIN—English.
SOURCE — Geographical, also occupational.

THE family names in this group are interwoven through what is, to our modern training, one of the most incomprehensible changes in language and spelling—namely, the switching about of the letters "Y," "G," "H" and "W," which occurred about the time the English language reasserted itself in a new form following the Norman invasion.

The explanation lies in peculiarities of pronunciation in those days which are not yet thoroughly understood, but the fact remains in the form of written records that these four letters often were substituted one for another.

"Yate" was the old English form for "gate." Hence the family names Gates and Yates often come from the same original form "atte Yate," or "atte Gate;" that is to say, "at the gate." But the name of Gates is often met with, in addition to this form, as "le Gate" or "Le Geyt," and also as "le Weyte," these last three forms being an old English name for the public watchman, the policeman, we'd call him.

The name Byatt is the modern survival of "By-Yate," meaning "by the gate." And the family name of Ligget represents several stages of shortening from the form "atte Lideyate," that is to say, "at the Lidgate," Lidgate being the name of a definite locality in England today.

Monday—Marshall.

The Adventures of Ann

By Hal Coffman

CHAPTER XXIV.

THE evening Ann arrived home after Harwood's party and met Frank waiting for her on the front steps she had never been so glad to see any one in her life. "Oh, Frank," she said, later, "I'm awfully sorry we had those words the day you had the fight. I didn't mean to hurt you—honest, I didn't."

Ann felt happy and secure when in Frank's presence—much different than she had felt among the crowd at Harwood's. She left Frank at the door of her apartment, and as she tip-toed in she found Betty still up waiting for her. She did not tell Betty any of the details of the party at Harwood's, except that she had had a wonderful time. But Betty, who was always observing, noticed a change in Ann. A different and more serious Ann than the one who had said good-bye earlier in the evening.

* * *

The mysterious woman of the top floor came down to call on Ann early the next morning. Only Ann and Claire were home as both Betty and their father were at work. The mysterious woman pictured to Claire and Ann what a wonderful time they would have on Harwood's yacht and urged them all to come. Ann told her she did not think she would go, giving as an excuse in front of Claire that she was sure to be ill. But Claire was enthusiastic about going and said they would all just love to go as they had never been on a yacht and it must be wonderful indeed.

Ann, however, tried in every way to get out of going. When Betty and her father came home that evening Claire told them all about the wonderful invitation. Betty at first was like Ann, and did not care to go, but there was nothing else to do when her father said: "We sure are going. I wouldn't miss a chance like that for anything. It's a fine opportunity for Ann. What's the matter with you two girls, wanting to pass up a top-notch time like that? It'll make me solid with Harwood, too. You bet we're going."

Copyright, 1920, by International Feature Service, Inc.
(To Be Continued.)

Household Suggestions

To remove paint stains apply a little turpentine with a piece of rag, and if the stain is obstinate use a little ammonia as well.

* * *

Pad one side of the ironing board with several thicknesses of Turkish towel. This is very useful when ironing garments having buttons or embroidery.

* * *

Keep a bag for odd pieces of tape and string; they will come in useful; also a bag or box for odd buttons so that you may know where to go when you want one.

* * *

Save the skins of oranges and lemons, wash and dry them, then stand them on a dish and fill with orange or lemon jelly. Children will be very pleased with them.

* * *

It is more economical to add pepper to such dishes as stews at the last moment. If you season them at first most of the aroma is lost in the process of cooking, and therefore more is required.

* * *

Straw ripens sour apples, while, in the case of those which are mature in the first instance, they should be kept in a very cold place in order to prevent the ripening process from continuing, which would make the apples "woolly."

DON'T LET THAT COLD GET THE BETTER OF YOU

If that persistent cough or cold is fastened on you at this season of the year it may lead to serious results. Your doctor would tell you that the soothing, healing elements in Father John's Medicine are exactly what he would prescribe for such a condition.

The value of Father John's Medicine has been proven by more than sixty years of success. It soothes and heals the breathing passages and, because of the nourishing food elements it contains, helps to rebuild wasted tissue and gives new strength with which to rebuild health. Get rid of that cold or cough now, before it is too late.

BABY SUFFERED WITH ERUPTIONS

Completely Covered, Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"When my little boy was five months old his face was completely covered with itching and burning eruptions. The eruptions spread to the back of his ears and festered and scaled over. I had to keep mittens on him so he would not scratch and he would cry, he suffered so.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I bought some, and when I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. William Duclos, 1234 North St., Pittsfield, Mass.

Use Cuticura for all toilet purposes.

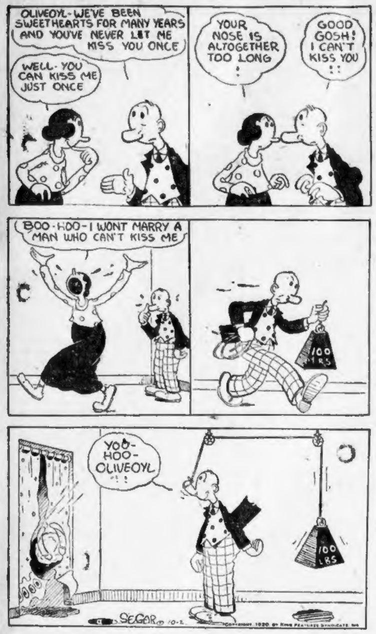
Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. E, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

Safe Fat Reduction

Reduce, reduce, reduce, is the slogan of all fat people. Get thin, be slim, is the cry of society and fashion. The overfat wring their hands in mortification and helplessness; revolting at nauseating drugs, afraid of violent exercise, dreading the unwelcome and unsatisfying diet, until they hit upon the harmless Marmola Tablets which quickly and safely reduce weight at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week without any change in the mode of life. The ideal figure is soon obtained, with a smoother skin and a better appetite and health improved. Marmola Tablets contain all the ingredients which made the Marmola Prescription famous. It behooves you to learn the satisfactory, beneficial effects of this great, safe fat reducer by giving to your druggist the reasonable price, one dollar, for a good size box or sending a like amount to the Marmola Co., 95 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich., with a request that they mail to you a full box of Marmola Prescription Tablets.

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

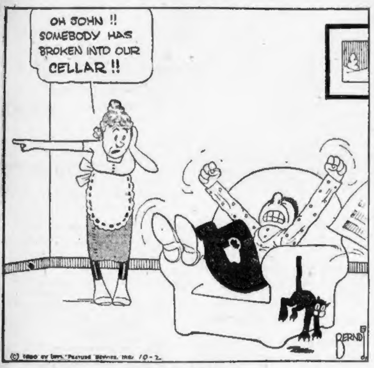
Now Showing—"Patent Applied For."
Monday—"Get a Rope."



OLIVEOYL - WE'VE BEEN SWEETHEARTS FOR MANY YEARS AND YOU'VE NEVER LET ME KISS YOU ONCE
WELL - YOU CAN KISS ME JUST ONCE
YOUR NOSE IS ALTOGETHER TOO LONG
GOOD GOSH! I CAN'T KISS YOU
BOO-HOO - I WONT MARRY A MAN WHO CAN'T KISS ME
100 LBS
YOO-HOO-OLIVEOYL
100 LBS
SEGAR 10-2
Copyright 1920 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

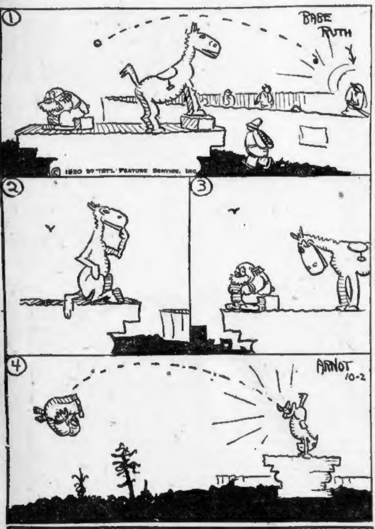
THEN THE FUN BEGAN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.



OH JOHN !! SOMEBODY HAS BROKEN INTO OUR CELLAR !!
BERND
(C) 1920 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc. 10-2

THE GENERAL



①
BABE RUTH
© 1920 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
②
③
④
ARNOT 10-2

Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright, 1920, International Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.

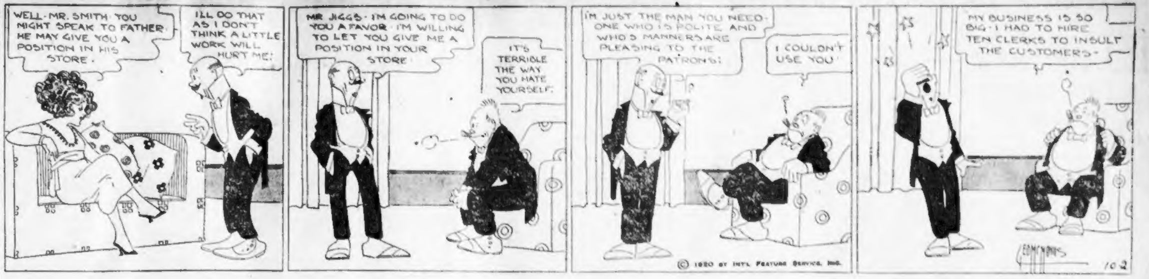
DEAR MR. KABIBBLE,
TEN YEARS AGO MY HUSBAND PROMISED TO BUY ME AN AUTOMOBILE - SHALL I REMIND HIM OF IT?

NO - HE'S PROBABLY GOT A GOOD REASON BY NOW!

BRINGING UP FATHER

A MOVING PICTURE COMEDY, NOT AN ANIMATED CARTOON

ALL LEADING THEATRES



WELL - MR. SMITH YOU MIGHT SPEAK TO FATHER - HE MAY GIVE YOU A POSITION IN HIS STORE.
I'LL DO THAT AS I DON'T THINK A LITTLE WORK WILL HURT ME!
MR JIGGS - I'M GOING TO DO YOU A FAVOR - I'M WILLING TO LET YOU GIVE ME A POSITION IN YOUR STORE
IT'S TERRIBLE THE WAY YOU HATE YOURSELF.
I'M JUST THE MAN YOU NEED - ONE WHO IS POLITE AND WHO'S MANNERS ARE PLEASING TO THE PATRONS!
I COULDN'T USE YOU
MY BUSINESS IS SO BIG - I HAD TO HIRE TEN CLERKS TO INSULT THE CUSTOMERS - © 1920 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
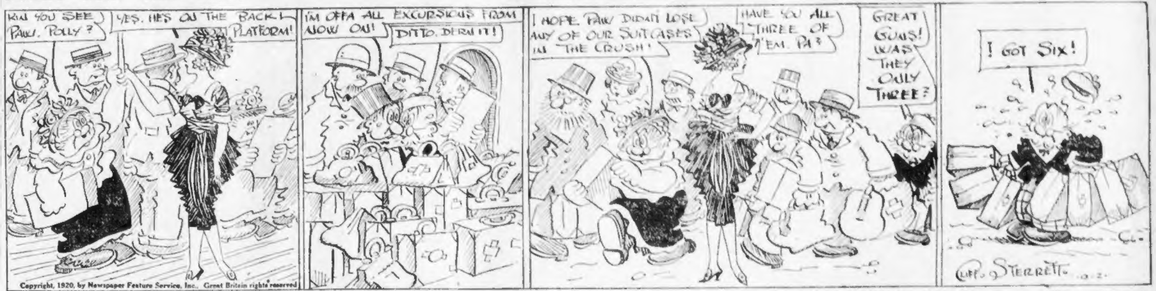
McMANUS 10-2

POLLY AND HER PALS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Pa Took All in Sight

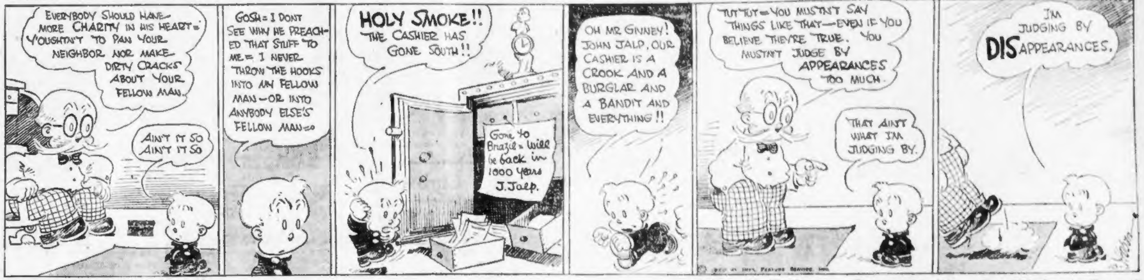


KIN YOU SEE PAW, POLLY?
YES, HE'S ON THE BACK PLATFORM!
I'M OFFA ALL EXCURSIONS FROM NOW ON!
DITTO, DERN IT!
I HOPE PAW DIDN'T LOSE ANY OF OUR SUITCASES IN THE CRUSH!
HAVE YOU ALL THREE OF 'EM, PA?
GREAT GUNS! WAS THEY ONLY THREE?
I GOT SIX!
CLIFF STERRETT 10-2
Copyright, 1920, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved

JERRY ON THE JOB

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Looks As If Jerry Was Right

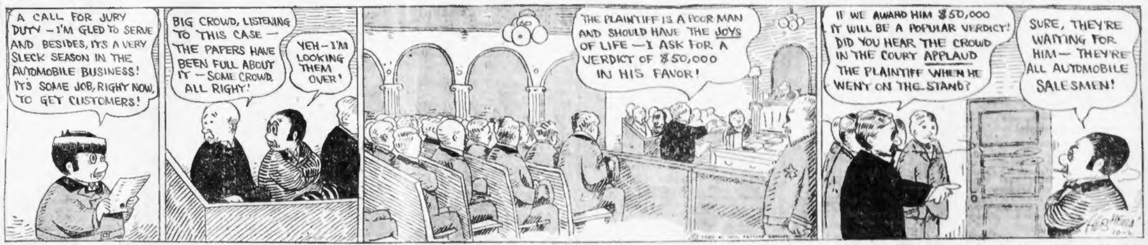


EVERYBODY SHOULD HAVE MORE CHARITY IN HIS HEART = Y'OUGHTN'T TO PAN YOUR NEIGHBOR NOR MAKE DIRTY CRACKS ABOUT YOUR FELLOW MAN.
AIN'T IT SO AIN'T IT SO
GOSH = I DONT SEE WHY HE PREACHED THAT STUFF TO ME = I NEVER THROW THE HOOKS INTO MY FELLOW MAN - OR INTO ANYBODY ELSE'S FELLOW MAN =
HOLY SMOKE!! THE CASHIER HAS GONE SOUTH!!
Gone to Brazil = Will be back in 1000 years J. Jalp.
OH MR GINNEY! JOHN JALP, OUR CASHIER IS A CROOK AND A BURGLAR AND A BANDIT AND EVERYTHING!!
TUT TUT = YOU MUSTN'T SAY THINGS LIKE THAT - EVEN IF YOU BELIEVE THEY'RE TRUE. YOU MUSTN'T JUDGE BY APPEARANCES TOO MUCH.
THAT AIN'T WHAT I'M JUDGING BY.
I'M JUDGING BY DISAPPEARANCES.

ABIE THE AGENT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

They'll Follow a Prospect "to the Highest Court"

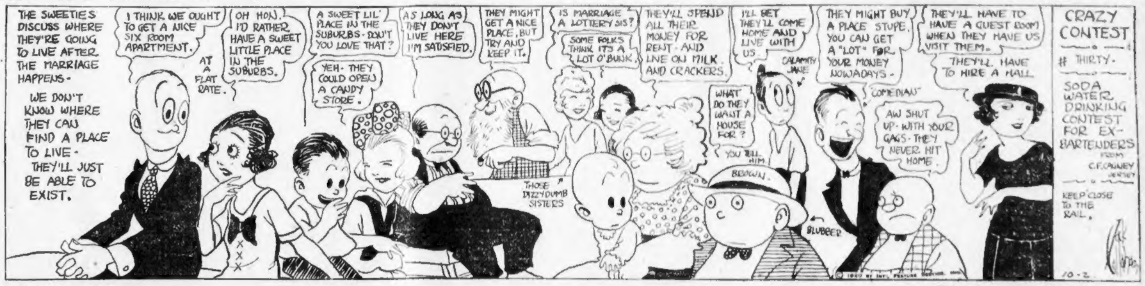


A CALL FOR JURY DUTY - I'M GLED TO SERVE AND BESIDES, ITS A VERY SLECK SEASON IN THE AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS! IT'S SOME JOB, RIGHT NOW, TO GET CUSTOMERS!
BIG CROWD, LISTENING TO THIS CASE - THE PAPERS HAVE BEEN FULL ABOUT IT - SOME CROWD, ALL RIGHT!
YEH - I'M LOOKING THEM OVER!
THE PLAINTIFF IS A POOR MAN AND SHOULD HAVE THE JOYS OF LIFE - I ASK FOR A VERDICT OF $50,000 IN HIS FAVOR!
IF WE AWARD HIM $50,000 IT WILL BE A POPULAR VERDICT! DID YOU HEAR THE CROWD IN THE COURT APPLAUD THE PLAINTIFF WHEN HE WENT ON THE STAND?
SURE, THEY'RE WAITING FOR HIM - THEY'RE ALL AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN!
HERSHFIELD 10-2

HON AND DEARIE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

More Victims for the Landlords



THE SWEETIES DISCUSS WHERE THEY'RE GOING TO LIVE AFTER THE MARRIAGE HAPPENS -
WE DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY CAN FIND A PLACE TO LIVE - THEY'LL JUST BE ABLE TO EXIST.
I THINK WE OUGHT TO GET A NICE SIX ROOM APARTMENT.
AT A FLAT RATE.
OH HON. I'D RATHER HAVE A SWEET LITTLE PLACE IN THE SUBURBS.
A SWEET LIL' PLACE IN THE SUBURBS - DON'T YOU LOVE THAT?
YEH - THEY COULD OPEN A CANDY STORE.
AS LONG AS THEY DON'T LIVE HERE I'M SATISFIED.
THEY MIGHT GET A NICE PLACE, BUT TRY AND KEEP IT.
IS MARRIAGE A LOTTERY SIS?
SOME FOLKS THINK IT'S A LOT O' BUNK.
THOSE DIZZYDUMB SISTERS
THEY'LL SPEND ALL THEIR MONEY FOR RENT - AND LIVE ON MILK AND CRACKERS.
I'LL BET THEY'LL COME HOME AND LIVE WITH US.
CALAMITY JANE
WHAT DO THEY WANT A HOUSE FOR?
YOU TELL HIM BROWN.
BLUBBER
THEY MIGHT BUY A PLACE STUPE. YOU CAN GET A "LOT" FOR YOUR MONEY NOWADAYS -
"COMEDIAN"
AW SHUT UP - WITH YOUR GAGS - THEY NEVER HIT HOME.
THEY'LL HAVE TO HAVE A GUEST ROOM WHEN THEY HAVE US VISIT THEM.
THEY'LL HAVE TO HIRE A HALL
CRAZY CONTEST
THIRTY.
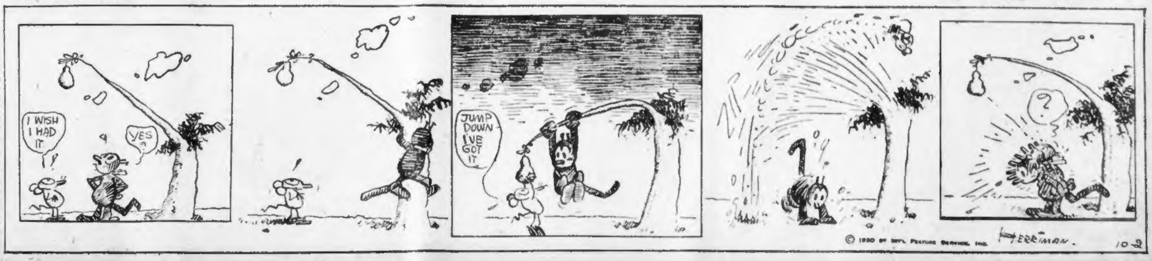
SODA WATER DRINKING CONTEST FOR EX-BARTENDERS FROM C. F. CAUNEY JERSEY
KEEP CLOSE TO THE RAIL.
© 1920 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
10-2

KRAZY KAT

By George Herriman



I WISH I HAD IT.
YES?
JUMP DOWN I'VE GOT IT
?
© 1920 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
HERRIMAN. 10-2

British Coal Report Stimulates Market

LIST GAINS FROM 1 TO 2 POINTS

Shorts Scurry to Cover in Industrial Departments; Issues Close Strong

By BROADAN WALL

New York, Oct. 2.—Cablegrams from London stating that the coal strike had been averted and that the strike notice had been suspended, acted as a stimulus to the stock market in the afternoon yesterday and turned an irregular market into one of strength.

Shorts scurried to cover in the industrial departments and caused gains of from one to two points throughout the list. Railroad shares were purchased urgently and some unusually large gains were made in some of the high priced issues. The close was strong and around the best prices of the session. Today's market is expected to reflect a continuation of the upward movement that was in full swing when trading ended yesterday.

Quite a number of bankers and brokers who have recently been bearish changed their attitude yesterday for the first time in two weeks and began advising the purchase of stocks on the theory that the worst was nearly over if not passed. This change of position is attributed to the big decline which the industrials have suffered and the fact that by reason of the liquidation of inventories and curtailment of output the manufacturing companies require less working capital.

Another favorable factor is that money lenders are offering more money on time with securities as collateral. Money brokers are now seeking prospective borrowers, whereas, two months ago, the brokers were unable to obtain any funds on time.

WAVERLEY TRUST CO. OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The recently organized Waverley Trust Co. opened for business at No. 474 Trapelo road, Waverley, Mass., this morning with a capital of $50,000 and a paid in surplus of $10,000. Its stock is wholly owned in Belmont and its officers and employes all reside in that town. Edwin E. Farnham, a Belmont Selectman, is president of the new bank, and F. Alexander Chandler and Everett S. Hilton are vice-presidents. The treasurer is Irving F. Munroe. Directors are the above-named and J. Watson Flett, Amos L. Taylor, J. Frank Edgar, Fred E. Poor, John P. Bradbury, Charles J. McGinnis and Henry O. Underwood.

While the bank is now occupying temporary quarters, its directors expect to erect a building for it within two years. They intend to cater entirely to local depositors and borrowers. The bank has the support of the entire community, and over half a million in deposits pledged already.

BOND MARKET ACTIVE DURING SEPTEMBER

The bond market was active during September this year, transactions totalling more than for any month since May last, when Liberty Bonds selling was at its height. During the first four days of this week bond sales on the New York Stock Exchange aggregated $74,024,000, and for all September the total was $281,753,000.

The increase over August was $77,703,000 and approximately 60 per cent. of the business last month was in its last ten days.

Cotton Markets

New York, Oct. 2.—The cotton market opened yesterday with an advance in prices owing to strong cables, but reacted quickly under realization selling and belief that September deterioration of the crop was less than expected. Liverpool and the South sold. The market was barely steady at the close. Prices were:

	Open	High	Low	Last Sale	Prev. Close
January	22.00	22.07	21.48	21.50	21.70
March	21.65	21.75	21.10	21.10	21.40
May	21.34	21.50	20.80	*20.86	21.05
July	20.65	20.88	20.25	20.30	20.45
October	24.00	24.15	23.00	23.15	23.90
December	22.20	22.42	21.85	21.85	22.15

Spot 25.00; down 50.

NEW ORLEANS.

	Open	High	Low	Close Price
January	20.95	21.20	20.76	20.76
October	22.50	22.50	22.00	22.00

LIVERPOOL.

	Open	High	Low	Closing Bid	Prev. Close
January	16.42	16.84	16.42	16.83	16.56
March	16.12	16.36	16.12	16.28	16.25
May	15.84	16.16	15.84	15.99	15.95
June	....	....	....	15.93	15.91
July	15.54	15.76	15.54	15.69	15.66
August	....	....	....	15.48	15.46
September	....	....	....	17.28	....
October	16.95	17.46	16.95	17.28	17.02

Spot—19.17-2. Sales 3,000 bales.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Board of Trade prices yesterday were:

	Open	High	Low	Closing Oct 1	Sept. 30
WHEAT—
Dec	216	216	209	211¾-12	216-17
Mar	209¼	210¾	203¾	207	210¾-11¼
CORN—
Oct	103b	106¼	102	102b
Dec	91⅛	93⅞	91	93¼-92⅞	92¾-⅝
May	95	96¼	93⅝	95⅜-¼	95-⅝
OATS—
Dec	56¼	57⅝	56¼	57⅝a	56¾-½
May	60⅝	61⅞	60⅝	61⅝	61-60⅞
PORK—
Oct.	23.10	23.20	23.05	23.05a	23.15
Nov.	23.60	23.67	23.55	23.55	23.80
LARD—
Oct.	19.22	19.30	19.00	19.00b	19.10
Nov.	19.37	19.50	19.20	19.20	....
Jan.	17.32	17.47	17.15	17.25	17.30

Federal Reserve Gold

The $10,000,000 in gold which arrived yesterday on the steamship Baltic, is consigned to the Federal Reserve Bank and is part of the yellow metal held in London on Federal Reserve account.

Safety Is the First Essential
—then Income
IF YOU DON'T NEED A LARGE DIVIDEND RETURN
—BUY LIBERTYS
IF YOU DO
—BUY LOEW'S
Now Paying 14%
Owns Choicest Boston Real Estate and Other Investments Worth
OVER $4,000,000
EARNING OVER 25%
Full particulars from
M. DOUGLAS FLATTERY,
Managing Director
Orpheum Theatre, Boston

New York Stocks

The range of prices and sales of active stocks on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday were:

	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Cge
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
14200 Studebaker	53⅝	55⅛	53⅝	55⅛	+ 1⅝
1300 SuperiorOil	17⅝	18⅛	17⅝	18⅛
600 TennCopper	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
2200 TexasCo	48¼	49⅞	47¾	49⅝	+ 1⅝
3800 Tex&Pac	38⅝	39⅝	38⅝	38⅝	— ⅛
1400 TexPC&O	35⅛	37⅛	35⅛	37⅛	+ 2⅛
1000 TobProd	66⅞	67½	66⅞	67	+ ⅛
3200 TransOil	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛	+ ⅛
700 UnionOil	26⅝	27	26⅝	27	+ ⅜
11100 UnionPac	125⅝	126⅝	124¼	125⅝	+ ⅞
100 UnitFruit	196	196	196	196	— 1
800 URI of SF	12⅛	12⅞	12⅛	12⅞	— ⅛
1100 URIofSFpf	27	27	26	26⅞	— ⅛
4700 UnRetSt'es	70	71⅛	69⅞	71⅛	+ 1⅛
3800 USFoodP.	*47	47	46	47
1600 USInAlco.	80¼	81⅞	80¼	81⅛	+ ¼
3800 USRubber	75⅝	77⅛	75⅝	76⅝	+ 1⅛
100 USSmelting	54⅛	54⅛	54⅛	54⅛	— ⅛
42200 USSteel	86	86⅞	85⅞	86⅞	+ ⅞
2400 UtahCop	60⅛	61⅛	60⅛	61⅛	+ 1⅛
2900 VanadCorp	*64	65⅛	64	64⅞	— ⅛
7000 Wabash	12	12⅛	12	12⅛
6900 Wab pf(A)	31⅞	32⅛	31⅞	32	+ ⅛
3,500 WMaryland	15	15⅛	14⅞	14⅞	— ⅛
2100 WestPac	28½	29	28¼	29	+ 1¼
800 WEl&Mfg	46⅞	47	46⅞	47	+ 1
1800 Wheel&LE	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛
2000 WhiteMotor	43⅛	43⅛	42⅛	43⅛	+ ⅛
27200 WillysO'd	10⅛	10⅛	10	10⅛	— ⅛
3700 WisconsinC	40	46⅛	40	46⅛	+ 6⅛
900 WorthP'p	57¼	58⅛	57¼	58⅛	+ ⅛

*Ex-dividend.

Total sales of stock, 938,000 shares; bonds, $17,132,000.

LIBERTY BOND PRICES

Prices for Liberty Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, with changes from Thursday were:

	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Cge
3½s.1947	90.16	91.50	91.22	91.50
do reg	91.32	91.32	91.32	91.32
2d4s.1942	87.22	87.58	87.22	87.58	+ .48
1st4¼s.'47	88.10	88.48	88.00	88.48	+ .48
2d4¼s.'42	87.10	87.60	87.00	87.56	+ .36
3d4¼s.'28	88.60	89.54	88.60	89.44	+ .94
do reg	88.44	88.44	88.44	88.44
4th4¼s.'38	87.10	87.70	87.10	87.74	+ .72
do reg	87.30	87.30	87.30	87.30
Victory4¾s	95.84	96.10	95.80	96.10	+ .32
do reg	95.60	95.60	95.60	95.60
Victory3¾s	95.80	96.10	95.80	96.00	+ .24

FOREIGN BOND PRICES

	High	Low
Anglo-French 5s, 1920	99⅛	99⅛
Argentine 5s, rcts, 1909	69⅝	69⅝
Belgium external 7½s, 1945	98⅛	97⅛
Chinese 5s, rcts, 1951	42⅝	42⅝
City of Marseilles 6s, 1934	84⅛	84⅛
City of Paris 6s, 1921	91⅝	91⅛
Dominion of Canada 5s, 1921	98⅛	98
Dominion of Canada 5s, 1926	90⅝	90⅛
Dominion of Canada 5s 1931	90⅛	90⅛
French Government 8s, 1945	101⅞	101⅛
Japan 4s £, 1931	58	58
Japan 1st 4½s £ 1925	75½	75
Japan 2d 4½s, 1925	74⅞	74⅝
Switzerland 8s 1940	103⅛	103⅛
U.K.ofG.Brit.&Ire.3-yr.notes,1921	98⅛	98⅛
U.K.ofG.Brit.&Ire.5½ctfs,1922	95⅛	95⅛
U.K.ofG.Brit.&Ire.5½ctfs,1929	89⅝	89⅛
U.K.ofG.Brit.&Ire 20-yr.5½s,'37	86⅛	86⅛
U. S. of Mexico 4s, 1954	34	34
U. S. of Mexico 5s £, 1945	41⅝	41⅝

Sugar to Go Down

A local financial publication says there is expectation in Boston sugar circles that the price of refined may go as low as 10 cents a pound. Raw sugar has sold in New York at 7¾ cents a pound, cost and freight, or the equivalent of 9 cents duty paid.

Iron and Steel Prices

The Iron Age quotes the average price of eight principal iron and steel products as $84.04, against an average price of $84.66 on September 21. The iron market is reported softer.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER COMPANY
New York, September 28, 1920.
The Board of Directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of one and one-half per cent. (1½%) on the preferred capital stock of this Company, payable October 15th, 1920, to preferred stockholders of record at the close of business October 8th, 1920.
OWEN SHEPHERD, Treasurer.

SUGAR WEAK IN HOME MARKET

Boston List Irregular, but Improved in Last Hour; Quiet Day on Curb

Stocks were irregular in trend on the Boston Exchange yesterday and the market was narrow on the whole, and aside from the decline of American Sugar developed little to cause comment. American Sugar sold down to par here and below it in New York. It was off more than eight points in Boston at one time and closed with a loss of more than six. Simms Magneto, Root & Van Dervoort and American Sugar were the issues for which new 1920 lows were recorded. The three stocks with the largest turnover were International Products, Carson Hill and National Leather.

COPPERS WERE QUIET.

Coppers were quiet and had a heavy tone at the close. United States Smelting was down 1½ at its lowest, but at the close had recovered part of its loss. Its recent weakness is due to smaller earnings in the last quarter than it has reported for some time. Among issues to recede a point were Calumet & Arizona, Osceola, Loew's, Inc., and American sugar preferred. Agricultural Chemical sagged two. Gains of a point or more were made by Gray & Davis, Mexican Investment, New England Telephone, Amoskeag and International Products. Carson Hill was off a fraction. Issues rated ex-dividend were Kerr Lake, Punta Alegre, Agricultural Chemical common and preferred, and American Steel Foundry. The market improved in tone in the last hour.

CURB LIST WAS HEAVY.

The Curb list was very quiet in early trading and the market was heavy at the start. It improved a little later, but was irregular at its best. Trading slackened in volume. Boston & Montana, which ended unchanged, continued to hold the lead as to activity, and the only other issues in which dealings amounted to much were Arizona Silver and Tip Top.

Declines included Gardner Motor, 3; United Verde Extension, ½; Truro, ¼; Daddy, 69 cents; Mutual, 5 cents; Tip Top, 1 cent, and Pilgrim, 3 cents.

Among gains were Republic Navigation, ¼; Porcupine Premier, 1 cent; La Rose, 12 cents; Homa, 1 cent; Hecla Divide, 1 cent; First National, 3 cents and Arizona Silver, 2 cents.

BOSTON FINANCIAL NOTES.

August gross of Bangor & Aroostook increased $83,619, while the road reports a deficit of $35,358 for the month. For eight months gains were $802,056 in gross and $201,881 in net.

T. J. Coolidge, 3d, has resigned from the board of directors of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

Mark R. Hodges of Schirmer, Atherton & Co. has been elected a member of the Boston Stock Exchange.

Osceola is in a strong position as regards treasury assets. At the end of 1919 it had net current assets of $3,050,000, of which over $500,000 represented cash and government securities. This is equivalent to about $31.75 per share on the 96,150 shares outstanding. The treasury position has not materially changed this year.

On Monday the Hendee Manufacturing Co. will reduce working time at its plant one hour a day. Cancellation of orders and the general retrenchment of business is the reason.

Nashua, N. H., has awarded a temporary loan of $30,000 dated Oct. 4, payable Dec. 29, 1920, to S. N. Bond & Co. at 6.25.

The Lee Tire & Rubber Co. has lowered its tire prices from 15 to 20 per cent.

The gas output of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for September was 528,941,000 cubic feet, an increase of 2.5 per cent. compared with the corresponding month a year ago.

Ventura Consolidated has declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, payable Nov. 1 on stock of record Oct. 15.

FAR EAST TRADE EXPERT TO HEAD BOSTON BUREAU

Washington, Oct. 2.—George L. Logan, formerly American consul at Singapore and Penang, Straits Settlements, and for several years secretary of the Philippine commission at Manila, has been appointed district officer manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce at Boston. Logan is considered an authority on American trade expansion in the Far East.

ISSUES 500 MILLION MORE PAPER FRANCS

Paris, Oct. 2.—The French paper money circulation was increased 500 million francs this week by the issuance of Banque de France bills.

Flour and Produce

Butter receipts were 225,934 lbs. Prices were:

Extra creamery, assorted spruce tubs at 61½ to 62c; extra creamery, ash tubs at 60 to 60½c; creamery, boxes and prints, at 62½ to 63c; creamery, firsts, at 54 to 59c; seconds at 51 to 54c; renovated at 51½ to 52c; ladles at 46 to 47c; dairy butter at 50 to 55c.

Cheese—Receipts 1,258 boxes. Fresh choice at 29 to 30c; firsts at 28½ to 28¾c.

Eggs—Receipts 2,093 cases. Nearby hennery at 85 to 86c; Eastern extras at 74 to 76c; Western extras at 70 to 72c; Western extra firsts at 61 to 63c; Western firsts at 58 to 60c; storage extras at 55 to 56c; storage firsts at 52 to 54c.

Beans—Receipts 1,000 bushels. New York and Michigan choice pea at $6.50 to $7 per 100 pounds; common to good at $6.25 to $6.75; California small white at $6.75 to $7; yellow eyes, fancy, at $11.50 to $12; fair to good at $10 to $11; red kidney, fancy, at $16 to $17; dried Lima beans at $11 to $11.50.

Poultry—Receipts 486 packages. Northern roasting chickens at 55 to 60c per pound; Northern dressed broiler chickens at 45 to 48c per pound; do. Western at 46 to 50c per pound; Northern fowl at 43 to 44c per pound; Western ice-packed fowl at 39 to 41c; pigeons at $3.50 to $4 per dozen; squabs at $5 to $8 per dozen; live fowl at 36 to 37c per pound; live chickens at 33 to 35c per pound.

Flour receipts were 1,840 barrels. Prices were:

Old Spring patents at $11.75 to $12.75 for standard and $13.25 to $14.25 for special short; hard Winter patents at $11.40 to $12.75; soft Winter patents at $11.75 to $12.25; soft Winter straights at $11.25 to $11.75; soft Winter wheat clears at $10.25 to $11.25; rye flour, white patent, at $9.50 to $10.25.

Corn—Receipts none. Carload prices: For shipment No. 1 yellow is quoted at $1.34 to $1.36; No. 2 yellow at $1.32 to $1.34. Corn products per 100 pounds: White corn flour at $4.25; white cornmeal at $3.75 to $4; yellow granulated cornmeal at $3.60; bolted at $3.55; hominy grits and samp at $3.75 to $4; cream of maize at $5.50.

Oats—Receipts 2,000 bushels. Carload prices: Oats for shipment are quoted at 71 to 73c for fancy 40 to 42 pounds, 70 to 72c for fancy 38 to 40 pounds, 68 to 70c for regular 38 to 40 pounds and 66 to 68c for regular 34 to 36 pounds. Oatmeal per 90 pounds in sacks, rolled $3.75, cut and ground $4.12.

Millfeed—Receipts none. Carload prices: Shipment, Spring bran at $44; Winter bran at $44.50; mixed feed at $50 to $52; middlings at $49 to $53; cotton seed meal at $58 to $64; stock feed at $55; oat hulls at $24; hominy feed at $53.50; red dog at $76; second clears at $86; gluten feed at $62.

Hay and Straw—Receipts 21 cars hay, no straw. Carload prices: New hay, No. 1 timothy at $43 to $44; No. 2 timothy at $39 to $41; No. 1 Eastern at $39 to $41; No. 2 Eastern at $34 to $37; No. 3 hay at $31 to $32; clover, mixed, at $34 to $38; fine hay at $29 to $31; rye straw at $26 to $27; oat straw at $16 to $17.

Boston Stocks

The range of prices on the Boston Stock Exchange yesterday was:

Stocks	High	Low	Last	Net Chge
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

BONDS.

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

xEx-dividend.

Total sales of stocks 13,556 shares; bonds, $50,100.

Boston Curb

The range of prices on the Boston Curb yesterday was:

	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1000 Black Hawk	38c	37c	38c	— 1c
55120 Bos & Mont	42c	40c	42c
1020 Crystal	38c	36c	36c	— 2c
500 Daddy	25c	25c	25c	—69c
1050 Denbigh	17c	16c	17c	+ 1c
100 Eagle & B'bell	2 1-16	2 1-16	2 1-16
1300 Eureka	28c	26c	27c
300 First Nat'l	80c	80c	80c	+ 3c
50 Gardner Motor	21	21	21	— 3
2900 Hecla	9c	9c	9c	+ 1c
4850 Homa Oil	8c	8c	8c	+ 1c
970 Imperial	12c	11c	11c	— 2c
1020 La Rose	35c	35c	35c	+12c
200 Majestic	12c	12c	12c
600 Manhattan	16c	16c	16c
8358 Merrimac	21c	21c	21c
8050 Mutual	65c	55c	58c	— 5c
1000 New Douglas	16c	16c	16c
600 Ophir	47c	45c	47c	— 6c
430 Pilgrim	10c	7c	7c	— 3c
1000 Porc Premier	3c	3c	3c	+ 1c
600 Ranier	60c	51c	60c
250 Republic Nav	11⅛	11	11⅛	+ ⅛
10 Radio pfd	3	3	3
800 Ruby Cons	41c	41c	41c	— 1c
2625 Seven Metals	9c	8c	8c	— 1c
1200 Silver Reef	7c	7c	7c
4000 Silver Pick	3c	3c	3c	— 3c
2200 Texana	7c	6c	7c
200 Truro	1⅛	1	1	— ⅛
100 Universal Silv	2c	2c	2c
50 Utd Verde Ext	30½	30½	30½	— ⅛
200 Verde Mines	17c	17c	17c

Total Curb sales 140,535 shares.

Wall Street Briefs

Sales during September by Sears, Roebuck & Co. amounted to $16,275,524, a decrease of $3,749,932, or 28.11 per cent. For nine months sales aggregated $189,136,868, an increase of $27,664,073, or 17.07 per cent.

Officials of both Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh say that nothing definite has yet come of consolidation negotiations.

President Seiberling of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. says of that corporation that its liquid assets exceed total liabilities by more than $70,000,000. Its sales for the first twenty-six days of last month aggregated more than $14,600,000.

The American Hawaiian Steamship Co. plans to put eleven ships in the coast-to-coast freight service which will begin with a sailing from New York to Pacific ports on Oct. 9. The Pacific ports of call will be San Pedro, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. Atlantic ports will be New York and Boston. No Central American ports will be made.

The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York has opened an office in Constantinople to meet growing requirements of American and European business interests in the Near East. Like the company's other foreign offices at London, Liverpool, Paris, Havre and Brussels the new branch is an independent banking unit, conducted on American lines and rendering American service.

Industrial Items

On Sept. 1 there were 345 steel vessels being built or contracted for in American shipyards and their aggregate tonnage is 1,236,547 gross tons.

The Chicago & Northwestern has ordered of the American Car & Foundry Co. 250 refrigerator cars, 50 caboose car and 25 passenger cars.

The Laconia Car Co. has unfilled orders totaling $1,800,000 or enough to keep its plants busy for eight months.

Equipment orders placed by the Southern Pacific call for seventy locomotives, 5,400 freight cars, 50 steel passenger cars and 140 electric cars. The freight cars would make up one train over 40 miles long.

Within a year the American Ice Co. has expended $1,750,000 on construction work, having built artificial ice plants at Camden, N. J., Flushing, Bay Ridge and Brooklyn in New York, and thoroughly modernized a plant in Manhattan borough. It has built two storehouses in Philadelphia of 8,000 and 10,000 tons capacity and one of the latter size in Boston. In the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1919, the company did a gross business of $15,345,728 compared with $12,622,867 in 1918, $9,840,529 in 1917 and $9,172,962 in 1916.

Dividend Declarations

Sullivan Machinery Co. declared quarterly dividend of $1, payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Oct. 1.

Initial quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on common stock of Spanish River Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd., has been declared. Quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on preferred was also declared, both dividends payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Sept. 30.

Bush Terminal Bldg. declared quarterly dividend on preferred of $1.75 a share, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 30.

Ventura Consolidated Oil Fields declared quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share, payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 15.

Wm. Cramp & Son Ship & Engine Building Co. declared a quarterly dividend of $1, payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Oct. 1.

American Wringer Co. declared quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on preferred stock, payable Oct. 15 on stock of record Sept. 30.

Maple Leaf Milling Co. declared quarterly dividends of 3 per cent. on common and 1¾ per cent. on preferred, payable Oct. 18 to holders of record Oct. 3.

Butler Bros. declared quarterly dividend of 3½ per cent. payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 15.

525 P. C. MADE IN CHAIN LUNCH

Confidential Report to Managers Reveals Profiteering to the Last Penny

The Boston American's Bring-Your-Lunch-From-Home movement is bearing fruit. The hotels of this city are to cut their prices of food next week. It is believed that the largest reductions will be in the prices of vegetables, fruits and cereals.

Members of the Boston Hotel Men's Association will meet early next week to determine what the reductions will be. They have practically agreed that large reductions shall be made on certain articles on the menus.

OTHERS SHOULD FOLLOW.

Now it is up to the proprietors of other restaurants in this city to reduce their prices to a reasonable level. The thousands of persons who have joined the American's lunch-from-home campaign for the purpose of lowering restaurant prices will be interested to know that according to a confidential report to managers, as high as 525 per cent. above cost is charged for food by a chain lunchroom system in this city.

One of the purposes of this confidential report was to inform the managers concerning the articles of food netting the greatest return to the company. The managers were instructed to "push" the articles that netted the highest percentage of profit.

REPORT SHOWS COSTS.

The typewritten list gives the cost per order, retail price, portions per unit and percentage above cost. The report in possession of the American was issued at a time when wholesale prices were at their highest. Although there have been reductions in the wholesale price of many items since the report was issued the prices on several have been increased by the lunch room company.

"Charge as much as the people will stand" seems to be the motto of the company.

According to the report, bean, pea and vegetable soup cost four and three-tenths cents per order and brought the company a return of 248 per cent. above cost.

233 PER CENT. ON PIE.

The return on giblet stew, costing six and six-tenths cents per order, was only 203 per cent.

Washington pie, costing three cents an order (seven cuts to a pie), brought a return of 233 per cent.

Spice cakes are great money-makers, according to the report, as they cost only one and six-tenths cents an order, while they retail at ten cents. The percentage above cost is 525.

Coffee rolls are among the leaders, returning 425 per centage above cost.

Gingerbread is in the same class. Cocoanut buns bring a return of 400 per cent.

NEW GOVERNOR NAMED IN LOWER CALIFORNIA

Calexico, Cal., Oct. 2.—Manuel Baleros, it is reported here, has been appointed Governor of Lower California, replacing Governor Salazar, and will take control in a few days. General Calles, Secretary of War for Mexico, has arrived at Mexicali and is expected to remain a week inaugurating important changes in government policies. Baleros accompanied General Calles. With the coming of General Calles all saloons in Mexicali were ordered closed.

Washington, Oct. 2. — Esteban Cantu, former Governor of Lower California, who was deposed by the present Mexican government, called on Secretary Tumulty and discussed Mexican affairs.

PHI BETA KAPPA PICKS NINE DARTMOUTH SENIORS

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 2.—In the first election from among the members of the class of 1921, nine seniors were chosen by the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Dartmouth College. The men elected: Nelson W. Barker of Evanston, Ill.; Seth Densmore of Hanover, N. H.; Warren S. Homer of Cleveland, O.; Frank L. Lambert of Westmoreland, N. H.; Robert L. Loeb of New York city; Franklin McDuffee of Rochester, N. H.; John P. Mitchell, Jr., of Sterling, Mass.; Howard J. Pullen of Battle Creek, Mich., and Frederick M. Sercombe of East Orange, N. J.

SACCHARINE SUBSTITUTE VIOLATOR PAYS COSTS

Lawrence, Oct. 2.—The first prosecution in Massachusetts for violation of the food laws in using saccharine as a sugar substitute was called in district court here when Jacob Fuseine and James Breseen appeared as defendants. Investigation made by State officials indicated that they had sold saccharined tonic which they manufactured in a local plant.

Swift & Co. Notes

It was reported in Chicago yesterday that Swift & Co. have sold $40,000,000 of five-year notes to the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank and the First Trust & Savings Bank, and that a syndicate is being formed, including the Merchants' Loan & Trust Co., Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, all of Chicago, and the Guaranty Co. and Chase Securities Corporation of New York, which will offer them soon.

U. S. Rubber Meeting

The directors of the United States Rubber Co. will hold their October meeting on Thursday next and, it was stated in New York yesterday, that while the usual quarterly dividends of 2 per cent. will be declared on preferred and common, there will be no consideration of a stock dividend. It is officially stated also that no unusual financing is to be considered in the immediate future.

Talk of a Rail Merger

After Chairman Charles Hayden and President Gorman of the Rock Island Road and President Bremner of Minneapolis & St. Louis left, with other officials, on an inspection trip of the last named road there was talk of a possible merger.

Disbursements This Month

Dividend and interest disbursements this month will total $374,058,786, against $379,921,698 for October, 1919, according to the Journal of Commerce compilation.

Is Marriage a Success?

"Married couples can be happy if both parties will make enough effort."

Nearly every letter received by the Marriage Editor has contained these words, at least in substance.

Today a letter came which made the editor ask, "Can they?"

Here it is, dear readers; it speaks for itself. A dutiful wife and devoted mother wrote it. No one reading the letter can doubt her sincerity or the magnitude of the effort she has made. Even their friends, she says, think their marriage a success. But can it be a success, where the wife suffers so much and so constantly?

What do American readers think

"JUST A MISTAKE."

Marriage Editor:

I have been reading the opinions of others on marriage for about a week before I could dare venture to write about it myself. You would think I had no experience; I certainly have. I have been married for twelve years and found out by experience that marriage will never be a success unless husband and wife use their strong will to make it so.

Even when marriage is a love match you will find out sooner or later that jealousy, difference in standing, in education and character, etc., will make it turn into a miserable failure if you don't use that strong will of yours the best you can.

In my case it has been most hard to make it a success. I was "married off" to my husband when I was only a very innocent girl of seventeen. I had never been interested in or associated with men or even with girls of my own age; my place had always been at home to take care of my sick mother. I had scorned quite a few offers of marriage and never received any attentions. When this fellow proposed, my mother, thinking the right man for me had come along, encouraged me to accept him and I did so, to please her (my only thought at that time), not knowing the seriousness of the step I was taking.

FOR THE BABY'S SAKE.

After three months I was married to him without having been once alone with him in the house or even having gone out once with him. Soon after our marriage I found out he did not deserve to have married a candid girl, as I was. I felt very much disappointed and inclined to leave him and go home to mother, but I lacked the courage. I thought it would break mother's heart to know of my unhappiness, and I dreaded publicity an awful lot.

On the first anniversary of our marriage a baby boy was born to us, and for my baby's sake I stood all trials until my heart and soul broke down and I could not stand it any longer. One day I gather all my courage, took my baby in my arms and went to my brother's house. Before any of my relatives could find out the reason of my unexpected visit, he was there, pleading with me to go back to him, and apologizing. Then, another and another time, he always promising to live right thereafter and always going back to the same habits within a short time. And I always gave in for the sake of my boy.

Was it right for me to do so? Can anybody tell me if it wouldn't have been better for me to leave him, or whether I have done right to stand for all that I have stood for and suffer terribly all my life, as I do?

HAS TWO BAD HABITS.

My husband has two bad habits, the worst a woman could ever stand, and he is very much more interested in the gentle sex than a married man should be. He is ten years my senior. I come from a very good family and have been well educated; he is very ignorant indeed and can hardly write his name. But he always does his best to provide for our home.

Looking at things on their best side, we never quarrel, and act very kindly towards one another; but the worst is that he cannot help me to raise my boy according to that standard of education I should like, so we always disagree on this account. Most of the people I know think our marriage a success, but it isn't either a success or a failure. It has been just a mistake.

How to repair it? Would the readers kindly express their opinions in my case.

C. P. T.

Boston.

WOULD LEAVE OUT "OBEY."

Dear Marriage Editor:

Marriage Editor: Is marriage a success? Yes and no. It depends entirely upon the parties involved. The fundamental principle of happiness is true love, but not blind love, for there should be perfect understanding, with a knowledge of each other's whims, and an allowance for shortcomings. The saying, "You never know a man (or woman) until you have lived with him," in my opinion is without foundation. Six months is long enough for any intelligent couple to determine their suitability.

The word "obey" should be erased from the marriage ceremony, insofar as it gives a husband the advantage in demanding obedience to his smallest wish, justified or not. If married life were established on a fifty-fifty basis much discord would be eliminated.

H. N. P.

Lynn.

BOTH MUST MAKE EFFORT.

The Marriage Editor:

Being married fifteen years, having five children, and not having reached the thirty-third milestone, gives me an exceptional opportunity to judge. There is absolutely nothing wrong with marriage as an institution, the trouble is with those that enter its portals, not realizing or caring to shoulder its many responsibilities. It seems rather ironical to observe, when a man enters any business, he analyzes and pays the most profound attention to every angle that will mean success; yet when that same ability is required in his matrimonial undertaking, it becomes absolutely void. He takes everything for granted and imagines things will adjust themselves of their own accord without any thought, action or sacrifice on his part.

Women enter the field of matrimony with that same degree of misunderstanding, dreaming of the things that might have been, but doing absolutely nothing to help bring those dreams to reality. Candidness compels me to say that man is the worst offender.

Men and women must build, as it were, a solid foundation. That foundation is based upon absolute equality in every human endeavor. They have got to start on an equal footing and sail through life giving and receiving the greatest amount of happiness.

M. B.

Springfield.

BRIEF AND EXPLICIT.

Marriage Editor:

A few suggestions that will make marriages happier. If a girl loves a man well enough to buy him a shirt and marry him and be a willing mother of ten or twelve children all will be well. Otherwise let her remain single.

MOTHER OF FOUR.

Roslindale.

U. S. INSPECTOR SOLD OUIJAS

Accused Man Says It Is Usual for Justice Officials to Carry Sidelines

Baltimore, Oct. 2. — Charges that profitable sidelines are common among employes of the Department of Justice "from the Attorney-General down" were made by Prison Inspector Joseph F. Fishman. Fishman made the assertions in his answer to a complaint against him filed with the Federal Trade Commission.

Fishman made an investigation of the Maryland State Prison recently as a result of which the Federal prisoners have already been ordered withdrawn from the prison. Governor Ritchie ordered an investigation of prison conditions which brought forth testimony that two prisoners died following beatings received in the institution.

Fishman, it is charged, when not employed inspecting prisons utilized his time in selling Ouija boards.

Washington, Oct. 2. — Attorney-General Palmer ordered Joseph F. Fishman, inspector of prisons, to appear before him and explain charges made by Fishman that "side lines" are common among employes of the Department of Justice.

Department of Justice officials declare that there was absolutely no truth in Fishman's charges. They indicated that if it was shown that Fishman had "side lines" he would be dismissed immediately. They explained that it was strictly against the rules of the department for employes to engage in other occupations while holding departmental positions.

102-YEAR-OLD WOMAN TO VOTE IN CONNECTICUT

Eastford, Ct., Oct. 2.—When Susan Bosworth Bradway, 102 years old, hale and hearty and a prominent member of the D. A. R., places her name on the voting list, October 5 it is believed that the little town of Eastford has the oldest woman voter in America, if not the oldest voter of either sex.

As far as can be learned there are upwards of two score of women past ninety years of age in this section of Connecticut entitled to vote, six of them are in the town of Lebanon and one, Miss Kenyon, ninety-eight, in the town of Plainfield.

WIFE DIES FEW HOURS AFTER HUSBAND'S DEMISE

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 2.—The death of Mrs. Augusta Bennett occurred within a few hours after that of her husband, Andrew J. Bennett, a Civil War veteran and formerly custodian of the federal building in this city. A double funeral was held from the Christian Community Church. Mrs. Bennett was suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

HAVERHILL SHOE WAR NEAR END

Owners and Workers Meet Monday to Reclassify Factories and Adjust Wages

Haverhill, Oct. 2.—More than 18,000 shoeworkers here are today in an optimistic mood for they believe a break is coming in the depressed situation which has tied up the shoe industry for three months.

Negotiations between the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' Association and the Shoe Workers' Protective Union have been resumed by mutual agreement after a conference between representatives of the manufacturers, the union and the Chamber of Commerce. A committee of the first two factions will meet Monday to reclassify the factories and adjust the wages.

The manufacturers have tentatively agreed to go after orders and reopen their factories pending the adjustment. When this is reached the "peace pact" will become a fact for a duration of fifteen months, eliminating possibilities of strikes, walkouts or lockouts or a reduction of wages in that period.

The news that an agreement had been reached to reopen negotiations caused great satisfaction, not only among unemployed shoeworkers, but in the retail section, where merchants have been suffering from lack of trade.

B. U. OPENS SATURDAY COURSES FOR TEACHERS

The Saturday morning courses for teachers and special students at the Boston University College of Business Administration opened today. Twenty-four courses are offered this year, according to Prof. Roy Davis, who is in charge, including commercial education, accounting, system building, salesmanship, psychology, economics, English, geography and modern languages.

GEORGE ALBREE TO RUN ON INDEPENDENT PAPERS

Concord, Oct. 2.—George Albree of Lexington road, this town, announces that he will run as an independent candidate for Representative from the 13th Middlesex district, comprising Concord, Lincoln, Sudbury, Wayland and Weston, at the election next month. He will oppose Representative Benjamin Loring Young of Weston, who is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket.

SULLIVAN TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR IN R. I.

Providence, Oct. 2.—State Democratic leaders announced today that former Mayor Edward M. Sullivan of Cranston will be the Democratic candidate for Governor of Rhode Island. The remainder of the Democratic State ticket was selected at a conference today.

'NO BILLS' IN 340 DRY LAW CASES

Breaden Cheese Defendants Freed; Federal Jury Returns 58 Indicements

Fifty-eight indictments and 340 "no bills" out of 398 alleged violations of the National Prohibition Act have just been returned by the Federal grand jury in its partial report to Judge James M. Morton, Jr., of the U. S. District Court. This jury has been busily engaged for almost two weeks in listening to evidence relative to the violation of the prohibition law.

Despite the fact the jury did not make any statement on its findings in the liquor cases, it is thought that expected comment is being withheld until such a time as the jury makes its final report.

Two of the most important alleged violations of the prohibition law brought to the attention of the jury were the Glynn conspiracy case and the Soracco assault case. In the Glynn case an indictment was found, while a "no bill" was returned against the Soraccos.

Last April Michael Glynn and his brother John, both of Brighton; Jeremiah J. Sullivan and Charles F. O'Connor, both of Worcester, were arrested on the charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law by transporting ten barrels of whiskey from Brighton to Worcester. Previous to the liquor being seized by the prohibition agents, it was claimed by the Glynn brothers, that the liquor was stolen from their home in Brighton.

The Soracco assault case was that of Thomas Soracco, proprietor of the Breaden Cheese Inn of Cohasset, and his two sons, Frank and Alfred, who were arrested on the charge of assaulting Prohibition Agent Patrick Keefe.

POLICEMEN'S STRIKE COST ROXBURY COMMITTEE $681

A report issued by Victor Heath, chairman of the Roxbury Vigilance Committee, appointed in connection with the policemen's strike a year ago, shows that $681 was collected from banks and business houses in Roxbury "to help relieve the strain as much as possible" in that section during the trouble.

Frank Ferdinand contributed $100; Timothy Smith, $100; Roxbury Institution for Savings, $50; National Rockland Bank, $50; Almira Fenno Gendrot, $50; J. S. Waterman Sons, Inc., $50; People's National Bank, $50; Long's Shoe Store, $20; Roxbury Trust Co., $50; Eliot Saving Bank, $50; C. D. Swain, $25; Houghton & Dutton, $25; George Melhado Company, $10; Kenney and Savage, $5; John H. Duffy, $5; W. Bowman Cutter, $15; H. S. Lawrence Company, $25; A Friend, $1.

The expenditures were: Waldorf Lunch, $8.20; shoes, etc., $78; Oliver L. Briggs Company, pool balls, $12; Dudley Garage, $13.90; H. E. Montgomery, auto hire, $5; George Melhado Company, cigars and tobacco, etc., $617.22, making a total expended of $732.41. The Roxbury Board of Trade contributed $51.41 to make up the deficit caused by the expenditures.

MANCHESTER VETERAN WINS ARMY APPOINTMENT

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 2.—Captain Burret H. Hinman of this city has been appointed to the staff of the Judge Advocate of the army with the rank of captain. He served in the World War as a captain in the first army headquarters regiment and was seventeen months overseas. He was formerly a captain in the First Infantry, N. H. N. G., and went to the Texas border in command of a company. Since returning from France he has been practicing law in this city.

BOUGHT "MOONSHINE" SHORTLY BEFORE DEATH

Fall River, Oct. 2.—Ebenezer McGill, aged fifty-two, died in a local hospital under mysterious circumstances. The police are investigating the case for the reason that McGill declared before his death that he bought a bottle of "moonshine" in Fairhaven for $8.

Port of Boston

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1.

ARRIVED.

SS. Argon, Moller, Port Arthur, with oil for Standard Oil Co.; to berth 2nd, at East Boston.

SS. Arlington, Ricker, Lamberts Point, Va., with 2,832 tons of coal for New England Fuel and Trans. Co. at Everett.

SS. City of Columbus, Diehl, Savannah, with merchandise and passengers to L. Wildes; at pier 42, Hoosac, Charlestown.

SS. City of Gloucester, Larsen, Gloucester, Mass., with merchandise to David S. Simpson.

SS. Cowan, Fullerton, Norfolk, with 3,251 tons of coal for Burton-Furber Coal Co.; vessel to Coastwise Trans. Co.; at East Boston.

SS. Delaware, Foren, New York, with merchandise to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc., at Union Wharf.

SS. Lake Ellsbury, Shipps, Philadelphia, to finish loading for Gothenburg and Christiania; vessel to C. H. Sprague Son; at pier 40, Hoosac, Charlestown.

SS. Lake Yemassee, Small, Baltimore, with coal for Castner, Curran Bullitt, Inc.; vessel to C. H. Sprague & Sons; in Mystic River.

SS. Lampasas, Davidson, Galveston, with merchandise to Clyde line, p. m., Sept. 30; at Lewis Wharf.

SS. Meteor, Campbell, Newport News, with 3,200 tons of coal, for C. H. Sprague & Son; at Edison's, South Boston.

SS. North Land, Allen, New York, with merchandise and passengers to Eastern SS. Lines, Inc.

SS. North Wind, Ranier, Norfolk, with 3,050 tons of coal, for Boston & Albany R.R.; vessel to Inter. Coast SS. Co., at East Boston.

SS. Ontario, Bond, Baltimore via Norfolk, with merchandise and passengers to C. H. Maynard; at pier 2, South Boston.

SS. Virginia (Br.), Pritten, Liverpool, Sept. 18, with merchandise to Cunard Co.; at west side of Cunard pier, East Boston.

SS. William M. Burton, Pray, Philadelphia, for repairs; at Fore River, Quincy.

Tug Ballcamp, from Norfolk, towing barge Harry F. Hooper; left barges Annapolis and Tompkinsville at Providence.

Tug Boxer, Corkum, Philadelphia, towing barge Penn, 30th; left barge Irwin at Providence.

Tug Bristol, from Providence, R. I., for inspection, 30th.

Tug Mary C. McNally, Ross, Lynn, towing barge Varina, 29th.

Tug Nottingham, Blizzard, New York, towing barges L. & W. B. C. C. No.'s 2 (for Salem), 5 and 9.

Tug Standard H. Wiley, Providence, towing barge Socony No. 58.

Tug Volant, Duncan, Solomons Island, Md., with two pontoons for Fore River drydock, 30th.

SS. Charles L. Jeffrey, Gay, New York, for Rockland; in Nantasket Roads.

SAILED.

SS. China Arrow, trial run in the bay; Fort Victoria (Br.), Hamilton, Bermuda, via New York; Garfield, New York; Governor Dingley, Eastport, Lubec and St. John, N. B.; Kaweah, Port Lobos, Mex.; Lady of Gaspe (Br.), Halifax, N. S., and St. John's, N. F.; Lake Ellendale, Rio Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres; Lake Fray, Newport News; Lake Louise, New York and Santa Marta; Lake Mary, Baltimore; Maryland, (Br.), do.; Massasoit, Portland; Mohawk, Grasselli, N. J.; Nantucket, Norfolk and Baltimore; North Land, New York; Prince George (Br.), Yarmouth, N. S.; Ransom B. Fuller, Portland (latter not 30th); San Mateo, Havana and Port Limon; Tregenna (Br.), New York, not 30th; Walter D. Noyes, Newport News; tugs Boxer, Philadelphia, towing barge Horace A. Allyn, calling at Providence for barges Irwin and George R. Stetson; Keshena, towing barge from Queen (from Norfolk), Newburyport; Neptune, Salem to return with barge Chisholm, pick up Biwabik and [illegible] for Wings Neck; sch. Billie Martin, Philadelphia and Manzanillo, latter from off the Graves where she anchored Sunday.

STEAMERS DUE.

SATURDAY—Bremerton, from Antwerp; Gulfland, from Port Arthur; Hoven, from Port Lobos; Point Arena, from Boca Grande.

MONDAY—Lake Fannin, from Buenos Ayres via Rio Janeiro.

CITY WATER LOSS $70,000 YEARLY

Survey Shows 900,000-Gallon Leakage Daily, in Charlestown Alone

Leakage in the main and service pipes of the metropolitan water service is costing Boston at the rate of over $50,000 per year, according to a statement from the Mayor's office.

A waste water survey of South Boston and the South End, is to begin at once at a cost of $10,000, the Mayor announced. This was decided following the detection of 900,000 gallons of water per day, in Charlestown, where the first survey was held. This survey cost several thousand dollars, a sum that was more than offset by the annual saving in waste water.

A general survey, if carried out by all the cities and towns supplied by the metropolitan system, would result in detecting immense losses and would postpone an expenditure of approximately $50,000 to extend the source of water supply to the Ware and Swift Rivers, in the opinion of Mayor Peters.

The loss to Boston is based upon the loss of Charlestown, which if equalled in other parts of the city would reach $50,000. Public Works Department officials state it would be much greater.

THOUSANDS IDLE AS RESULT OF LOW WATER

Willimantic, Ct., Oct. 2.—Owing to low water, thousands of mill hands along the Shetucket river are idle today.

The great American Linen Company mill, with its 3,000 hands, has been idle several days. At Windham Mills, Baltic, Occum, Taftville and Greenville, the river is very low.

For the first time in many years mills along the Quinebaug, French, Moosup and Five Mile rivers, near Plainfield, are short of water, causing loss of $200,000 a week to the help in wages.

3 HAVERHILL RUNAWAY BROTHERS FOUND IN N. H.

Haverhill, Oct. 2.—Roy, William and Harry Ely, aged eight, twelve and fourteen, respectively, reported missing from their home on Hilldale avenue Monday, are back again. They were found riding in a team, which, it is alleged, was stolen from a barn belonging to the Interstate Sheep Company, through the main street of Epping, N. H. The Epping police got them, and communicated with the local police, and Captain Irving Hussey towed them home.

BOGUS POLICEMAN IS PLACED ON PROBATION

Lawrence, Oct. 2.—Harold R. Durgin of Nahant was arraigned in Superior Criminal Court here because he was said to have annoyed couples on the beach. In one instance he was claimed to have pretended that he was a plain clothes officer, and questioned alleged law offenders who were strolling along the shore. The metropolitan police were complained to and Durgin was arrested. He was placed on probation by Judge Frederick Fosdick.

Marriage Intentions

BOSTON.

Harold P. Collins, 23, salesman, 56 Norway st., and Laura M. McNeil, 21, salesgirl, 311 Dudley st., Rox.

George A. Hunter, 28, policeman, 57 Allen st., and Marion Gorman, 21, saleswoman, 1290 Tremont st.

James J. Halpin, 21, salesman, 10 School st., and Helen L. Corbett, 21, clerk, 32 Callender st., both Dorchester.

Emory Douglass, 33, engineer, 49 Appleton st., and Nellie M. Tyler, 35, milliner, 106 Appleton st.

Anthony J. Yonuska, 35, tailor, 222 Broadway, So. Boston, and Alice A. Garewsky, 24, cashier, 24 Cherry st.

Joseph B. Medeiros, 21, chauffeur, U. S. A., 10 Park sq., and Emily Johnson, 18, domestic, 19 Austin st., Cambridge.

Henry Repucl, 24, clerk, 8 Derne st., and Mary J. Sweeney, 25, at home, 256 W. 6th st., widowed.

Robert R. Fox, 40, carpenter, 612 Tremont st., divorced, and Annie Pender, 41, 92 Bower st., Rox., widowed.

Joseph Schwartz, 31, police officer, 223 Columbia rd., and Mary Hasse, 23, at home, 69 Greenwood st., both Dor.

Robert G. MacLennan, 25, Int. Army Sec., North Conway, N. H., and Gladys L. Wickens, 27, musician, 106 Gainsboro st.

Stanley F. Janik, 23, raido electrician, 27 Pleasant st., Dor., and Mabel G. Bryan, 21, clerk, same address.

Joseph Spitz, 27, ins. agt., 27 Parkhurst st., and Anna Cohen, 23, saleswoman, 55 Millet st., Dor.

Patrick J. Grant, 32, steamfitter, 21 So. Russell st., and Josephine M. Ahern, 29, asst. buyer, 330 Saratoga st., E. Boston.

Harry Graham, 22, student, 316 Huntington av., and Catherine Crook, 23, stenographer, 69 Gainsboro st.

Ambrose J. McMahon, 27, optician, 40 Russell st., Malden, and Marian Lynch, 24, at home, 5 Howes st., Dor.

Gordon I. White, 27, office manager, 39 Huntington av., and Dorothy Morgan, 31, at home, Shrewsbury.

Harry A. Jigger, 39, building supt., 722 Metropolitan av., divorced, and Madge D. Ballou, 50, school teacher, Brockton.

Ephraim G. Nickerson, 21, plumber, E. Harwich, and Elizabeth Wardle, 24, teacher, 55 Waverly st., Rox.

John Morrissey, 27, chauffeur, 83 Sheridan st., Jam. Pl., and Mary Ryan, 25, saleswoman, 9 Wensley st., Rox.

Pranas Medzeusis, 33, laborer, 43 Baxter st., So. Boston, and Palonia Sarps, 29, shoe worker, 38 Northampton st., widowed.

James C. Browning, 22, chauffeur, 25 Sewall st., Somerville and Ellen T. Cleary, 17, bookkeeper, 15 Mt. Vernon st.

John F. Haggerty, 30, scrap iron dealer, Somerset, and Bessie A. Brogan, 25, home work, 843 Summer st., So. Boston.

Harold Fitzgerald, 31, secretary, Washington, D. C., and Rena M. Cummings, 25, clerk, 55 Aldrich st., Ros.

Henry F. Busch, 25, machinist, 51 Spencer av., Chelsea, and Anna M. Connors, 26, saleswoman, 98 Dartmouth st.

Harry K. Stavros, 35, fruit dealer, 51 Mt. Pleasant av., and Catarina S. Kervas, 25, shoe worker, Ipswich.

Oscar Anderson, 35, cook, 20 Common st., and Angelina Fontaine, 40, waitress, 7 Maple pl., widowed.

SOMERVILLE.

Harold S. Rogers, 28, bank bookkeeper, 462 Medford st., Somerville, and Ruth C. Sproule, 24, at home, 674 Broadway, Chelsea.

Joseph A. Davidson, 33, janitor, 1537 Beacon st., Brookline, and Nellie J. Brown, 35, at home, 97 Gilman st., Somerville.

John V. Gibbons, 25, credit manager, 40 New Hampshire av., Somerville, and Grace E. Leinhalter, 23, clerk, 186 Copeland st., W. Quincy.

Earl B. Forrester, 33, bookkeeper, 98 Elm st., Somerville, and Norine K. Galvin, 29, stenographer, 389 4th st., So. Boston.

George A. McKenney, 29, electric welder, 8A Miner st., and Eulalie M. Benson, 24, at home, Water st., Kennebunkport, Me.

James Wilson, 30, confectioner, 4 Wellington av. and Grace A. Young, 20, at home, 4 Wellington av., both Somerville.

Stephen R. Chatelle, 28, postoffice clerk, 20 Cottage av., and Alice G. Harrison, 24, at home, 15 Cottage av., both W. Somerville.

Ernest A. Patch, 32, salesman, 4 Ferdinand st., Worcester, and Evelyn R. Johnson, 26, at home, 21 Crocker st., Somerville.

Francis J. Simonds, 29, sales manager, 100 Pearson rd., and Katherine L. Ryan, 27, bookkeeper, 41 Summer st., Dorchester.

William G. Barnard, 52, photo engraver, 177 Chestnut st., Springfield, and Anna A. Allen, 46, housekeeper, 30 Forest st., Somerville.

Joseph P. Callanan, 26, freight conductor, 6 Royal st., Allston, and Theresa M. Rutledge, 26, clerk, 39A Hancock st., Somerville.

Arthur J. Flores, 19, loco. fireman, 72 Moreland st., Som., and Cylius O'Brien, 18, clerk, 48 Bow st., Medford.

Charles H. K. Morgan, Jr., 24, baker, 106 Walnut st., Som., and Williamina J. Cunningham, 23, shoe worker, 4 Millmont st., Rox.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR BOWDOIN SCHOOL WORK

A contract for grading the yard at Bowdoin school has been awarded to Joseph Rugo by the school house department with the approval of the mayor. The cost will be $15,918.

A LIST OF CHURCHES THAT EXTEND A HAND OF FELLOWSHIP TO YOU

ADVENTIST

ADVENT CHRISTIAN CHURCH, 160 Warren st., Roxbury—10:30, 7:30; welcome.

BAPTIST

TREMONT TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH—"Strangers' Sabbath Home," Pastor, Dr. Cortland Myers. Music by Lotus Male Quartet; Mrs. Lamson, soprano; Temple Chorus. Doors open at 10 and 6:45.

BIBLE STUDENTS

International Bible Students' Ass'n.

BIBLE LECTURES every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in STEINERT HALL, 162 Boylston st., Boston. PASTOR W. B. FOWLER will lecture tomorrow (Oct. 3) on

SEED TIME AND HARVEST

"Whatsoever a man soeth that shall he also reap," is an immutable law. For sixty centuries the seeds of selfishness, hatred and murder have been sown. The harvest time is here. The Bible foretold the development and outcome of this evil order of things. You are invited to hear concerning it. SEATS FREE. NO COLLECTION.

(Speakers supplied free for Sunday Lectures and Funeral Services. Phone Everett 1131-M.)

CHRISTADELPHIANS

CHRISTADELPHIANS. On account of the gathering of the New England Ecclesiasts in Providence the lecture Oct. 3d will be suspended. CHRISTADELPHIANS, Elks' Bldg., Magazine st., Cambridge.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, The Mother Church, Falmouth, Norway and St. Paul sts, Boston, Mass. Sunday Services, 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Subject of the Lesson Sermon: Unreality. Sunday School, 10:45 A. M. Testimonial Meeting every Wednesday Evening, 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL

CENTRAL CHURCH (Cong.), Berkeley and Newbury sts.—Services 10:30 a. m., 7:45 p. m. All welcome.

EPISCOPAL

THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF ST. PAUL.—Sunday, 8 A. M., Holy Communion; 10 A. M., Morning Prayer; 11 A. M., Holy Communion and Sermon, preacher, Rev. W. H. Carnegie, D. D., Canon of Westminster Abbey and rector of St. Margaret's, Westminster; 4 P. M., Evening Prayer, preacher, Rev. Donald B. Aldrich; 7:15 P. M., Singing of Hymns on the porch; 7:30 P. M., Service, preacher, Dean Rousmaniere, subject: Hyphenated Christians.

HUMANITY

CHURCH OF HUMANITY. Henry W. Pinkham minister. Public meeting in Wesleyan Hall, 581 Boylston st., at 7:30 P. M., with address on "A League of Nations." Open forum. Everybody welcome.

JEWISH

TEMPLE ISRAEL, Commonwealth ave. and Blandford st., Boston, 11 a. m.; all welcome.

LUTHERAN

ST. MARK'S (English), 29 Winthrop st., Roxbury, Rev. E. L. Miller, pastor. Holy Communion at 10:30 A. M. Sermon by the pastor. Sunday School at 11:45 A. M.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

(METHODIST EPISCOPAL) Church of All Nation, Morgan Memorial, 79-81 Shawmut ave.—10:30 sermon, Rev. C. W. Holden; 12 o'clock, church school; 7:30 p. m., evening service, sermon by Prof. David D. Vaughan of Boston University.

PENTECOSTAL

PEOPLE'S PENTECOSTAL CHURCH, Church st., opp. City Hall, Everett. Welcome.

PRESBYTERIAN

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, East Boston, Meridian st., cor. London st. — All welcomed.

SPIRITUALISTS

MME. P. WYMAN, gifted Spiritualist Medium; readings day or evening, 42 Edgewood st., Roxbury; tel. 6958-M.

MRS. WEBB, 7 Arlon st., Upham's Cor., Dor. Tues. eve. circles. Readings by appointment. Col. 8869-R.

MME. LOUISE, psychic and healer, meetings Sunday 7:30; private readings and treatments daily. 398½ Tremont st.

MME. PALFREYMAN, 45 Falmouth st., city, hours 10 to 5, evenings by appointment. B. B. 8108.

MME. McCUTCHEON—Circles Sunday, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Readings daily, 10 to 8. 556 Columbus av.

MRS. MARSH, medium, gives readings daily at 9 Dover st., near Tremont st., city.

MRS. AUGUSTA, medium, 606 Columbus av., suite 7, city.

MME. CARTER, psychic, gives readings daily. 707 Tremont st., 1 flight.

MRS. BROWN, 71 Dover st., Suite 2—Readings daily, 12 to 8 p. m., Sunday excepted.

MRS. KAMPE—Meetings Tuesday, Friday, Sunday, 7:30; readings daily. 100 Roxbury st.

MRS. LYDIA CONNER gives readings daily at 627 Columbus av. Tel. 7358-J B. B.

THEOSOPHY

THE ORIGINAL THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY, founded 1875, New York City, by H. P. Blavatsky, William Q. Judge and others, now directed by Katherine Tingley, leader and official head. International headquarters, Point Loma, Cal. Meeting for inquirers Thursday afternoon, 4 o'clock, at Symphony Chambers, 246 Huntington av., the New England Headquarters Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society. All welcome. Opposite Symphony Hall.

UNITARIAN

KING'S CHAPEL, Tremont-School sts. Unitarian. Minister Howard N. Brown, D. D., will preach on "Our Debt to the Pilgrim Fathers." Morning Service at 10:45 a. m. Open daily 9 to 12. Chorus choir of 30 male voices. Dr. Richard C. Cabot, director.

SOUTH CONGREGATIONAL SOCIETY, Edward Everett Hale's Church, Newbury st., 10 a. m.; all welcome.

SECOND CHURCH IN BOSTON, Beacon st., at Audubon Circle—11 a. m., service. All welcome.

SECOND UNITARIAN MEETING HOUSE, Coolidge Corner, 11 a. m., service, all are cordially invited.

UNIVERSALIST

PORTER SQ. UNIVERSALIST, Cambridge, Rally Day, Oct. 3. Services 10:30 A. M. The Bay State Male Quartette. Rev. Lucius R. Paige, minister. Topic: "Fellow Workers With God." Everybody's Church. Come In.

GROVE HALL UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—70 Washington, cor. Wilder st., Dorchester; welcome.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Thompson sq., Charlestown—Rev. Ransom A. Green, pastor. Welcome.

SALVATION ARMY

SALVATION ARMY, 65 Shawmut ave.—Meeting Saturday, 8 p. m.; Sunday, 11 a. m.; Bible class, 1:30; Christian praise service at 3 p. m.; young people's meeting at 6 p. m.; old town gospel service at 8 p. m.

MISCELLANEOUS

F. L. Rawson, M. I. E. E., of London

Author of "Life Understood,"

Noted Metaphysician and Healer.

Lectures in Convention Hall (58 St. Botolph St.)

Sunday, Oct. 3—3 P. M., "The Nature of True Prayer," (collection); 8 P. M., "Divine Protection," admission $1.

Oct. 4, 5, 6 and 8—12-2 P. M., noon healing meetings at N. E. Women's Club Hall, 585 Boylston St. (3rd floor).

Oct. 7—12 M., healing meeting at Metaphysical Club Hall, 30 Huntington Ave.

Arrangements for interviews, treatments or classes with Mr. Rawson at Room 11, 585 Boylston St., Sec. S. S. K. T. P., 2:30—4:30 P. M. daily.

Present Star Warnings

DR. EVERSON delivers her demonstrated address on "Star Warnings," Sunday, 2:30 p. m., at Chauncy Hall, 585 Boylston st.

CHAMBER HOST TO BRITISHERS

New Zealand Minister Offers Remedy for U. S. Meat Shortage; Shipping Truce Urged

The United States may overcome its shortage of meats by the purchase of mutton from New Zealand, Sir Thomas McKenzie, prime minister and high commissioner of the Antipodes dominion, declared at a conference of representatives of British Chambers of Commerce and prominent Boston business men, held at the Parker House.

The British visitors were the guests of a committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and prior to the meeting toured Boston and vicinity. Others in the British delegation were:

A. L. Hobson, president of the Association of British Chambers; J. A. Alton, president of the Derby Chamber of Commerce; F. I. Tompsett of the Exeter Chamber of Commerce; T. Swinborne Sheldrake, editor of the Times Trade Supplement, and R. B. Dunwoody, secretary of the association.

PRAISES FAHEY'S WORK.

Frank W. Remick, president of the Boston Stock Exchange and vice-president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, presided. Mayor Peters welcomed the British party. Mr. Hobson replied for the visitors. He spoke of the splendid work of John H. Fahey of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in the organization of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Edward E. Blodgett spoke of the unfair competition of foreign shippers who pay lower wages, carry smaller crews and operate more cheaply than American shippers can hope to do on account of humanitarian legislation.

Mr. Hobson said in reply that he favored international agreements whereby shippers entering a port must comply with the laws of that country and not subject those countries having humanitarian laws to this unfair competition.

SAYS N. E. BANKS SOUND.

On the subject of banking, Frederic H. Curtiss, Federal Reserve agent of the New England district, Federal Reserve Board, said in part:

"Regardless of what you have seen in the papers, the general financial situation in this country, and especially here in New England, is of the very soundest. The recent closing of banks here in Boston have been those not of commercial banks, but of banks primarily doing a savings bank business.

"Here in New England the situation is especially sound. The reserve of the central bank of New England is 53.2 per cent., and we are loaning $50,000,000 to other Federal Reserve banks on short time maturity. In fact, the reserve of the Boston bank is almost the highest of that of any bank in the system."

TO INSTAL NEW PASTOR AT ST. PAUL'S, NEWTON

Installation services will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock when the Rev. Theodore R. Ludlow is installed as the new rector of the parish by Bishop Lawrence. Professor Edward S. Browne of the Episcopal Theological Institute of Cambridge will deliver the sermon. There will be special music by the choir and William Brooks, soloist.

This is the Rev. Mr. Ludlow's first parish. He was sent to the Newton church from Waterbury, Ct., where he had acted as curate under the Rev. Dr. Lewis in the Waterbury Episcopal Church. Previous to entering the Waterbury parish he acted as a missionary in China for four years. During the war he served as chaplain of one of the Chinese labor battalions.

TRUMPETER SMITH TO PLAY AT NEWTON TRINITY

Walter M. Smith, solo trumpeter of the Boston Festival Orchestra, will render the "Inflammatus" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater," and the "Sanctus" from Gunod's "Saint Cecilia," at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, tomorrow morning, at 10:45 o'clock. He will also lead the congregation in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Mr. Smith for years has played the trumpet obligato, "The Trumpet Shall Sound," in the "Messiah" in Symphony Hall.

tor, the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan.

Hikes to Williamstown

Lenox, Oct. 2.—Rev. Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn of Cambridge, an eighty-year-old alumnus of Williams College and a noted pedestrian, arrived at the Hotel Aspinwall here last night on a hike from Cambridge to Williamstown.

CHURCH NEWS

On account of the gathering of the N. E. Eulesians in Providence the lecture scheduled for October 3 at the Christadelphian Society, Elks Building, Cambridge, will be suspended.

At the King's Chapel, Tremont and School streets, Sunday at 10:45 a. m. the Rev. Howard N. Brown will speak on "Our Debt to the Pilgrim Fathers." There will be a chorus choir of thirty male voices.

"Seed Time and Harvest," will be the subject of a sermon by Pastor W. B. Fowler at the meeting of the International Bible Students', Steinert Hall, No. 162 Boylston street, Sunday at 3 p. m.

At the Cathedral Church of St. Paul Tremont street, Sunday at 11 a. m. there will be an address by the Rev. W. H. Carnegie, D. D., canon of Westminster Abbey and rector of St. Margaret's, Westminster. At 7:30 p. m. Dean Rousmaniere will speak on, "Hyphenated Christians."

Prof. F. L. Rawson of London, England, will speak Sunday at 3 p. m. at Convention Hall, No. 58 St. Botolph street. His theme will be "The Nature of True Prayer."

At St. Mark's English Lutheran Church, No. 29 Winthrop street Roxbury, Sunday at 10:30 a. m., there will be a service with an address by the Rev. E. Lunn Miller, pastor.

Sunday will be Rally Day at the Porter Square Universalist Church, Cambridge. The Rev. Lucius R. Paige, pastor, will speak on "Fellow Workers With God." The Bay State Male Quartette will sing. A program of unusual attractiveness in the central church of the community, invites the cordial co-operation of all of the old divisions. Sunday school and church start the Murray Crusade Snday.

At the Church of All Nations, No. 79 Shawmut avenue, city, Sunday, at 10:30 a. m., there will be a sermon by the Rev. C. W. Holden. At the evening service 7:30 p. m. Prof. David D. Vaughn of Boston University will deliver an address.

"Unreality," will be the subject of a lesson sermon at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Back Bay, Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

EVENING SCHOOL OPEN

Correct English and Spanish, full term	$10
Typists' Course, 4 months	$25
Stenographic Course, 8 months	$50

A few seats yet available in Day and Evening Classes

FRANKLIN ACADEMY

The School of Individual Training for All Ages.

506 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON.

Tel. Beach 2823-W.

TRAVEL GUIDE

NEW YORK $5.61

Price Includes War Tax Via Rail and Boat

Latest connecting train from So. Station 5:10. Steamer leaves Providence 7 P. M. All outside staterooms.

COLONIAL LINE, 196 Wash. St., Boston Phone F. H. 2788

BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $4.96

STATEROOMS $1.08, $1.62, $2.16

Steel Steamships Georgia and Tennessee from Providence, 7 p. m. Tickets and staterooms at South Station, Back Bay and Consolidated ticket offices

REAL ESTATE—MISCELLANEOUS

NO RENT BOOST HERE LANDLORD PUTTING YOU OUT

Every Man His Own Boss

I have helped over 200 families from the City Tenement to independence. Many started with only a $10 bill and monthly payments of $5 to $10, making a modest start according to their means, and by the help of my 20 years' specializing in this line of business are now the owners of respectable homes and happy, healthy families. No more "Rent Bills," no more "Put Him Out." Their bank accounts are now growing. Vegetables, flower gardens, hens, lawns and shade trees now replace the hot sidewalk and street. I own a large number of very attractive garden lots I will sell you at your own terms, and extend you the same help, courteous and lenient treatment, and offer you my 20 years of expensive, hard-earned experience to give you the same independence and comfort as my other customers. All I want is the help of honest, hard working, progressive people, like myself, who are ambitious to become self supporting. I want you to bring your family out to see me so I can show you the 200 actual proofs of my efforts for others. On receipt of your request today for circular telling "How to do it," I will send it by return mail. No one is too poor to make the right start by my method. Write today to MANAGER, P. O. Box 2889, Boston.

Wankote Ever Ready PAINT $1.95 Gal. Varnish $1.45 Sample brushes at ½ prices. Free local delivery.

Color Card and Catalog on Request

SOUTH END HARDWARE CO.

1085 Washington and 1 Garland St., Boston

SOFT COPPER TUBING

¼" 15c. ft.; 5-16" 18c. ft.; ⅜" 20c. ft.; ½" 28c. ft. ELIOT HARDWARE CO. 88 Portland st., Boston; mail orders filled.

3-FAMILY HOUSE, in city limits, very fine condition, good neighborhood, just a step to cars, stores, etc., all rented, $33 a month, price $2,500, easy terms. T 183, Boston American.

PAINT $1.95 GAL. 32 Shades. Send for color card. Varnishes. ELIOT HARDWARE CO., 88 Portland St.

HOW $10 STARTS A HOME

IN Boston explained by mail. MR. A. N., Boston P. O. Box 2889.

D. MINSKY, house painter, paper hanger, general repairing, orders promptly attended to, 684 Broadway, Som.; tel. Dor. 3455-W.

REAL ESTATE—BEACHMONT

BEACHMONT TO LET

5-ROOM furnished cottage, all improvements. Apply MR. HERMAN, 30-32 Kilby st.; phone Fort Hill 4209.

REAL ESTATE—BRIGHTON

FANEUIL—Single house on elevation, terraced, 10 rooms, gas, new furnace, fireplace, sleeping porch, 10,000 ft. land, beautiful garden, fruit trees, grapevines; everything standing in good condition, 4 minutes from Faneuil station; owner transferred to another State. Tel. Brighton 524-W.

REAL ESTATE—EAST BOSTON

PRINCETON ST.—2-family house, 2 toilets, gas, also store connected, rents for $49; price $3,800. GARDNER BATES, 233 Main st., Charlestown; tel. 243-M.

REAL ESTATE—MILTON

MILTON

Several nice houses in Milton. Also some of the nicest house lots in Milton, $300 and upwards; within 3 minutes from the depot. SWITHIN, office opposite East Milton station. Tel. 1876-R Milton.

REAL ESTATE—QUINCY

$200 DOWN

BALANCE $20 mo., 5-room house on car line; price $1,200. W. A. DUNHAM, 537 Sea st.

$300 DOWN

BAL. $20 mo., will buy house on water front; price $1,850. W. A. DUNHAM, 537 Sea st.

$500 DOWN

BALANCE $25 a month, 6-room house, open plumbing, large lot of land; price $5,000. W. A. DUNHAM, 537 Sea st., Quincy, Mass.

REAL ESTATE—ROXBURY

SMALL 3-family brick house, 12 rooms, excellent condition, rents $35 month; price $3,000. Apply MacLELLAN, 288 Roxbury st., Roxbury.

MISSION HILL—Three-family brick house, 14 rooms, bath and gas stove on each floor; near Harvard Medical School. Phone Brighton 1281.

REAL ESTATE—SOUTH WEYMOUTH

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

BUNGALOW of 6 rooms, water in house, open fireplace, hardwood floors, 2 sleeping porches, 1 sun parlor, garage, poultry house, 7 acres of land, 1 mile from station, 5 minutes from trolley; price $3,600, very easy terms. RUSSELL F. POOLE, 873 Washington st., East Weymouth 89, Mass.; tel. Weymouth 90.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

7 LARGE rooms, town water, 1 acre of land, all kinds of fruit, 2 minutes from trolley, ¾ mile from station, one of best buys south of Boston, price $4,200. RUSSELL F. POOLE, 873 Washington st., East Weymouth 89, Mass.; Tel. Weymouth 90.

REAL ESTATE—WINTHROP

HOUSES for sale, also furn. apts. MOORE, Crest av., near Blvd. Tel. 1014-R.

HOUSES TO LET

HOUSE of 9 rooms, 1119 Washington st., Dover "L." Apply S. E. ULLIAN, 1113 Washington st.

APARTMENTS—BACK BAY

FOR SALE—Furnished 5-room suite, 13 Haviland st., suite 3. Back Bay 5919-W.

APARTMENTS—DORCHESTER

6 ROOMS, good location, adults, Christians only. MRS. MARY DALEY, Dorchester Centre P. O.

APARTMENTS—REVERE

58 ARCADIA ST., Oak Island, Revere, to let 7-room apartment, good location. Phone Revere 71470 or 71306.

APARTMENTS—ROXBURY

24 HAMMOND ST., Hotel Greely, near Northampton st., 3-room suite, $14. JANITOR, Suite 2.

APARTMENTS—SOMERVILLE

TENEMENTS at 19 Beacon pl., Som.; nice for children, 4 and 6 rooms, $10 and $12 per month.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS

4 ROOMS, furnished, toilet and gas, $4.75 per week. MacLELLAN, 288 Roxbury st., Roxbury.

FURNISHED ROOMS—MISCELLANEOUS

New Majestic Hotel

4-5 BOWDOIN SQ.

150 newly furnished rooms with all modern improvements, including shower baths, $1.00 and up a day. Weekly rates. Telephone Haymarket 2751, 2752.

HOTEL WATERSTON

8 BULFINCH PLACE, heart of city, cool rooms, electric lights and elevator; men, transient, $1 each; week, $4 up.

FURNISHED ROOMS—ALLSTON

LINDEN ST., 37—Large square room, on bathroom floor, newly painted and papered. Tel. Brighton 581-W.

FURNISHED ROOMS—BACK BAY

CARLETON ST., 4—Off 223 West Newton st., 2 pleasant furnished rooms, large closets, $2 and $2.50 week.

WORCESTER SQ., 16—Newly furnished rooms, a few for light housekeeping, steam heat and telephone connections.

FURNISHED ROOMS—BEACON HILL

MYRTLE ST., 124—Beacon Hill, Boston, room for 2, light housekeeping preferred.

MALE HELP WANTED

Help Wanted

WOODSMEN

If you cannot call, but are interested in getting a steady job, at good wages, write us. No office fees charged. Railroad fares advanced. Office at corner Canal and Traverse Sts., open from 6 A. M. to 8 P. M.

The Parker Young Co.

The Woodstock Lumber Co.

Employment Department

PHONE HAYMARKET 1977

FURNISHED ROOMS—BROOKLINE

BROOKLINE—Large room, high-class, modern apartment, in select location; 15 minutes to Park st. by Commonwealth-av. cars; references. Brookline 1471.

FURNISHED single room with bath, in private home, near trolley and train; 20 minutes South Station; to business man only; no meals; references required. Phone Brookline 7269-M.

FURNISHED ROOMS—CAMBRIDGE

FURNISHED ROOM in private family, between Harvard and Central squares. Tel. Cambridge 1455-R.

HAMMOND ST., 65—2 furnished room suite, light housekeeping, near Harvard sq. Cambridge 2494-J.

FURNISHED ROOMS—ROXBURY

ROXBURY ROOM REGISTRY

WAVERLEY ST., 78—Tel. 1088, furnished and unfurnished rooms, kitchenettes.

ROXBURY ROOM REGISTRY

WAVERLEY ST., 78—Tel. 1088, furnished and furnished rooms, kitchenettes.

LARGE sunny front room, 2 windows, steam heat, con. hot water, electric lights. American-Jewish small family. Roxbury 3241-R.

LARGE sq. front room, steam heat, running water, private, American family, gentlemen only. W. H. A., 9 Hazelwood st., Roxbury.

FOUNTAIN ST., 20—2 furnished rooms for housekeeping, range, sink, set tubs.

LAMBERT AV., 88—Furnished rooms, kitchenette, steam heat, electric lights. Tel. Roxbury 4815-J.

MORELAND ST., 96—Nicely furnished room, private family; tel. Roxbury 4202-W.

FURNISHED ROOMS—SOMERVILLE

CUTTER ST., 16—Two furnished rooms, light housekeeping. Tel. Somerville 4046-W.

FURNISHED ROOMS—SOUTH END

COMFORT CHAMBERS

NAME is sufficient; daily $1 up; weekly rates. 367 Tremont st. Tel. B. B. [illegible]

APPLETON ST., 21—Front housekeeping rooms, water, $3.50, $3.75; front side room, $1.75.

APPLETON HOUSE, 416 Tremont st.—Rooms 75c up night, $3 up week. Tel. 53824 Beach.

EAST SPRINGFIELD ST., 46—Sq. room with large kitchen, running water.

TREMONT ST., 494—20 light housekeeping rooms, $2 to $4.50, two furnished basement, cook stove and privileges of set tubs, $4.50.

TREMONT ST., 603—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping with kitchenettes.

UPTON ST., 31—Square room with kitchenette; also front parlor, piano; tel.

W. DEDHAM ST., 22—Newly renovated square rooms, with or without light housekeeping.

W. NEWTON ST., 37—Homelike, every room a dream, $5, $6, $7, $8 week. Men only. Steam heat and Tel. in every room. Private baths.

W. SPRINGFIELD ST., 208—2 rooms with kitchenette; other housekeeping rooms; also side room.

WORCESTER ST., 31—Furnished 2-room suite; also front, back parlor, piano, graphophone; tel.

WORCESTER ST., 113—A large front housekeeping room; also 3 large rooms, gas, range, etc.

2-ROOM kitchenette, sq., side rms., other rooms. F. H. CONNAUGHTON, 48 Union pk.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED

Experienced Stitchers

On Metropolitan and Union Special Machines.

Good Pay. Steady Work.

Apply

WASHINGTON KNITTING MILLS,

119 North St., Boston

GIRL WANTED

FOR CLERICAL WORK; one attending continuation school preferred; state age and salary expected. Address O 138, Boston American.

BINDERY GIRLS WANTED

Come prepared for work.

Earnshaw Press, Inc.,

797 Beacon St., Boston

GIRLS WANTED

Good Pay. Experience Not Necessary.

APPLY

BOSTON BRAID MFG. CO.

50 THAYER STREET

Off 450 Harrison Ave.

FLAT ROOM GIRLS

FEEDERS, FOLDERS, SHAKERS and GIRLS TO LEARN. WOOLEY'S LAUNDRY, 187 Condor St., E. Boston

GIRLS WANTED

AROUND 18 years of age, for plate printers' assistants; experience not necessary. JOHN A. LOWELL BANK NOTE CO., 147 Franklin st.

CHOCOLATE DIPPERS

EXPERIENCED; good pay, not piece work. MOUSTAKIS BROS. CONF., 128 Washington st. North, Boston.

EXPERIENCED CHOCOLATE DIPPERS

WANTED, good pay. Apply H. N. FISH, 100 North st., Boston.

Bookkeeper Wanted

APPLY 248 Boylston st., Boston.

NURSES

WANTED—Also two girls to learn. LAFAYETTE HOSPITAL, 155 Franklin av., Chelsea.

EXPERIENCED girl wanted for confectionery store; steady position and good wages to right party. Apply 131 Cypress st., Brookline, Mass.

GENERAL HOUSEWORK GIRL, good home, kind treatment; must be fond of children. Tel. Brighton 3179.

GENERAL housework girl, good home, fine treatment, small family. Tel. Roxbury 1530-W.

SALESGIRL, experienced on food counter. HAYES, 20 Huntington av., Boston.

WANTED—Young girl to learn dressmaking business, also finisher. A. F. WEBSTER, 407 Franklin st., Melrose Highlands.

WOMEN to work in kitchen, no experience necessary. DREYFUS RESTAURANT, 12 Beach st., city.

FEMALE SITUATIONS WANTED

WANTED—Position by American widow of refinement as housekeeper; best references. B 31, Boston American.

FEMALE HELP—MISCELLANEOUS

LADIES, GENTLEMEN—We will train you for movies, dramatic or vaudeville. Call or write, inclose stamp. 100 Boylston st., room 402.

MALE HELP WANTED

CARPENTERS—Wanted, good wages and living conditions. Board and room can be procured at plant at rate of $8 per week. Apply in person at the MERRIMAC CHEMICAL CO., No. Woburn, Mass.

ERRAND BOY, American, 14 to 16 years old, for mailing department of dental supply concern; good opportunity for ambitious, conscientious boy. T 182, Boston American.

KITCHEN MAN, no experience necessary. Apply DREYFUS RESTAURANT, 12 Beach st., City.

BOYS WANTED

16 to 21 years of age, chance to earn from $18 to $24 per week passing and heating rivets. We can use 50 boys at once, as we are increasing our working force, and the work will be permanent. Apply to Employment Bureau, Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp., Ltd., Fore River Plant, Quincy, Mass., or State Free Employment Bureau, 8 Kneeland St., Boston, or American Legion Bureau, 158 State House, Boston, or Knights of Columbus Bureau, Park Sq., Boston.

Experienced Candy Makers Wanted

AND HELPERS. APPLY

Gold Brand Confectionery, Inc.

78 BEVERLY ST., BOSTON

WANTED

AUTOMOBILE PAINTERS

Color and Varnish Hands.

Also Finisher. Apply

NEW HAVEN CARRIAGE CO.

67 Water St., New Haven, Conn.

COPPERSMITHS LAYER-OUT

COPPERSMITHS for commercial work. Layer-out for work on 18 to 12 gauge metal. Familiar with blueprints. E. B. BADGER & SONS, 75 Pitts st., Boston.

DISHWASHERS

WANTED. THE BRAEMORE, 466 Commonwealth av., Boston. Apply to steward.

BOYS WANTED

14-20 YEARS old, act as message carriers, splendid opportunities to learn telegraph business, monthly earning $50 to $80 per month. Apply 109 Congress st., rear entrance.

Structural Iron Workers

Iron workers and carpenters wanted; job is fully equipped. Apply GUARANTEE CONST. CO., E. Walpole, Mass., at Paroid Plant, BIRD & SONS.

100 LABORERS

FOR all kinds of construction jobs, woods and railroads and tobacco farms. Hire GOLDEN-LARGAY AGENCY, 37 Washington st., Boston.

WANTED—Cake Mixer in Eastern Factory. Write stating experience. Address W. & N., Boston American.

MELTER WANTED

Apply to THE HARRISON SQ. FOUNDRY CO., 110 Gibson st., Dorchester.

DRAFTSMEN WANTED

WITH 1 to 3 years experience on machine details; best of working conditions. Apply B. F. STURTEVANT CO., Hyde Park, Mass.

Experienced Houseman

WHITE. HOTEL CHARLESGATE, 535 Beacon st.

COLORED PORTER

CAPABLE and willing. Apply to ADVERTISERS' PRESS, 217 Friend st.

PAINTERS WANTED

INSIDE WORK, open shop, prevailing wages. Apply MR. GOODSPEED, 149 Tremont st., 317.

ERRAND BOY

16 YEARS or over. LUNDIN ELECTRIC MACHINE CO., 10 Thatcher st., Boston.

NIGHT MANAGER

WANTED, experienced night watchman in lunch room. Apply 1040 Boylston st.

STABLEMAN

EXPERIENCED, to work on horses. Apply MARSHALL STABLE, 201 Warren st., Rox.

PAINTERS WANTED

96 Columbia st., Cambridge.

HALL'S BARBER SCHOOL, 814 Washington st., Boston; "earn while learning," day eve'n.; shaves, haircuts, manicures, 5c, 10c, 15c, 25c, 50c.

MAN WANTED for bottling work; steady work; good pay for right man; must have some experience in bottling. Apply EAST BOSTON BOTTLING CO., 152 Paris st., East Boston, Mass.

WANTED—GALVANIZED iron workers for inside work, also d. c. motor assemblers; best of working conditions. Apply to B. F. STURTEVANT CO., Hyde Park, Mass., or 134 Purchase st., Boston.

WANTED, men to shovel cinders. Apply at once, 75 School st., Roxbury.

WANTED, an experienced electrician. WOOD BROS., 48 Tennyson st., Boston.

MALE SITUATIONS WANTED

WILLING young gentleman requires position; well educated, could adapt himself to anything. 8 Bulfinch place, Boston.

MALE HELP—MISCELLANEOUS

BUY AT THIS BARGAIN STORE

3.00 men's cloth hats 1.90, men's 10.00 wool mackinaw coats 6.98, long dogskin 35.00 fur coats 24.98, men's 25.00 stylish overcoats 16.98, stylish 5.00 men's corduroy pants 3.48, boys' 10.00 corduroy suits 7.98, men's 15.00 raincoats 9.48, men's 2.50 corduroy hunting caps 1.48, men's 6.00 all fur caps 3.98, high lace leather top 6.00 hunting shoes 3.98, double thick wool 7.50 hunting shirts 4.98, men's stylish 4.00 soft hats 2.65, men's 1.50 winter caps 95c, double breasted 3.50 wool underwear 2.48, men's 7.50 hip rubber boots 4.98, men's 1.50 winter ribbed underwear 95c, men's 1.00 heavy wool stockings 59c, men's 3.50 leather auto caps 2.48, imported 5.00 English cloth hats 3.65, men's 2.50 soft felt pocket hats 1.48, union made stylish 4.00 stiff hats 2.90, iceman's 6.50 heavy wool pants 3.98, men's 6.00 wool sweaters 3.98, men's 2.00 overshoes 1.35, Brown's genuine beach jackets 5.98.

Come to this big bargain sale this week and get your winter outfit.

Mail orders filled.

UNION HAT CO.

Big Downtown Department Store

139 HANOVER ST.

Don't Forget the Number

8 AUTO LESSONS $5

FULL AUTOMOBILE COURSE, $15 6-CYL. CAR, license guaranteed. VINCENT, 4 Appleton st., near Arlington sq. Open eves.

PATENTS

C. S. GOODING MECHANICAL ENGINEER

Tech Graduate

REGISTERED ATTORNEY PATENTS

27 School St., Boston 9. Established 25 Years

TYPEWRITERS

BEST AND CHEAPEST typewriters, repairing, supplies; also letter duplicating devices and check protectors. TAYLOR'S TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 132 Washington st. (Adams square), Boston; established 1885; phone Richmond 932.

EVER READY GUIDE BUSINESS

BOSTON BADGE CO. 338 Washington st.; tel. Main 1521.

BOYLSTON BAKERY, 147 Cypress st., Brookline; tel. Brookline 1558.

BANCA CENTRALE ITALIANA, 111 Salem st.; Richmond 848. [illegible], Prop.

AMERICAN BARRELL CO., all kinds of barrels and casks, 308 Briggs st., Salem.

HIGHLAND LAUNDRY, 48 Geneva ave., near Grove Hall, Dor.; tel. Roxbury 751.

MATTAPAN SQ. WET WASH LAUNDRY, 18 Massasoit st., Mattapan; tel. Hyde Park 184.

TANKS, boilers, smoke stacks. Perry Buxton, Doane Co., 214 W. First st., So. Boston.

CHELSEA EVENING RECORD, the real home news daily paper; tel. Chelsea 460.

EASTERN POULTRY & EGG CO., Poultry, 77-83 Fulton st.; tel. Richmond 2294.

WINDOW CLEANERS BAY STATE CLEANING CO., 35 Beach st.; Beach 437-438.

PIANOS AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

FOR PIANOS SEE NORRIS 181 TREMONT STREET

Sole Boston representatives for The Autopiano, Kranich & Bach, McPhail and Nettie Pianos. Headquarters for Player Pianos. Over 100 new and used pianos, standard makes. Lowest prices in Boston. All makes to rent. Open evenings.

BEST BARGAINS PIANOS AND PLAYERS NEW AND USED

BEST piano bargains in Boston; used Chickering uprights, $50, $65, $75; used Hallet & Davis, Steinway and others, $100, $125, $150; several new upright pianos, $125, $150, $175; terms as low as $5 down, $1 a week. J. P. COLLINS, 100 [illegible] st., Cor. Devonshire.

DURRELL'S, 2306 WASH. ST. ROXBURY

NEW AND USED PIANOS AND PLAYERS

$2 DOWN, $1 A WEEK

Pianos from $25 up; renting, repairing. BROOKS, 82 Boylston st., 1 flight.

USED piano, a bargain, good as new; for further information or details call Arlington telephone 1490-W. MR. HAFFERMEHL.

DANCING

FLORENCE KELLY

SCHOOL, 240 Huntington av., cor. Mass. av. 50c private or class, learn quickly, modern dancing, call anytime. Tel. 8158 B. B.

HEINEMANN HOUSE ACADEMIES, Boston and Somerville; classes, socials and private lessons, any time; send circular. 114 Tremont st.

LOOMIS, 88 Mass. Av.; tel. Back Bay 1314. Classes Monday and Friday evenings; private lessons any time; stage dancing taught.

MUSIC

PIANO TUNED $1

WORK guaranteed. PROFESSOR HALL, 230 Huntington av.; 25 years with Chickering, Steinway; expert repairing. Tel. B. B. 3155.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY

ROY PAYS CASH Full Value for Diamonds Gold, Silver, Platinum, Collateral Loan tickets bought, large loans on same, low interest. ROY, 453 Washington St., Room 601. Tel. Beach 54815.

CASH PAID

ALSTERLUND

OLDEST, LARGEST, RELIABLE FOR DIAMONDS

GOLD, PLATINUM AND SILVER

Collateral Loan Tickets

27 SCHOOL STREET, Rm. 717

$1 DOWN Diamonds and Watches Large stock, lowest prices. L. M. BURACK & CO., 3 Bromfield St.

HIGHEST PRICES paid for diamonds, jewelry and gold and silver; watches and jewelry repaired. A. LUPTON, 313 Washington st., room 25; tel. Main 6828-J.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

LUNCH and delicatessen for sale, 279A Dudley st., Roxbury; good reasons for selling out.

SEWING MACHINES

SINGER sewing machine, dark oak, $12. 201 Green st., Central sq., Cambridge.

GOING WEST—Will sell $60 Singer, good as new, $5. 365A Somerville Av., Somerville.

STORAGE

HUB STORAGE WAREHOUSE

549 Washington St. Tel. Beach 5.

Rooms $1 a mo. up. Licensed and Bonded.

UNDERTAKERS

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS INC.

ESTABLISHED 1859

UNDERTAKERS

City and Out-of-Town Service

Offices, Chapels and Warerooms

BOSTON—BROOKLINE

DEATHS

BAKER—In Roxbury, Sept. 30, Francis L., beloved husband of Mary F. Baker (nee Cook).

Funeral from his late residence, 65 Blue Hill av., Sunday, Oct. 3, at 1 p. m. Services at St. Patrick's Church at 1:30 o'clock. Requiem high mass at St. Patrick's Church Monday, Oct. 4, at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends kindly invited. Late member Columbia Post, American Legion, No. 50.

BUTLER—In this city, Oct. 1, Eva J. Butler.

Funeral from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Bertha F. Dunham, 253 Dover st., Sunday at 1 p. m. Services at the Cathedral at 1:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited.

CHENEY—In Roxbury, Sept. 30, Celia A., wife of Alonzo H. Cheney.

Funeral from her late residence, 27 Alaska st., on Saturday, Oct. 2, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Burial at Westmore, Vt.

CLARE—In South Boston, Oct. 1, Mary, beloved wife of the late Patrick Clare.

Funeral from her late home, 623 East Fourth st., Monday, Oct. 4, at 8:15 a. m. Solemn high mass of requiem at the Gate of Heaven Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited. Limousine funeral.

DONOVAN—In Winthrop, Sept. 29, Bridget Donovan, sister of the late Cornelius and Timothy Donovan, formerly of East Boston.

Funeral from the residence of Mrs. Annie Donovan, 122 Main st., Saturday, Oct. 2, at 8:15 a. m. Solemn high mass at St. John the Evangelist Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends are kindly invited to attend. Auto cortege.

DOWNING—In Orient Heights, East Boston, Oct. 1, Georgia, widow of the late George Henry Downing, in her 75th year.

Funeral from her late residence, 20 Thurston st., Sunday, Oct. 3, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FENNELL—In France, Oct. 31, 1918, Sergeant Michael J. Fennell, Company C, 23d Infantry Division, beloved son of the late Michael and Delia Fennell.

Funeral from the home of his sister, Mrs. Catherine T. Flynn, 7 Fennell st., Somerville, Sunday, Oct. 3, at 1:15 p. m. Services at St. Ann's Church at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Requiem high mass at St. Ann's Church Monday, Oct. 4, at 9 a. m.

McDERMOTT—In Roxbury, Oct. 1, Bessie Theresa McDermott.

Funeral from the residence of her niece, Mrs. Delia Moore, 230 Eustis st., Mon., Oct. 4 at 8:30 a. m. Solemn requiem high mass at St. Patrick's Church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Auto cortege.

SOLARI—In the North End, Sept. 30, Madeline (nee Pusano), beloved wife of the late Michael Solari.

Funeral from her late residence, 31 Tileston st., Sunday, Oct. 3, at 1:30 p. m. Services at St. Leonard's Church at 2 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass at St. Leonard's Church Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

FLORIST

Say it with Flowers

Flowers Telegraphed Promptly to All Parts of the United States and Canada

Penn the Florist 124 Tremont Street

TANNERS' NATIONAL BANK, 323 Main st., Woburn; tel. Woburn 600.

WALTER H. WILCOX, Insurance, Tanners' National Bank Bldg., Woburn, Mass.

M. J. PORCELLA, undertaker, 10 North Bennet st.; tel. Richmond 641 or 52927.

FURNACE BRUSHES—Complete line wire brushes for steam and hot water heaters. GROGAN'S HARDWARE, 100 Portland st.

Haymarket 2018

For Clean, Capable, Trustworthy Help

The Hub Employment Service

21 Tremont Row, Boston, Mass.

Tel. Hay. 2018

Our task: "Uniting the Manless Job and the Jobless Man."

Half Fee Agency Half Fee Agency

USED CARS AND ACCESSORIES

Standard Eight Sedan 1917-1918

A POWERFUL CAR, in excellent mechanical condition, all cord tires, 3 extras, tire pump, etc.; owner will demonstrate to satisfaction. A. J. B., P. O. Box 118. Tel. Quincy 1334-M.

MERCER TOURING CAR

NEWLY painted, starter and lights, one-man top, 4 good tires, very fast; will sacrifice. 57 Church st., Watertown; tel. Newton North 2756-W.

Expert Automobile Repairing

MAGNETO, generator and electrical automobile work a specialty; work guaranteed. 3166 Washington st., Jamaica 1147R.

AUTO & MOTORCYCLE STORAGE

302 BROADWAY, Cambridge; autos $10 per month; motorcycles $4. Call Belmont 258-J.

STUDEBAKER touring '17, in good condition, $700 for quick sale, or best offer. Call Brighton 4088-W.

GENUINE FORD RADIATORS, $8, $8, $10 and your old one in trade; rebuilt and guaranteed. "BASCOM" INC., 221 Columbus av.

REOS! REOS! REOS! parts for sale; 3-ton trucks, 5-pass. tour. to let. Tel. Milton 1007.

1917 SAXON SIX, roadster, fine condition, sell cheap. Call Roxbury 1385-W.

AUTOMOBILES FOR HIRE

FOR HIRE, 1920 Hudson touring car, reasonable rates. Som. 3312-W.

MOTOR TRUCKING

WILL give $65 to bring back 3 light rooms furniture from New Haven. Box 874, Cambridge.

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES

POPE, Spell, Emblem, $35 up; tires $2.00; repairing. 225 Dover, near Harrison av.

MISCELLANEOUS

TENANTS EVICTED

Tenants who will not pay rent, or who damage property, must be evicted. The law provides this relief to property holders. Rats, mice, cockroaches, waterbugs, silverfishes, bedbugs, ants and moths are tenants in many a house, factory or store. They pay no rent; they destroy property. They ought to be evicted. The Waltham Chemical Company is organized for this purpose. It evicts these undesirable tenants.

Martin's Pest Powders

Eleven different powders, one for each pest. Price 30c and $1.20, at all drug and department stores. By mail, 35c and $1.50. Cash or money order must accompany mail orders. Registered in Maine.

Waltham Chemical Co.

WALTHAM, MASS.

Paper $1.70

MIXED RAGS, 4½c lb.; books, $1.90 hundredweight; iron, 65c. Also metal. Phone Roxbury 3164-M for truck.

JUNK

Paper, $1.10 per hundred; books, $1.80 per hundred; iron, 65c hundred; rags, 4½c lb.; metals a specialty. Call Beach 4243 and we will send truck.

WE BUY JUNK

MIXED RAGS, 4½c lb.; books, $1.90 cwt.; paper, $1.70 cwt.; iron, 65c cwt.; highest prices for old metal. Tel. Rox. 2131; will send truck.

CLOTHING

WOLF COHEN & CO.

Down Go the Prices of Clothing—Bonds $75,000 stock to be sold at 15c to 50c on the $1. Greatest sale on earth. A chance of a lifetime. Latest style up-to-date Men's and Youths' Suits.

MEN'S $15.00 SUITS, NOW $4.98
MEN'S $20.00 SUITS, NOW $6.75
MEN'S $25.00 SUITS, NOW $9.75
MEN'S $30.00 SUITS, NOW $12.98
MEN'S $35 and $50 SUITS, NOW $18.75

374 Men's Slightly Soiled Suits as low as $1.95. Men's Pants 95c. All kinds of Bargains in Shoes, Raincoats, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, Trunks, Bags and Suit Cases as low as 9c.

WOLF COHEN & CO.

2075—WASHINGTON ST.—2075

Cor. Sterling and Washington Sts.

Open 8 A.M. Till 10 P.M. Sat. Till 12 P.M.

MARKS & CHESTER

THE WAGE EARNERS' FRIEND

45 Years of Honest Dealings

4000 Men's Custom-Made Suits of the finest all wool materials, cost from $40 to $110. Some slightly worn, others are slightly soiled, and some never worn.

Will Sell from $10 to $27.50

3000 of the finest all-wool trousers, slightly worn, cost from $7 to $18. Will sell for $2.50, $3.50, $4.00, while they last. Look for the name.

MARKS & CHESTER

105 Dudley St. Near Dudley Terminal

Open Evenings

BEWARE of cheap new clothing; we have high grade misfit and slightly worn students' clothing. Look for the name.

TERMINAL CLOTHING CO.

110 Dudley St., near Dudley St. Station

SAVE 50c ON THE DOLLAR

Sam's Bargains—Students Clothing, 173 Eliot St., Near Plymouth Theatre

STORE AND OFFICE FURNITURE

S. M. LEVIN CO.

70-72 SUDBURY ST.

REBUILT OFFICE FURNITURE, store and restaurant fixtures, showcases, cash registers, safes, bought, sold; cash or terms. Boston agents Hunt showcases. Phone Hay. 2930.

CASH REGISTERS, show cases, coffee urns, stools, butter chests, desks and safes. 10 Merrimac st.

FURNITURE

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, carpets, bedding, pictures and dishes; will buy anything for the home. E. B. HINES, 42 Holland st., West Somerville; tel 2743-M.

DENTAL

DR. MARK ROMANOW

Dentist

15 School St.

CASH REGISTERS

NEW AND SECOND-HAND REGISTERS. We buy, sell, rent, exchange and repair. FRANK T. KNIGHT, 10 Blackstone st., Boston 16, Mass. Tel. Rich. 2194.

ICE CHESTS, STORE FIXTURES

Whitman's--Sullivan Sq.

FURS

FURS remodeled, coats remade, furs for sale, low prices. TAYLOR, 241 Tremont st.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—On Mt. Auburn st., a lady's gold watch and chain. Return to 16 Traill st., Cambridge, and receive reward.

DETECTIVES

BOSTON'S WOMAN DETECTIVE, G. L. OAKES, 43 TREMONT ST.; TEL. HAY. 1390.

LAWYERS

ALLEN'S LAW OFFICE, 28 School st., room 31—Specialists in conducting marriage troubles very quietly in all States. Bankruptcy and collections. Estates settled. Suits brought and defended. Glad to give you advice. Call, write or phone Main 1259.

M. R. THOMAS' LAW OFFICE

ALL kinds of cases, all courts; terms moderate; 25 yrs.' exp., associated with expert private detectives; write or call, hours 10 to 5. 720 Colonial Bldg., 100 Boylston st.

LEGAL AND PUBLIC NOTICE

Justice of the Peace, Notary

ALWAYS HOME, AL COREY, 44 Cortes st., near 210 Columbus av. (GO ANYWHERE). Phone Beach 5216-J for appointment. NOW.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE
BOSTON AMERICAN
Largest Evening Circulation in New England
OCTOBER 2, 1920
BOSTON

State and Nation Should Probe Bank Rumors

Those "in the know" have been aware of the fact that rumors "in numbers beyond arithmetic" have been afloat in this community for six months concerning certain banks. They were vague, intangible rumors, so intangible that the banks injured by them had no recourse. No one of them was sufficiently definite to make any party responsible for it—responsible in a court of law. They were all of a character calculated to make people uneasy, uncertain, but capable of innocent explanation if anybody were charged with responsibility for them.

Now while any one rumor may be too indefinite to lay hold on, yet all the rumors taken together may be very definite, both in their significance and in the harm they do. A conspiracy, a general understanding among certain interests to put out these rumors would not only make the conspirators responsible to the injured parties for the amount of the injury, but would make them guilty of a crime.

Therefore we suggest that District Attorney Pelletier of Suffolk County and possibly, since it may involve Federal laws and Federal institutions, United States District Attorney Gallagher, should make an investigation. If there has been such a conspiracy, it ought to be discovered and punished. Boston has lost too much in good name and in confidence to suffer this sort of thing ever to be repeated, if it can be avoided by stern measures.

American Legion Refuses to Be Bullied Out of Bonus

It is gratifying to the Hearst newspapers that the National Convention of the American Legion has not been bullied and shamed by calls upon its false pride into abandoning its just demands for compensation for the relative losses of the soldiers who were called upon to serve their country at the risk of their lives.

A very moderate bill providing for such compensation passed the House of Representatives, but has lain dead in the Senate. In the meantime a vigorous campaign has been waged throughout the country to kill it. In that campaign the leaders of the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco last July, flung themselves with great vigor. Headed by Senator Glass of Virginia, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions of the Democratic National Convention, these Democratic politicians undertook to argue with the soldiers that they ought not to ask for any compensation—"that it was commercializing patriotism to do so."

Senator Glass spoke with great feeling about his own two sons who had been in the service and, with a tragic air which would have become a Booth, he told the convention that his boys would scorn all thought of compensation. It made no difference apparently in the view of Senator Glass or of the Democratic convention that Senator Glass' boys might not have needed the compensation.

When Major Murchie of New Hampshire asked the convention to adopt a resolution in favor of a bill, appointing a commission to investigate the needs of the soldiers, he was defeated even on that mild resolution and the convention put the ban of shame upon the bonus. Thousands of soldiers, fearing public obloquy, hesitated to support the demand for a bonus, but the common sense of the mass of our soldiers and their real self-respect have not permitted them to be frightened out of their rights by this campaign of bluff addressed to false pride.

So the soldiers in convention have reiterated their demand for a bonus, the Democratic politicians and senators and Democratic conventions to the contrary notwithstanding.

In opposing the bonus the Democratic organization is merely trying to protect the war profiteers who would be made largely to pay this bonus. Now, sixteen thousand millionaires were made out of war profits. These men made their immense fortunes without taking any risk of their life or limb and without suffering any physical hardship.

The same convention of politicians turned down Mr. Bryan's suggestion of regulating profits so that the difference between, for example, what the farmer gets and what the consumer has to pay may be reduced. The convention was very anxious to protect all kinds of profits, yet it did not occur to the gentlemen of the Democratic convention that if it was beneath the dignity of the soldiers and if it was "commercializing patriotism" to take compensation for the loss they suffered by reason of their military service, it was a thousand times more unworthy of their dignity and commercializing of patriotism for men not only to take compensation for loss when they took no physical risk, but even to take huge profits.

If it is beneath the dignity of soldiers and is an unworthy commercialization of patriotism for soldiers to take compensation for losses, then it ought to be a crime for men to take profits out of war and the social and economic wrong of it ought to be corrected by a system of taxation which would take away these profits.

Does anybody believe that the gentlemen who controlled their Democratic National Convention at San Francisco and are now running the Democratic party and its candidates, would suggest or approve of a plan which takes the profits out of war? Not in a thousand years. It is in order to protect these very war profits that they opposed the bonus to the soldiers—the men who risked their lives and their limbs and who were dragged from their business and lost their headway in the world.

Warm Up the Sacred Cod

Says Mr. C. O. McMichael, Odd Fellow, from Winston-Salem, N. C.:

> Down South, I had an idea that the people of Massachusetts were a cold, calculating lot. That opinion has been upset. The people here are as hospitable as any in the South.

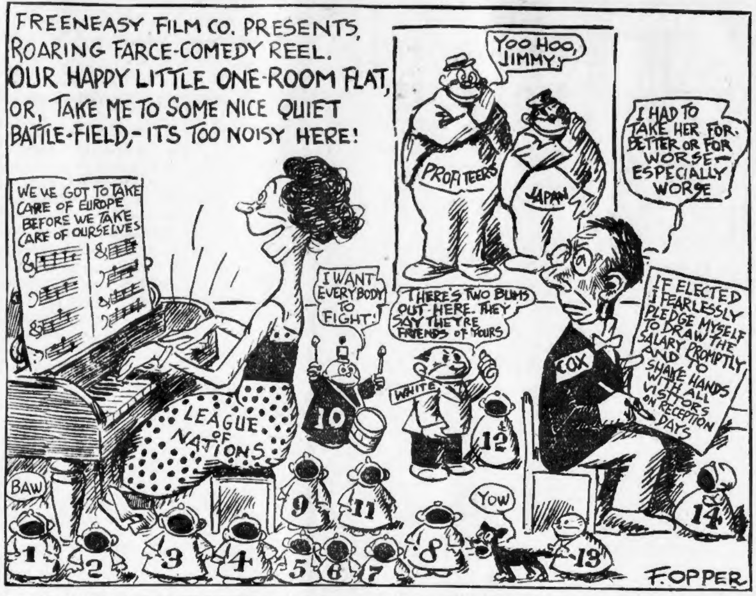
Boston people ARE hospitable; we knew it. Now Mr. McMichael knows it. Warm up, Bostonians, and let the world know we are not as cold toward visitors as the Sacred Cod!

Jimmy and His War Bride

Copyright, 1920, by International Feature Service, Inc.



FREENEASY FILM CO. PRESENTS, ROARING FARCE-COMEDY REEL. OUR HAPPY LITTLE ONE-ROOM FLAT, OR, TAKE ME TO SOME NICE QUIET BATTLE-FIELD,-ITS TOO NOISY HERE!
YOO HOO, JIMMY!
I HAD TO TAKE HER FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE— ESPECIALLY WORSE PROFITEERS
JAPAN
WE'VE GOT TO TAKE CARE OF EUROPE BEFORE WE TAKE CARE OF OURSELVES
I WANT EVERYBODY TO FIGHT!
THERE'S TWO BUMS OUT HERE. THEY SAY THEY'RE FRIENDS OF YOURS
IF ELECTED I FEARLESSLY PLEDGE MYSELF TO DRAW THE SALARY PROMPTLY AND TO SHAKE HANDS WITH ALL VISITORS ON RECEPTION DAYS
COX
WHITE
LEAGUE OF NATIONS
BAW
YOW
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14
F. OPPER

More Truth Than Poetry

COUNT YOUR MONEY BEFORE LEAVING WINDOW
CASHIER

The Clock-Punchers

By S. E. KISER

I HEAR the boys who have to work complaining;
Each seems to think that he is out of luck;
They moan about the little they are gaining,
They hate the narrow grooves in which they're stuck.
They seldom like the people who employ them,
They sigh for pleasures that are seldom found,
But, yielding to conditions that annoy them,
They stick around.

THEY pass the places where the lights are glowing,
They see where laughing men and women feast;
They watch the wealthy come and see them going,
They bump against the greatest and the least.
Ignored, they pause to watch where others madly
Engage in pleasures, when the day has fled,
And then, too poor to dine or dance, go sadly
On home to bed.

I SEE them in the mornings when they hurry,
Blue-nosed, to catch the cars that never wait;
Today the hopes of yesterday they bury,
And sadness will ensue if they are late.
But often they have time to think with pity
Of those who lack life's thrills and miss its charms—
The boys who waste their days far from the city,
On quiet farms.

FARM DRUDGERY DRIVES YOUTHS TO CITY
EXODUS CONTRIBUTES TO H. C. L.

WHY CAUSE NEEDLESS DISTRESS?

"It is said that the water on the earth is gradually drying up," said the amateur scientist.

"Good Lord!" exclaimed the lady who had been collecting recipes from her friends, "the next thing we know, I suppose, we won't even have a chance to fix up home brew."

RISE, LADY, RISE!

Notwithstanding the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment, woman continues to sit on the floor while lacing her shoes.

Letters to the Editor

To Vote for Socialists

Editor Boston American:

It may interest your readers to know that great numbers of Irish or Irish-Americans intend to vote the Socialist ticket at the coming presidential election.

The reasons are not far to seek. Neither candidate of the dominant parties has given the least assurance of lending a helping hand to the aspirations of a race whose brothers have contributed more to the patriotic glory of the United States than all racial groups together. Any other peoples on the earth waging the same struggle for independence would be and have been given consideration by our government.

That is the very thing that hurts—discrimination. Were it not for the fact that the United States has time and time again recognized the independence of other people there would not be left any sting. There is no doubt in the minds of competent observers that religious animosity is at the bottom of all of this opposition to Ireland.

JOS. A. GOLDEN.

Food Pirates

Editor Boston American:

While looking after "food pirates," as per your good article on that subject, why not investigate some of those, commencing on Irvington street, up Huntington avenue, on Massachusetts avenue, and back down Columbus avenue? Prices in these places equal Adams and Parker House.

SOL RUBEN.

Stars and Stripes

Training is a necessity for any line of work. For instance, do you know of a successful prize-fighter who isn't married?

It's hard to make the life insurance companies believe that a man is only as old as he feels.

Miss Columbia may have winked at John Bull when the President went across the water, but that wink was not a proposal of marriage, as the League advocates seem to think.

Just to get even with a banker who insulted him the other day, Jones took his overdraft to another bank.

News dispatches inform us that another American has been slain in Mexico. But what does an American life mean to an administration that is bending all its efforts toward protecting the lives and property of Europeans?

With woolen stocks going down and woolen clothes going up, we pity the fellow who owns one and has to buy the other.

Ye TOWNE GOSSIP

Registered U S Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

IT'S A new game.

* * *

CALLED "BRINGING up Father."

* * *

INVENTED FOR children.

* * *

BY GEORGE McManus.

* * *

AND I got one.

* * *

AND TOOK it home.

* * *

AND AFTER dinner.

* * *

A NEIGHBOR'S boy.

* * *

CAME IN to call.

* * *

AND WE played the game.

* * *

AND GREW excited.

* * *

AND ALMOST quarreled.

* * *

AND MADE up again

* * *

AND THE neighbor father.

* * *

OF THE neighbor boy.

* * *

HE CAME to the door.

* * *

TO CALL the boy.

* * *

TO GO home to bed.

* * *

AND WE asked him in.

* * *

AND A little later.

* * *

THE MOTHER came.

* * *

AND WE asked her in.

* * *

AND THEN there were five.

* * *

AND THE game's for four.

* * *

AND, ANYWAY.

* * *

IT WAS the boy's bed time.

* * *

AND THEY sent him home.

* * *

AND WE bet pennies.

* * *

ON THE silly game.

* * *

AND FOR three full hours.

* * *

WE SAT and played.

* * *

AND ARGUED a lot.

* * *

AND LAUGHED a lot.

* * *

AND SLAPPED the table.

* * *

AND YELLED out loud.

* * *

AND ALTOGETHER.

* * *

MADE A very great noise.

* * *

WHICH NEVER before.

* * *

HAD WE ever done.

* * *

SINCE WE moved up here.

* * *

AND AT half past twelve.

* * *

THE DOOR bell rang.

* * *

AND THE house superintendent.

* * *

POLITELY SAID.

* * *

THAT THE people above.

* * *

HAD MADE complaint.

* * *

AND WE asked him in.

* * *

AND SOLD him ten chips.

* * *

AND HE made a lot of noise.

* * *

AND LOST twenty cents.

* * *

AND PROMISED my wife.

* * *

A NEW kitchen sink.

* * *

AND I'M free to say.

* * *

IF YOU have children.

* * *

THAT "BRINGING up Father."

* * *

IS A mighty good game.

* * *

TO HAVE in the house.

* * *

IF YOU don't mind noise.

* * *

AND THE house superintendent.

* * *

LIKES TO gamble a little.

I THANK you.

Winthrop Murray Crane

There can be no question about the eminence of the citizen and statesman who died this morning at Dalton. As business man and politician Winthrop Murray Crane stood certainly among the first twenty men in the United States. He was one of the not more than five Republicans who for twenty years have controlled the management of the organization.

The paper industry of the Cranes at Dalton is a national institution. Mr. Crane successfully held aloft the high standards set there by his forebears. He served his State as Lieutenant-Governor, Governor and, succeeding the great George Frisbie Hoar, in the Senate at Washington. In public as in private life his record is without a stain.

Mr. Crane's function in politics was that of the connecting link—in his case a powerful one—between conservative business and conservative finance on the one hand and practical politics on the other. He was the Republican boss of Massachusetts, even if he was seldom called "Boss."

Apparently as shy as a mouse and as soft-spoken as a young girl, Mr. Crane was one of the powers behind the throne of Republican politics. His family life was edifying in the highest degree. He was a dependable friend. He was a stalwart in days of wiggle and wobble. At sixty-seven, he has been called away all too early, and Massachusetts and the Nation are the poorer for his passing.

Why the Huge Mammoth?

And Why the Huge Fortune?

Copyright, 1920, Star Company.

Why did Divine Wisdom create the gigantic mammoth of ancient times, with his spreading tusks, and his brother, the heavy elephant of today? We don't know WHY, but we know that mammoth and elephant were useful in many ways, especially making paths through thick jungles and swamps, paths that smaller animals traveled comfortably and safely.

Without big animals able to trample down young trees and thorns, the little animals would have traveled painfully.

So it is with human beings. The gigantic FORTUNES, of mammoth, elephantine size, are occasionally most useful in breaking the road, making paths for others to travel.

For instance, Mr. Harriman built up an enormous fortune, and did good work at the same time in railroad construction. His son, Averill, is using the power this created in developing American shipping lines, trying to make the American flag less of a curiosity on the ocean ordinarily devoted to British shipping.

John D. Rockefeller built up a gigantic fortune, and did useful work systematizing the oil business, building pipe lines. Now that fortune, directed by Mr. Rockefeller and by his son, John D., Jr., is plowing important paths of knowledge in different fields of science.

After fighting yellow fever, actually eliminating it in its most dangerous central habitat, the Rockefeller fortune invested in science is now fighting malaria and undertaking to drive it out of the United States and off the earth if possible.

In India malaria kills nearly a million and a half every year. In the United States it kills many, and it makes millions wish that they were dead, their lives being made useless by it.

No man can get malaria unless a certain mosquito bites him and plants in his blood the malaria germ, which, seen under the microscope, looks like a blue stone set in a red ring. The Rockefeller fortune is fighting the kind of mosquito that plants malaria in human beings.

It is said that Mr. Rockefeller is worth a thousand millions; he may be worth twice as much or half as much; he probably doesn't know. But if he could rid the United States of malaria he would add to the actual wealth of the United States, by increasing the productive power of labor, by a sum exceeding by far, EVERY YEAR, the largest estimate as to his private fortune.

It is a good idea to have a man make one or two billions, if by intelligently spending part of the money he can add that much to the country's wealth every year, and at the same time eliminate weakening disease and premature death.

The Little Girl Who Was Not Wanted

> "Dead, my lords and gentlemen. Dead, you Right Reverends of every order and you Wrong Reverends. Dead, you men and women born with heavenly compassion in your hearts. And dying thus around us every day."
> —From "Bleak House," by Charles Dickens.

DOROTHY RODGERS is dead. Tales of her brutal murder have stirred the hearts of all who love little golden-haired girls. "Right Reverends and Wrong Reverends" have awakened to a realization of horrible conditions surrounding the social stratum of the children whom nobody wants.

Something must be done to safeguard all the little Dorothys born out of wedlock. There are hundreds of children in Boston living in environments as sordid as those which surrounded Dorothy. There are scores subject to the dangers which menaced her, and exposed to the brutal forces which caused her death.

"Men and women with heavenly compassion in their hearts" will be stirred by the tragic story of Dorothy's life and antecedents in tomorrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser. Welfare workers and parents will be astounded at the alarming figures of Boston's illegitimacy records. All will be interested in the proposed partial solution of one of Boston's great problems.

Ex-service men of Boston and vicinity are to meet on Boston Common to demand justice for the heroes who fought in France. Veterans are allowed, as a result of government red tape, to suffer and die while their cases are being "investigated," they charge.

An important story on this startling condition of affairs will out on the streets to starve, and about 300 instances of alleged neglect that have been reported on to the Washington authorities.

Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge, long identified with appear in tomorrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser. It will tell of charges that sick men are turned the cause of Ireland, has written for tomorrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser a stirring article on the subject nearest his heart. He warns England her empire will crumble, as did Germany's, if the brutal conquest of Ireland continues.

Harvard students, members of the Engineering School, may be found all over New England working as laborers and mechanics in foundries, mills and factories.

Their apprenticeship to trade is a part of their training under the new Harvard course which combines the science of engineering with a training in business methods and actual mechanical work in the field.

Good news for New England consumers of butter and cheese. A decided drop in prices is to be expected right away. The how and why of this situation is fully explained in tomorrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

A particularly interesting story about Bill Carrigan, "the best manager the Red Sox ever had," will appear in the Sporting Section. Bill is the most popular man in Androscoggin and Kennebec counties in Maine. Every baseball fan and sportsman will want to read the story and enjoy the clever sketches by Staff Artist Moynahan.